Europe became a land of cities during the last millennium The story told in this book begins with North Sea and Mediterranean traders sailing away from Dorestad and Amalfi and with warrior kings building castles to fortify their conquests It tells of the dynamism of textile towns in Flanders and Ireland While London and Hamburg flourished by reaching out to the world and once vibrant Spanish cities slid into somnolence a Russian urban network slowly grew to rival that of the West Later as the tide of industrialization swept over Europe the most intense urban striving and then settled back into the merchant cities and baroque capitals of an earlier era By tracing the large scale processes of social economic and political change within cities as well as the evolving relationships between town and country and between city and city the authors present an original synthesis of European urbanization within a global context They divide their study into three time periods making the early modern era much more than a mere transition from preindustrial to industrial economies Through both general analyses and incisive case studies Hohenberg and Lees show how cities originated and what conditioned their early development and later growth How did urban activity respond to demographic and technological changes Did the social consequences of urban life begin degradation or inspire integration and cultural renewal New analytical tools suggested by a systems view of urban relations yield a vivid dual picture of cities both as elements in a regional and national hierarchy of central places and also as junctions in a transnational network for the exchange of goods information and influence A lucid text is supplemented by numerous maps illustrations figures and tables and by substantial bibliography Both a general and a scholarly audience will find this book engrossing reading Table of Contents Introduction Urbanization in Perspective PART I The Preindustrial Age eleventh to Fourteenth Centuries 1 Structure and Functions of Medieval Towns 2 Systems of Early Cities 3 The Demography of Preindustrial Cities PART II The Industrial Age Fourteenth to Eighteenth Centuries 4 Cities in the Early Modern European Economy 5 Beyond Baroque Urbanism PART III The Industrial Age Eighteenth to Twentieth Centuries 6 Industrial and the Cities 7 Urban Growth and Urban Systems 8 The Human Consequences of Industrial Urbanization 9 The Evolution and Control of Urban Space 10 Europe's Cities in the Twentieth Century Appendix A A Cyclical Model of an Economy Appendix B Size Distributions and the Ranks Size Rule Notes Bibliography Index

High Germans In The Low Countries Donald J. Harreld, 2004-01-01 This volume looks at the South German merchant community during Antwerp's Golden Age by examining German involvement in the social life of the city as well as by tracing merchants commercial activities The first section of the book considers the institutions of trade and the role Germans played in their development and how Germans interacted with other foreign merchant communities The second section takes a wider view by tracing the commercial networks that South German merchants operated in and by quantifying South German participation in Antwerp's foreign trade      Migrants and Urban Change Anne Winter, 2015-09-30 Taking the Belgian city of Antwerp as a case study this book argues that the direction of nineteenth century societal change was such as to make some groups of people better suited to reap the benefits of new opportunities      The Cambridge World History: Volume 7, Production, Destruction and Connection, 1750-Present, Part 2, Shared Transformations? J. R. McNeill, Kenneth Pomeranz, 2015-04-16 Since 1750 the world has become ever more connected with processes of production and destruction no longer limited by land or water based modes of transport and communication Volume 7 of the Cambridge World History series divided into two books offers a variety of angles of vision on the increasingly interconnected history of humankind The second book questions the extent to which the transformations of the modern world have been shared focusing on social developments such as urbanization migration and changes in family and sexuality cultural connections through religion science music and sport ligaments of globalization including rubber drugs and the automobile and moments of particular importance from the Atlantic Revolutions to 1989      Cities And The Rise Of States In Europe, A.d. 1000 To 1800 Charles Tilly, Willem Pieter Blockmans, Wim P Blockmans, 1994-10-20 The rise of large powerful states in Europe after 1000 a d transformed life across the Continent and eventually through the whole world The new European states disposed of unprecedented stores of capital and vast military capacities In recent decades scholars have often drawn general models of state formation from the European experience after 1700 then applied them with only partial success to other parts of the world Although such studies of modern Europe improved on early theories of modernization and development they failed to accommodate the varied ways in which city states empires federations centralized states and other forms of government evolved and the pivotal role that cities played in the multiple paths to state formation In a sweeping original work detailing eight centuries of city state relations Charles Tilly Wim P Blockmans and their contributors document differences in political trajectories from one part of Europe to another and provide authoritative surveys of urbanization in nine major regions they also suggest many correctives to previous analyses of state formation They show that the variable distribution of cities significantly and independently constrained state formation and that states grew differently according to the character of urban networks in a given region Their systematic study shows that unilinear models of state transformation underestimate the contingency and variability of popular and elite compliance with state building activities The book s findings offer important implications for the nature of economy sovereignty warfare state power and social change throughout the world      Demographic Dynamics and Development Yves Charbit, 2022-03-15 One of the major challenges facing the world today is the interaction between demographic change and development Demographic Dynamics and Development reviews the dominant demographic theory demographic transition and then presents a thorough investigation covering aging fertility contraception nuptiality mortality and migration which are all aspects that drive these changes Each chapter combines the latest empirical data with theoretical reflections on the implications for development This book thus offers an overview of worldwide demographic data studied with a view towards development In doing so it provides researchers and specialists with clear information through in depth case studies focusing on a country a region or a particularly important scientific sub theme

Travelling Notions of Culture in Early Nineteenth-Century Europe Hannu Salmi,Asko Nivala,Jukka Sarjala,2015-10-23 The notions of culture and civilization are at the heart of European self image This book focuses on how space and spatiality contributed to defining the concepts of culture and civilization and conversely what kind of spatial ramifications culture and civilization entailed These questions have vital importance to the understanding of this formative period of modern Europe The chapters of this volume concentrate on the following themes What were the sites of culture civilization and Bildung and how were these sites employed in defining these concepts What kind of borders did this process of definition and its inherent spatial imagination produce What were the connecting routes between the supposed centers and peripheries What were the strategies of envisioning negotiating and transforming cultural territories in early nineteenth century Europe This book adds new perspectives on ways of approaching spatiality in history by investigating for example the decisive role of the French revolution the persistent interest in classical civilization and its sites emerging urbanism and the culture of the cities the changing constellations between centers and peripheries and the colonial extensions or transfigurations of culture It also pays attention to the spatiality of culture as a metaphor but simultaneously emphasizes the production of space in an era of technological innovation and change

Small Towns in Early Modern Europe Peter Clark,2002-05-09 Despite the great wave of publications on European cities and towns in the pre industrial period little has been written about the thousands of small towns which played a key role in the economic social and cultural life of early modern Europe This collection written by leading experts redresses that imbalance It provides the first comparative overview of European small towns from the fifteenth to the early nineteenth century examining their position in the urban hierarchy demographic structures economic trends relations with the countryside and political and cultural developments Case studies discuss networks in all the major European countries as well as looking at the distinctive world of small towns in the more peripheral countries of Scandinavia and central Europe A wide ranging editorial introduction puts individual chapters in historical perspective
