Claude Evans,2012-02-01 We eat inevitably at the expense of other living creatures How can we take the lives of plants and animals while maintaining a proper respect for both ecosystems and the individuals who live in them including ourselves In this book philosopher J Claude Evans challenges much of the accepted wisdom in environmental ethics and argues that human participation in the natural cycles of life and death can have positive moral value With a guide for the nonphilosophical reader and set against the background of careful and penetrating critiques of Albert Schweitzer s principle of reverence for life and Paul Taylor s philosophy of respect for nature Evans uses hunting and
