Looking At Sweden Looking At Other Countries:

Looking at Violence in the Nordic Countries Jukka-Pekka Takala, Yaira Obstbaum, Nordic Council of Ministers, 2009
This report reviews and discusses violence statistics and their problems and possible improvements from various angles. The report is based on the work of the statistical subproject of the Nordic Project on Violence Violence and its reduction in the Nordic countries V ld och v ldsreducering i Norden financed by the Nordic Council of Ministers and carried out by the Nordic councils for crime prevention and the Scandinavian Research Council for Criminology. The Statistics Subproject was to look at three related but originally separate subprojects of the original overall plan: 1 To describe and compare violence with the help of extant statistics 2 To chart variations in violence in the Nordic countries 3 To develop instruments of measuring violence in intimate relations including violence in the family. With the resources available the subproject was unable to carry out any of these tasks in a truly systematic and comprehensive manner. However we hope that the variable material we were able to produce on all these themes can contribute to better accounting for violence and be of help when devising methods for preventing violence. The report describes levels and trends in violence. It touches on problems and solutions in their measurement. Some suggestions are tentative others are more firmly established and the reader can turn to the research and web pages that are referred to in the reports. Global Aging Crisis United States. Congress. House. Committee on Ways and Means. Subcommittee on Social Security, 2000 Sweden's Grand Strategy Douglas Brommesson, Ann-Marie Ekengren, Anna Michalski, 2025-05-22. This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence. It is free to read on the Oxford Academic platform and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations. Using the example of Sweden the authors reassess the grand strategies of small states in international politics from the end of World War II until its new membership in NATO in 2024. Utilizing role theory they identify a small state's grand strategy through specific national foreign policy roles which at certain times coalesce into master roles. Four foreign policy action strategies building on domestic agency and the influence of systemic structures depict this domestic process of role adaptation. Sweden's foreign policy roles were shaped according to the degree of autonomy and integration deemed necessary for security economic development and social cohesion as perceived by the domestic political elite. The ensuing empirical analysis identifies this set of evolving roles in an increasingly unstable international security environment. The authors thus explore how a small state can develop certain roles over time and how the dominant roles can coalesce into an overarching grand strategy. The Oxford Studies in Grand Strategy is a major new series of cutting edge monographs that examine the grand strategies of states and those intergovernmental organizations and nonstate actors who credibly aspire to sovereignty. Books concentrate on the contemporary aspects of grand strategy while paying due respect to the historical antecedents of a nation's grand strategy and their relevance for a leadership's current choices. The series is pluralistic in terms of theory and method and maintains a broad view of the ways means and ends that undergird a grand strategy Analytical and explanatory in contribution books in the series feature a rigorous analysis of the interaction between domestic factors and global forces and provide a clear understanding of how that interaction shapes a grand strategy s formulation codification and implementation Series Editors Thierry Balzacq Sciences Po Paris Peter Dombrowski US Naval War College and Simon Reich Rutgers University Newark

Gender Equality and Nation Branding in the Nordic Region Eirinn Larsen, Sigrun Marie Moss, Inger Skjelsbæk, 2021-05-25 This book explores how gender equality a central part of the Nordic imaginary is used in the political communication of Nordic states The analyses presented move beyond conventional images and discourses of Nordic gender and women friendliness by critically investigating how and to what extent gender equality serves nation branding in the Nordic region Nation branding is an unescapable part of globalisation which is a market oriented process dominated by the West and predicated on the creation of winners and losers Hence efforts to strengthen the national brand or reputation of specific Nordic countries with the aid of gender equality as a political and symbolic value inevitably help to reinforce already established global hierarchies where the Nordics play the role of moral superpower This book comprises scholars from various fields of specialisation and provides evidence and understanding for the growing interaction between gender equality policies and nation branding in all five Nordic countries It does so by exploring a variety of policy fields and issues including women s rights foreign policy rape and legislation female quotas and business policies in addition to the index industry The rise of the global indexes has reproduced forceful images of the Nordic countries as frontrunners of gender equality which indeed help the Nordic countries to further position themselves as best at being good This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Nordic gender equality in political science sociology law criminology political psychology and history as well as those interested in nation branding Nordic studies and exceptionalism The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9781003017134> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

