Making Equity Planning Work Norman Krumholz, 2011-02-07 Lessons from an experiment in equity planning

Making Equity Planning Work Norman Krumholz, John Forester, 1990 The Argumentative Turn in Policy

Analysis and Planning Frank Fischer, John Forester, 2013-07-12 Public policy is made of language Whether in written or oral form argument is central to all parts of the policy process As simple as this insight appears its implications for policy analysis and planning are profound Drawing from recent work on language and argumentation and referring to such theorists as Wittgenstein Habermas Toulmin and Foucault these essays explore the interplay of language action and power in both the practice and the theory of policy making The contributors scholars of international renown who range across the theoretical spectrum emphasize the political nature of the policy planner's work and stress the role of persuasive arguments in practical decision making Recognizing the rhetorical communicative character of policy and planning deliberations they show that policy arguments are necessarily selective both shaping and being shaped by relations of power These essays reveal the practices of policy analysts and planners in powerful new ways as matters of practical argumentation in complex highly political environments They also make an important contribution to contemporary debates over postempiricism in the social and policy sciences Contributors John S Dryzek William N Dunn Frank Fischer John Forester Maarten Hajer Patsy Healey Robert Hoppe Bruce Jennings Thomas J Kaplan Duncan MacRae Jr Martin Rein Donald Schon J A Throgmorton

Planning in a Fragmented Society Thomas L. Harper, Stanley Stein, 2018-02-06 The culmination of a critical study of neo pragmatism philosophy and its application to planning Dialogical Planning in a Fragmented Society begins with philosopher Stanley M Stein's examination of neo pragmatism and his thoughts on how it can be useful in the field of environmental design specifically how it can be applied to planning procedures and problems Neo pragmatism is an approach that has been in the past best expressed or implied in the writing of Hilary Putnam Richard Rorty and in particular Donald Davidson John Rawls and Ludwig Wittgenstein Thomas L Harper furthers this tradition by providing the context for this theoretical application from his academic background in economics and management as well as his practical experience with political decision making processes community planning and economic development The result is a fresh synthesis of ideas a new approach to thinking about planning theory and its implications for and relationship with practice Philosopher Michael Walzer has asserted that philosophy reflects and articulates the political culture of its time and politics presents and enacts the arguments of philosophy Similarly the authors view planning theory as planning reflected upon in tranquility away from the tumult of battle and planning practice as planning theory acted out in the confusion of the trenches Each changes the other in a dynamic way and the authors demonstrate the intimate and inextricable link between them

Encyclopedia of Urban Studies Ray Hutchison, 2009-09-15 The United Nations estimates that by 2030 more than two thirds of the total world population will live in urban areas Most of this increase will take place not in Europe or in the United States but in the megacities and newly emerging urban regions of what used to be called the developing world Urban studies is an expansive and growing field covering many disciplines and professional fields each with its own schedule of conferences journals and publication series These two volumes address the specific theories key studies and important figures that have influenced not just the individual discipline but also the field of urban studies more generally The Encyclopedia of Urban Studies is intended to present an overview of current work in the field and to serve as a guide for further reading in the field Key Features Includes important work and traditions from each of the urban disciplines including urban anthropology urban economics urban geography urban history urban politics urban psychology and urban sociology Addresses both the growth and expansion of urban areas urbanization and the nature and quality of urban life urbanism Demonstrates the international and interdisciplinary nature of the field with contributions from scholars in many different countries Confronts a number of important issues ranging from individual problems of poverty to societal problems of provision of adequate housing and social exclusion Provides entries on a number of cities including those in different historical periods and regions of the world and those that have been important in the development of urban studies Key Themes Disciplinary Approaches in Urban Studies Urban Studies Topical Areas Urban Issues Urban Planning Urban Theory Urban Transportation Urban Culture Places Cities Persons The Encyclopedia of Urban Studies serves as an introduction to topics of significance in urban studies for an audience that includes undergraduate students beginning graduate students of urban studies and the related urban disciplines a broader public that has an interest in the new urban world and even established teachers and scholars who are exploring new areas of study

The Metropolis in Black and White George C. Galster, 2017-07-12 The Metropolis in Black and White highlights a stark fact America's metropolitan areas are more polarized along racial lines than at any time since the mid 1960s Though urban areas have become multicultural the editors argue that black white racial differences will outlast ethnic differences in metropolitan America and that the race issue in most urban areas is perceived as a black white one Galster and Hill perceive that the theme of place power and polarization is most powerful when blacks and whites are contrasted African Americans on average are the poorest most segregated most disadvantaged urban racial or ethnic group because they are deeply entangled in the web of interrelationships connecting place power and polarization Since these interrelationships form a comprehensive set of social structures that oppress African Americans they can be judged to be racist at their core Race not merely class continues to play a pivotal role in shaping urban African Americans In clear analyses the contributors examine employment income the underclass education housing health and mortality political participation and racial politics Intertwined themes of spatial isolation political empowerment and racial disparities place power and polarization guide the analyses This is a vital text for courses in urban affairs American studies economics geography sociology political science urban planning and racial and ethnic studies In clear analyses the contributors examine employment income the underclass education housing health and mortality political participation and racial politics Intertwined themes of spatial isolation political empowerment and racial disparities place power and polarization guide the analyses This is a vital text for courses in urban affairs American studies economics geography sociology political science urban planning and racial and ethnic studies

Selling Cities David P. Varady, Jeffrey A. Raffel, 1995-01-01 Shows that cities can be revitalized by attracting and retaining the middle class through schools and housing programs

Big Plans Kenneth L. Kolson, 2003-11-03 This work springs from the idea that human aspirations for the city tend to overstate the role of rationality in public life The author explores the part serendipity plays in urban experience

The Cambridge Handbook of Community Empowerment Brian D. Christens, 2024-04-25 Power and empowerment are critical topics for social change This handbook maps out ways that people can collectively engage with influence and change systems that affect their lives particularly the systems that maintain inequality and oppression It includes in depth examinations of a variety of approaches to building and exercising community power in local organizations institutions and settings Each chapter examines a particular approach critically engaging with contemporary research on how and when collective action can be most effective at producing change within communities and societal systems By examining a range of approaches in diverse contexts this book provides new insights for scholars practitioners and engaged resident leaders aiming to be more precise strategic and innovative in their efforts to build and sustain community power It is the ideal resource for those working with community groups to build more just and equitable systems Reclaiming Capital Christopher Gunn,Hazel Gunn,2018-08-06 Towns without nationally advertised fast food restaurants often eagerly await the day when the golden arches sprout next door to the local car dealership But what really happens to a community with the arrival of the uni burger Christopher Gunn and Hazel Dayton Gunn demonstrate that perhaps three quarters of the money a community spends at its burger emporium will leave the area Poor communities remain poor they assert because local capital tends to be drained off to financial centers corporate accounts and stockholders portfolios In keeping with ecologists injunction to think globally and act locally this imaginative book documents ways in which communities have counteracted constraints of the capitalist economic system and succeeded in promoting democratic control of their resources Taking as one example the local impact of a new McDonald s restaurant Gunn and Gunn first illustrate how capital potentially available for community development may be identified They then explore a variety of alternative institutions credit unions nonprofit corporations and consumers and workers cooperatives among others that serve to attract and retain resources foster growth and extend public control over the development process The authors also consider how grassroots activism for social change may be integrated with more conventional political practice Reclaiming Capital will be a vital resource for activists elected officials and others concerned with urban and regional planning
