The links between literacy and development have been the focus of research conducted by both economists and anthropologists Yet researchers from these different disciplines have tended to work in isolation from each other This book aims to create a space for new interdisciplinary debate in this area through bringing together contributions on literacy and development from the fields of education literacy studies anthropology and economics The book extends our theoretical understanding on the ways in which people s acquisition and uses of literacy influence changes in agency identity social practice and labour market and other outcomes The chapters discuss data from diverse cultural contexts South Africa Bangladesh India Nepal Peru and Mexico and from contrasting research paradigms The contributors examine the significance of culture and socio economic contexts in shaping such processes As such they contribute to our understanding of the role of literacy in processes of poverty reduction and its importance to people s capabilities and wellbeing The themes covered include the dynamics of literacy use in the production of agency the enactment negotiation and embodiment of new social identities including gendered and religious identities the impacts of literate identities and use on institutional relations and social participation the dynamics of literacy sharing and their externalities within and beyond households formal analysis of the impacts of proximate illiteracy on labour market and health outcomes across men and women and social contexts This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Development Studies Aspect in English K. Kabakciev,2013-03-09 Based on an earlier edition published in 1992 in Bulgarian this book offers a specific approach to one of the most controversial problems in linguistics According to it aspect is the result of a subtle and complex interplay between the referents of verbs and nouns in the sentence Special attention is paid to the role nouns and noun phrases play in the explication of aspect in English and similar languages The grammatical marking of aspect is shown to be a compensatory phenomenon imposed by language structure Comparisons made using Slavic mainly Bulgarian data reveal that compositional aspect is a mirror image of verbal aspect When explicated compositionally aspect is also determined by pragmatic factors Ultimately it is part of man s cognitive potential
