Lyotard And The End Of Grand Narratives:

Lyotard and the End of Grand Narratives Gary K. Browning, 2000 Lyotard's work challenges the presumption and orientation of modern political philosophy. In particular, he repudiates attempts to justify knowledge and society in terms of grand narratives, for example, the liberation of mankind or the immanence of science. He argues that the totalising perspective of these meta-narratives is superseded by a post-modern acceptance of difference and variety and a scepticism towards unifying meta-theories.

The Predicament of Postmodern Theology Gavin Hyman, 2001-01-01 Gavin Hyman explores in depth two antithetical schools of postmodern theology: the radical orthodoxy of John Milbank and the nihilist textualism of Don Cupitt. Hyman critiques Milbank's influential project from a postmodern perspective and then points out the major difficulties with Cupitt's approach. Finally, he explores the work of Mark C. Taylor and Michael de Certeau to articulate a third way that leads beyond the responses of both Cupitt and Milbank.

Literary Theory and Criticism Patricia Waugh, 2006 This volume offers a comprehensive account of modern literary criticism, presenting the field as part of an ongoing historical and intellectual tradition. Featuring thirty-nine specially commissioned chapters from an international team of esteemed contributors, it fills a large gap in the market by combining the accessibility of single-authored selections with a wide range of critical perspectives. The volume is divided into four parts. Part One covers the key philosophical and aesthetic origins of literary theory, while Part Two discusses the foundational movements and thinkers in the first half of the twentieth century. Part Three offers introductory overviews of the most important movements and thinkers in modern literary theory, and Part Four looks at emergent trends and future directions.

The Art of Reading Scripture Ellen F. Davis, Richard B. Hays, 2003-10-02 The difficulty of interpreting the Bible is felt all over today. Is the Bible still authoritative for the faith and practice of the church? If so, in what way? What practices of reading offer the most appropriate approach to understanding Scripture? The church's lack of clarity about these issues has hindered its witness and mission, causing it to speak with an uncertain voice to the challenges of our time. This important book is for a twenty-first century church that seems to have lost the art of reading the Bible attentively and imaginatively. The Art of Reading Scripture is written by a group of eminent scholars and teachers seeking to recover the church's rich heritage of biblical interpretation in a dramatically changed cultural environment. Asking how best to read the Bible in a postmodern context, the contributors together affirm up front Nine Theses that provide substantial guidance for the church. The essays and sermons that follow both amplify and model the approach to Scripture outlined in the Nine Theses. Lucidly conceived, carefully written, and shimmering with fresh insights, The Art of Reading Scripture proposes a far-reaching revolution in how the Bible is taught in theological seminaries and calls pastors and teachers in the church to rethink their practices of using the Bible.

Hermeneutics, Citizenship, and the Public Sphere Roberto Alejandro, 1993-07-01 This book sheds new light on the question of democratic politics by proposing a hermeneutic conception of citizenship and the public sphere At the same time it presents a critique of the postmodern arguments advanced by Richard Rorty Jean Francois Lyotard and Jean Baudrillard Questioning a dominant interpretation that sees Gadamer s hermeneutics as the expression of a conservative project Alejandro argues that it includes an important element of critique that could challenge dominant structures and practices

The Mass and Modernity Jonathan Robinson, 2010-11-12 Many in the Church have accepted modernity in their effort to speak to the modern world and not nearly enough attention has been given to trying to disentangle the complex of ideas and half formulated convictions that constitute this mind set which is in fact contrary to Christianity The first aim of this book is to examine the origins and present day influence of modernity and then to argue that there is nothing in the Christian s concern for the modern world that requires accepting this damaging mind set in connection with the highest form of worship the Mass The second aim of the book is to show that that the sources of a genuine liturgical renewal are to be found in a heightened sense of the centrality of the Mass and a return to a theology compatible with the Catechism of the Catholic Church Fr Robinson's book is a philosopher's gift to the Catholic liturgy He provides a thoroughly lucid account of the climate of ideas which handicaps the celebration of Catholic worship in the modern world This is a diagnosis which shows just how far reaching must be the cure Fr Aidan Nichols Author Looking at the Liturgy Knowledge and Postmodernism in Historical Perspective Joyce Appleby, Elizabeth Covington, David Hoyt, Michael Latham, Allison Sneider, 2020-04-16 This comprehensive reader chronicles the western engagement with the nature of knowledge during the past four centuries while providing the historical context for the postmodernist thought of Jacques Derrida Michel Foucault Richard Rorty and Hayden White and the challenges their ideas have posed to our conventional ways of thinking writing and knowing Creative Arts Research Elizabeth Grierson, Laura Brearley, 2009-01-01 Creative Arts Research Narratives of Methodologies and Practices is an innovative set of essays that grows out of active engagement with arts practice pedagogy and research The collection presents a selection of arts based research projects their methodologies practices and guiding philosophies and throws new light on a range of issues that bring artists designers and performers into conversation with one another The collection weaves together theoretical and applied dimensions of creative arts research Following Martin Heidegger the lead authors Elizabeth Grierson and Laura Brearley situate the text through consideration of ways of framing knowing and being looking and listening analysing being with proposing acting and reflecting constructing performing deconstructing and learning Heidegger's notion of gathering and his proposition Questioning builds a way the way is one of thinking provides the means to link the different chapters This wide ranging metaphoric device allows the authors to emphasise a set of fundamental questions concerning epistemologies ways of knowing and ontologies ways of being and the relations between the two Their book opens a conceptual space to recognise the diversity of practices that count as creative arts research Western Historiography in Asia Q. Internationally acclaimed Israeli historian Shlomo Sand made his mark with books such as The Invention of the Jewish People and The Invention of the Land of Israel Returning here to an early fascination he turns his attention to the figure of the French intellectual From his student years in Paris Sand has repeatedly come up against the great French thinkers He has an intimate knowledge of the Parisian intellectual world and its little secrets on which he draws to overturn certain myths attaching to the figure of the intellectual that France prides itself on having invented Mixing reminiscence and analysis he revisits a history that from the Dreyfus Affair through to Charlie Hebdo seems to him that of a long decline As a long time admirer of Zola Sartre and Camus Sand is staggered to see what the French intellectual has become today in such characters as Michel Houellebecq Eric Zemmour and Alain Finkielkraut In a work that gives no quarter and focuses particularly on the Judeophobia and Islamophobia of the elites he casts on the French intellectual scene a gaze that is both disabused and mordant