A European Strategy for Jobs and Growth Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: European Union Committee, 2006-03-16 This report by the European Union Committee examines the progress of the European Union in initiating a strategy for jobs and growth across the Community as a whole The background to this report stems from the Spring European Council meeting in 2000 in Lisbon and the launch of an economic reform agenda The Committee observes that since the Lisbon Agenda little progress has been made and the performance of many of the larger European economies has been poor The Committee has noted that certain worrying signs of protectionist behaviour have developed especially regarding barriers of cross border mergers The EU has recognized this weak performance and the Agenda was relaunched in 2005 with a greater focus on the key economic priorities of more growth and jobs Also all Member States are now required to produce an annual National Action Plan highlighting the policies being pursued to improve economic growth and increase employment The Committee sets out a number of recommendations to further push forward the priorities of growth and jobs including that the Commission should seek to complete the progress towards an internal market that Member States should influence one another in the development of good practice through statistical comparison of their economic progress and agree on quantifiable targets that the format of the National Action Plans should include not only the successes but where countries are underperforming that the Agenda be given a higher public profile

Congressional Record United States. Congress,2009 Rape in the Nordic Countries Marie Bruvik Heinskou,May-Len Skilbrei,Kari Stefansen,2019-10-29 The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9780429467608> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution NonCommercial No Derivatives 4.0 license While the Nordic countries are listed at the top in most international rankings of gender equality and citizens feelings of security studies on the prevalence of sexual victimisation present a different picture suggesting that the very countries that have invested much in establishing gender equality actually see a high prevalence of sexual violence This book sheds light on the phenomenon and construction of rape and other forms of sexual violence within the Nordic region exploring the ways in which rape and sexual violence are dealt with through criminal law and considering governmental policies aimed at combatting it with a special focus on legal regulations and developments Thematically organised it offers new research on perpetrators victimhood criminal justice and prevention Multi disciplinary in approach it brings together the latest work from a range of scholars to offer insights into the situation in the five Nordic countries asking how and why rape and other forms of sexual violence occur whilst also addressing the timely issues of online sexual cultures BDSM and the grey areas of sexual offences As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology criminology and law with interests in gender and sexual violence

Economic and Medical Evaluation of Health Care Technologies A. J. Culyer,B. Horisberger,2012-12-06 All too frequently the largest effective barrier to interdisciplinary communication is jargon The symposium whose proceedings appear in the following pages sought of course to eliminate unnecessary and obscurantist jargon but it sought also to do something far more ambitious to confront the intellectual issues that are attached to the use of the word evaluation in medicine and health services To this end a carefully selected group of experts in medicine epidemiology and health economics was invited to present papers They were selected for their reputations either as conceptualizers or as empirical evaluators or the rarest breed of expert as both The context was to be empirical Three procedures were selected that had been subject to evaluation but that posed rather different types of problem The first was the treatment of renal failure by dialysis of various kinds This has a relatively long history of evaluation with a large literature and particularly raises broad policy issues within the health services of Western societies as to the size of programmes to be provided the type location and mix of treatments the selection of patients to receive treatment and the measurement of the success of various strategies The second was the treatment of duodenal ulcer by a new species of drug the histamine H<sub>2</sub> receptor antagonists specifically cimetidine DK Eyewitness Travel Guide Sweden DK Travel,2017-01-17 DK Eyewitness Travel Guide Sweden will lead you straight to the

Consumption-based emissions reporting

Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Energy and Climate Change Committee, 2012-04-18 The Department for Energy and Climate Change's DECC official CO<sub>2</sub> figures that count territorial emissions from power stations and transport etc within UK borders show nearly 20% reduction between 1990-2009 But research commissioned for the Department for the Environment Food and Rural Affairs reveals that CO<sub>2</sub> emissions were 20% higher in 2009 if consumption based emissions from imported goods are included The fall in territorial emissions was not mainly the consequence of the Government's climate policy Rather it was the result of the shift in manufacturing industries away from the UK and the switch from coal to gas fired electricity generation that began in the early 1990s Since 1990 carbon dioxide emissions from imports have almost doubled from 166 million tonnes Mt CO<sub>2</sub> to 331 Mt CO<sub>2</sub> in 2009 If the UK wishes to encourage emissions reductions in countries that manufacture and export goods to the UK the MPs say the Government should recognise the growth in the UK's consumption based emissions Acknowledging that UK consumption is driving up territorial emissions in other countries could increase the UK's leverage over those emissions and help to secure a binding global agreement on carbon cuts There is sufficiently robust data available to develop new policy options and identify carbon intensive behaviours that are overlooked by concentrating on territorial emissions alone Ministers should explore the options for incorporating consumption based emissions data in to the policy making process and setting emissions targets on a consumption basis at the national level
