Losing Our Language:

Losing Our Language Sandra Stotsky, 2002 This book argues that it is the incorporation of a multicultural agenda into basal readers the primary tool for teaching reading in elementary schools that has stunted American children's ability to read The book shows how basal readers have been systematically dumbed down in an effort to raise minority students' self-esteem It contends that while elementary readers of the past featured excerpts from classic stories such as Arabian Nights and Robinson Crusoe with a complex vocabulary and sentence structure able to challenge the imagination and build reading skills today's basal readers present students with politically and ethnically correct stories whose language is virtually foreign and unable to engage students According to the book drawing words from Swahili Spanglish and other trendy dialects to teach students with a shrinking English vocabulary is a symptom of this intellectual and cultural disorder The book showcases interviews with teachers gives an in-depth analysis of reading texts over the past 30 years and talks about how pressure groups have affected educational publishers It points out that literacy cultural and verbal gives all students but particularly those from poor or minority backgrounds personal independence and achievement and the ability to participate fully in civic life Each of the 11 chapters includes notes NKA Ojibwe Waasa Inaabidaa Thomas D. Peacock, Marlene Wisuri, 2002 A uniquely personal history of the Ojibwe culture Inuit Women Janet Mancini Billson, Kyra Mancini, 2007-04-09 Inuit Women is the definitive study of the Inuit during a time of rapid change Based on fourteen years of research and fieldwork this analysis focuses on the challenges facing Inuit women as they enter the twenty-first century Written shortly after the creation of Nunavut a new province carved out of traditional Inuit homelands in the Canadian North this compelling book combines conclusions drawn from the author's ethnographic research with the stories of Inuit women and men told in their own words In addition to their presentation of the personal portraits and voices of many Inuit respondents Janet Mancini Billson and Kyra Mancini explore global issues the impact of rapid social change and Canadian resettlement policy on Inuit culture women's roles in society and gender relations in Baffin Island in the Eastern Arctic They also include an extensive section on how the newly created territory of Nunavut is impacting the lives of Inuit women and their families Working from a research approach grounded in feminist theory the authors involve their Inuit interviewees as full participants in the process This book stands alone in its attention to Inuit women's issues and lives and should be read by everyone interested in gender relations development modernization globalization and Inuit culture Wales, 1913 Reading and Writing Bush Cree Connie Twin, Tanya Fontaine, 2025-10-20 A Vital Resource to Preserve Teach and Live the Bush Cree Language Reading and Writing Bush Cree is a heartfelt practical and approachable guide for fluent speakers and Cree language educators who want to learn to read and write sak w n hiyaw win Bush Cree or the Northern Y dialect Written by Connie Twin a first language speaker from Bigstone Cree Nation in northern Alberta and Tanya Fontaine a dedicated Cree language learner and educator this book bridges oral fluency with written literacy to support language preservation and revitalization Through personal stories and cultural insight the authors guide readers into the structure of Cree grammar and the use of Standard Roman Orthography SRO With clear examples of both fluent and full written forms this book also sheds light on how Cree sounds are represented in writing and highlights important differences between Northern and Southern Y dialects This is more than a how to book it s a call to keep sak w n hiyaw win alive for future generations Features A first language speaker s perspective on learning to read and write Cree Focus on sak w n hiyaw win Bush Cree Northern Y dialect A step by step introduction to Standard Roman Orthography SRO and syllabics Need to know basics of Cree reading writing grammar and Y dialect variation

Restructuring Relations Rauna Johanna Kuokkanen, 2019 Self determination foundational value Indigenous self government structures in Canada Greenland and S pmi Implementing indigenous self determination self administration rematriation or independence Gendering indigenous self government Self determination and violence against indigenous women Indigenous gender justice as restructuring relations

Restructuring Relations Rauna Kuokkanen, 2019-03-01 Adopted in 2007 the UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples establishes self determination including free prior and informed consent as a foundational right and principle Self determination both individual and collective is among the most important and pressing issues for Indigenous women worldwide Yet Indigenous women s interests have been overlooked in the formulation of Indigenous self government and existing studies of Indigenous self government largely ignore issues of gender As such the current literature on Indigenous governance conceals patriarchal structures and power that create barriers for women to resources and participation in Indigenous societies Drawing on Indigenous and feminist political and legal theory as well as extensive participant interviews in Canada Greenland and Scandinavia this book argues that the current rights discourse and focus on Indigenous state relations is too limited in scope to convey the full meaning of self determination for Indigenous peoples The book conceptualizes self determination as a foundational value informed by the norm of integrity and suggests that Indigenous self determination cannot be achieved without restructuring all relations of domination nor can it be secured in the absence of gender justice As a foundational value self determination seeks to restructure all relations of domination not only hegemonic relations with the state Importantly it challenges the opposition between self determination and gender created and maintained by international law Indigenous political discourse and Indigenous institutions Restructuring relations of domination further entails examining the gender regimes present in existing Indigenous self government institutions interrogating the relationship between Indigenous self determination and gender violence and considering future visions of Indigenous self determination such as rematriation of Indigenous governance and an independent statehood

Blood Politics Circe Dawn Sturm, 2002-03-20 Circe Sturm takes a bold and original approach to one of the most highly charged and important issues in the United States today race and national identity Focusing on the Oklahoma Cherokee she examines how Cherokee identity is socially and politically constructed and how that process is embedded in ideas of blood color and race Not quite a century ago blood degree varied among Cherokee citizens from full blood to 1/256 but today the range is far greater from full blood to 1/2048. This trend raises questions about the symbolic significance of blood and the degree to which blood connections can stretch and still carry a sense of legitimacy. It also raises questions about how much racial blending can occur before Cherokees cease to be identified as a distinct people and what danger is posed to Cherokee sovereignty if the federal government continues to identify Cherokees and other Native Americans on a racial basis. Combining contemporary ethnography and ethnohistory, Sturm's sophisticated and insightful analysis probes the intersection of race and national identity, the process of nation formation, and the dangers in linking racial and national identities.

Fiscal Year 1993 Historic Preservation Fund Grants to Indian Tribes and Alaska Natives, 1993 Unlocking Africa's Sustainable Development Patrick Ssempeera, 2022-01-14. With the world increasingly anxious about the sustainability of life as we know it on Earth, it's a great time to consider how to unlock sustainable development. Patrick Ssempeera shares a collection of ideas focused on Africa, which is less industrialized than much of the world but quickly catching up. He tackles a variety of topics in eight chapters that encompass attitude, spirituality, shaping people into nurturing adults, government policy, promoting renewability, and fostering healthy and intimate integrations. Get answers to questions such as: What can Africa learn from rampant levels of pollution in China and elsewhere? How is love of culture connected to sustainable development? What can Africans do to work toward a self-driven future? How can spiritual leaders promote a sustainable agenda? The author also explores how politics, education, optimism, industrialization, and globalization are connected to sustainable development. Steeped in history, filled with insights, and laced with diagrams, this book is an essential resource for anyone interested in sustainable development, particularly in Africa.
