Domesticating Drink Catherine Gilbert Murdock,2003-03-04 Selected by Choice Magazine as an Outstanding Academic Title The period of prohibition from 1919 to 1933 marks the fault line between the cultures of Victorian and modern America In Domesticating Drink Murdock argues that the debates surrounding alcohol also marked a divide along gender lines For much of early American history men generally did the drinking and women and children were frequently the victims of alcohol associated violence and abuse As a result women stood at the fore of the temperance and prohibition movements and as Murdock explains effectively used the fight against drunkenness as a route toward political empowerment and participation At the same time respectable women drank at home in a pattern of moderation at odds with contemporaneous male alcohol abuse During the 1920s with federal prohibition a reality many women began to assert their hard won sense of freedom by becoming social drinkers in places other than the home Murdock s study of how this development took place broadens our understanding of the social and cultural history of alcohol and the various issues that surround it As alcohol continues to spark debate about behaviors attitudes and gender roles Domesticating Drink provides valuable historical context and important lessons for understanding and responding to the evolving use and abuse of drink

Slipping Through the Cracks Mark

Sanders, 2011-12-01 Clients who have multiple addictions and disorders are more difficult to engage and treat than clients with a single disorder. Many of the current systems are ill equipped to address the myriad challenges of these clients; their relapse and recidivism rates are higher and many of these clients tend to slip through the cracks, often going back and forth among addictions treatment, psychiatric and medical hospitalizations and incarceration. Too many difficult to reach clients are at risk for relapse because their practitioners lack effective innovative strategies for this unique client base who remain part of a revolving door syndrome. Now Certified Alcohol and Drug Addictions Counselor Mark Sanders, LCSW, offers specific strategies to assist therapists and counselors who work with difficult and at risk populations including those with multiple addictions, co-occurring disorders, adolescents, rural methamphetamine users, antisocial personality disorder, criminality and addiction trauma or grief and chemical dependency, history of chronic relapse and recidivism. Slipping Through the Cracks is an encyclopedic handbook to specific traits of the difficult to reach client as well as a concise guidebook to effective strategies that will be useful to anyone working with clients in private practice or in treatment programs who have both mental health and substance abuse issues.
