Integrating Conventional and Chinese Medicine in Cancer Care Tai Lahans, 2007-06-05 This new clinical resource clearly explains how to approach integrated care in a way that combines Chinese herbal medicine with Western medicine to enhance and improve medical care for patients with cancer without undermining or negatively impacting patients medical treatment Each chapter covers a different type of cancer first introducing the conventional medical understanding of that cancer including its etiology diagnosis and treatment according to staging and type The chapter then covers that cancer from the perspective of Oriental medicine Case studies illustrate the integration of treatment for each cancer type raising important issues and considerations associated with specific cancers and treatments. Formulas are presented within the context of conventional treatment intended to enhance the effectiveness of treatment and or treat side effects without undermining the treatment's function. Each formula is followed by a discussion of how and why the herbs are used including classical Chinese theory and relevant pharmaceutical studies. Staging and the age and performance status of various patients is used as a means by which to explain how formulas are changed. Case studies explore issues related to the integration of treatment for each type of cancer. Proceedings of the Tenth Seminar of the IATS, 2003. Volume 4: Tibetan Buddhist Literature and Praxis, 2006-09-01. Collectively the papers of this volume reveal the cultural dynamism of Tibet in the period between 900 and 1400CE when the fundamental contours of Tibetan Buddhism were still fluid and highly contested. The papers address a spectrum of issues in Tibetan religion and literature ranging in time and space from the far eastern oasis of Dunhuang in the tenth century through high classical developments in Central Tibet in the early fifteenth century. It is divided into four parts addressing respectively literary and religious issues in tenth century Dunhuang, the textual history of the Old Tantric Canon Rnying ma i rgyud bum, the development of Tibetan religious literature in the new translation period and the history and transmission of several influential systems of esoteric Buddhism.
