Race-Ethnicity and Society Benjamin B Ringer,Elinor R. Lawless,2025-06-30 First published in 1989 Race Ethnicity and Society comes as a usable and comprehensive text on race and ethnicity in the United States Ringer and Lawless set out to fill the gap in the literature by incorporating the positive lessons of the racially turbulent 1960 s and 70s Proposing a challenge to three conventional premises of many texts they argue that the treatment of racial minorities in America was qualitatively different from that experienced by the white immigrants that racism was not a mere aberration in American Society but was built into the very foundations of the society and that America s experience with minorities was not unique but can instead be located within the mainstream of European expansion and conquest Race Ethnicity and Society will be a standard source for students in the fields of sociology history and political science Ethnic Minorities, Political Competition, and Democracy Jan Rovny,2024-09-24 Ethnic minorities make contemporary Europe increasingly diverse The wisdom in research on ethnicity is that it is a trouble maker disrupting programmatic politics prioritizing group identity over ideology polity over policy principle over compromise In this book Jan Rovny approaches ethnic politics as normal politics and investigates the ideological potential of ethnicity He shows that ethnic minorities often search for group preservation by championing liberal rights that would protect them from the tyranny of the majority This translates into broader ideological preferences and political behavior including the formation of liberal political poles which in turn configures political cleavages shapes party systems and informs the absorption of new political issues Ultimately the presence of ethnic minorities can be a force for liberal democracy Simultaneously ethnic liberalism is circumstantial as conditional factors cross pressure ethnic minority search for rights and liberties potentially attenuating ethnic liberalism and inducing exclusionary particularism This book combines the study of ethnic politics with research on electoral behavior and party competition while comparing minorities and majorities in eastern Europe The book analyzes existing and new data using mixed experimental quantitative and qualitative methods The empirical chapters in the book are organized into two parts one focusing on large N comparative analyses while the other presents three in depth case studies on interwar Czechoslovakia contemporary Slovakia and contemporary Estonia Transformations in Governance is a major academic book series from Oxford University Press It is designed to accommodate the impressive growth of research in comparative politics international relations public policy federalism and environmental and urban studies concerned with the dispersion of authority from central states to supranational institutions subnational governments and public private networks It brings together work that advances our understanding of the organization causes and consequences of multilevel and complex governance The series is selective containing annually a small number of books of exceptionally high quality by leading and emerging scholars The series is edited by Liesbet Hooghe and Gary Marks of the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill and Walter Mattli of the University of Oxford

Lawmaking under Pressure Giovanni Mantilla, 2020-12-15

In Lawmaking under Pressure Giovanni Mantilla analyzes the origins and development of the international humanitarian treaty rules that now exist to regulate internal armed conflict Until well into the twentieth century states allowed atrocious violence as an acceptable product of internal conflict Why have states created international laws to control internal armed conflict Why did states compromise their national security by accepting these international humanitarian constraints Why did they create these rules at improbable moments as European empires cracked freedom fighters emerged and fears of communist rebellion spread Mantilla explores the global politics and diplomatic dynamics that led to the creation of such laws in 1949 and in the 1970s By the 1949 Diplomatic Conference that revised the Geneva Conventions most countries supported legislation committing states and rebels to humane principles of wartime behavior and to the avoidance of abhorrent atrocities including torture and the murder of non combatants However for decades states had long refused to codify similar regulations concerning violence within their own borders Diplomatic conferences in Geneva twice channeled humanitarian attitudes alongside Cold War and decolonization politics even compelling reluctant European empires Britain and France to accept them Lawmaking under Pressure documents the tense politics behind the making of humanitarian laws that have become touchstones of the contemporary international normative order Mantilla not only explains the pressures that resulted in constraints on national sovereignty but also uncovers the fascinating international politics of shame status and hypocrisy that helped to produce the humanitarian rules now governing internal conflict
