Ma Vie Serge Lifar, 1970      Story of My Life George Sand, 1991-01-01      Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction

Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time. General questions of the literary as e.g. the relation between literature and reality, truth and fiction, the dependency of author, narrator and figure, or issues of individual and cultural styles etc. can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre. Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms. Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles, autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance. By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs, diaries, self-portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre, this three-volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches, systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective. While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition, special emphasis is placed on the modes of self-representation in non-Western cultures and on inter- and transcultural perspectives of the genre. The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross-references. The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies, students as well as non-academic readers.

French Autobiographical Writing 1900-1950 Susan M. Dolamore, 1997      Thinking through the Mothers

Janet Beizer, 2011-03-15 If questions of subjectivity and identification are at stake in all biographical writing, they are particularly trenchant for contemporary women biographers of women. Often their efforts to exhume buried lives in hope of finding spiritual foremothers awaken maternal phantoms that must be embraced or confronted. Do women writing in fact have any greater access to their own mothers' lives than to the lives of other women whose stories have been swept away like dust in the debris of the past? In Thinking through the Mothers, Janet Beizer surveys modern women's biographies and contemplates alternatives to an approach based in lineage and the form of thought that emphasizes the line, the path, hierarchy, unity, resemblance, reflection, and the aesthetic mimesis that depends on these ideas. Through close readings of memoirs and fictions about mothers, Beizer explores how biographers of the women who came before rehearse and rewrite relationships to their own mothers biographically as they seek to appropriate the past in a hybrid genre she calls bioautography. Thinking through the Mothers features the work of George Sand and Colette and spans such varied figures as Gustave Flaubert, Julian Barnes, Louise Colet, Eunice Lipton, Vladimir Nabokov, Huguette Bouchardeau, and Christa Wolf. Beizer seeks an alternative to women's salvation biography or resurrection biography that might resist nostalgia, be attentive to silence, and reinvent the means to represent the lives of precursors without appropriating traditional models of genealogy.

Jack Johnson, Rebel Sojourner Theresa Runstedtler, 2013-09 Discusses the life and boxing career of Jack Johnson

to work in analyzing four of the most fascinating autobiographies written by Spanish exiles The Life of Joseph Blanco White who lived from 1775 to 1841 Memoria de la Melancolia by Maria Teresa Leon 1904 1988 Coto vedado and En los reinos de taifa by Juan Goytisolo born 1931 and Literature or Life by Jorge Semprun born 1923 The lives of these authors all of whom were exiled for political reasons were disrupted by some of the most crucial events in Spain's tortuous road to modernity and democracy The book closes with a discussion of why there have been so few critical examinations of autobiographies written in modern Spain Loureiro proposes that even in today's Spain stifling social and political forces smother ethical responsibility which is an essential ingredient in creating autobiographies that dare to be more than a humdrum inventory of personal recollections

Remember Me to Harlem Langston Hughes, Carl Van Vechten, 2007-12-18 Langston Hughes is widely remembered as a celebrated star of the Harlem Renaissance a writer whose bluesy lyrical poems and novels still have broad appeal What's less well known about Hughes is that for much of his life he maintained a friendship with Carl Van Vechten a flamboyant white critic writer and photographer whose ardent support of black artists was peerless Despite their differences Van Vechten was forty four to Hughes twenty two when they met Hughes and Van Vechten's shared interest in black culture led to a deeply felt if unconventional friendship that would span some forty years Between them they knew everyone from Zora Neale Hurston to Richard Wright and their letters lovingly and expertly collected here for the first time are filled with gossip about the antics of the great and the forgotten as well as with talk that ranged from race relations to blues lyrics to the nightspots of Harlem which they both loved to prowl It's a correspondence that as Emily Bernard notes in her introduction provides an unusual record of entertainment politics and culture as seen through the eyes of two fascinating and irreverent men The Apprenticeship of Beatrice Webb Deborah Epstein Nord, 1985-06-18 John Lewis Mallet, an

Autobiographical Narratives Kenneth Reeds, Anna Rocca, 2013-10-03 Women Taking Risks in Contemporary Autobiographical Narratives explores the nature and effects of risk in self narrative representations of life events and is an early step towards confronting the dearth of analysis on this subject The collection focuses on risk taking as one of women's articulations of authorial agency displayed in literary testimonial photographic travel and film documentary forms of autobiographical expression in French Among many themes the book fosters discussion on matters of courage strength resilience freedom self fulfillment political engagement compassion faith and the envisioning of unconventional alliances that follow a woman's stepping out of her comfort zone The fourteen essays included in this collection discuss works of women authors from North Africa Sub Saharan Africa France and the Caribbean They exemplify a variety of self narratives that blur unified conceptualizations of both identity and national belonging They address questions about women writers' attitudes towards risk and their willingness to change the status quo They also explore the many personal and public forms in which agency manifests through risk taking engagements the ways in which women challenge the conventional wisdom about feminine reserve and aversion to danger the multiplicity of seen and unforeseen consequences of risk taking the all too frequent lack of recognition of female courage the overcoming of obstacles by taking risks and frequently the amelioration of women's lives Addressing both the broader context of the study of risk and the more specific areas of female expression and autobiography in Francophone cultures this collection is attractive to a diverse audience with the potential to cross disciplines and inform a wide body of research A number of the essays deal with issues born in postcolonial circumstances This examination of the elucidation of marginalized voices should prove enlightening to an array of scholars researching specific ethnic sexual gender and general subjects related to identity In making inroads towards expanding the well developed area of risk studies into the humanities this collection makes an important contribution that has the potential to promote a variety of cross disciplinary research including examinations of the psychology and sociology behind chauvinism personal expression and formative experiences

Derrida and Autobiography Robert Smith, 1995-06 The work of Jacques Derrida can be seen to reinvent most theories In this book Robert Smith offers both a reading of the philosophy of Derrida and an investigation of current theories of autobiography Smith argues that for Derrida autobiography is not so much subjective self revelation as relation to the other not so much a general condition of thought as a general condition of writing what Derrida calls the autobiography of the writing which mocks any self centred finitude of living and dying In this context and using literary critical philosophical and psychoanalytical sources Smith thinks through Derrida's texts in a new but distinctly Derridean way and finds new perspectives to analyse the work of classical writers including Hegel Nietzsche Kierkegaard Freud and de Man
