Making Muslim Space:

Making Muslim Space in North America and Europe Barbara Daly Metcalf, 2023-04-28 Focusing on the private and public use of space this volume explores the religious life of the new Muslim communities in North America and Europe Unlike most studies of immigrant groups these essays concentrate on cultural practices and expressions of everyday life rather than on the political issues that dominate today's headlines The authors emphasize the cultural strength and creativity of communities that draw upon Islamic symbols and practices to define Muslim space against the background of a non-Muslim environment The range of perspectives is broad encompassing middle class professionals mosque congregations factory workers in France and the north of England itinerant African traders and prison inmates in New York The truism that Islam is a religion of the word takes on concrete meaning as these disparate communities find ways to elaborate word centered ritual and to have the visual and aural presence of sacred words in the spaces they inhabit The volume includes 46 black and white photographs that illustrate Muslim populations in Edmonton Philadelphia the Green Haven Correction Facility Manhattan Marseilles Berlin and London among other places The focus on space directs attention to the new kinds of boundaries and consciousness that exist not only for these Muslim populations but for people from all backgrounds in today's ever more integrated world This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1997 Focusing on the private and public use of space this volume explores the religious life of the new Muslim communities in North America and Europe Unlike most studies of immigrant groups these essays concentrate on cultural practices and expressions of

Rethinking Islam and Space in Europe C.J.J. Moses, Tobias Müller, Adela Taleb, 2022-09-05 The role of Islam in public spaces is one of the most prevalent political questions in Europe Contestations around the construction of mosques the ban of Islamic veils and populist rhetoric about problematic neighbourhoods indicate Europe's struggles with the place of its second largest religion This book advocates for an analytical turn in the study of Islam in Europe using space as a central conceptual lens While spatial approaches are gaining traction in the study of religion migration ethnicity race and politics the chapters in this book argue that the critical potential of a spatialised analysis in the field of Islam in Europe remains largely unexplored This volume presents a collection of nine empirical studies that offer insights into how scholars might exploit the category of space when analysing both current political issues and broader conceptual questions in the social sciences And more specifically how does a spatial perspective on Islam contribute to a deeper understanding of the formations of the state ethnicity race secularism gender and colonial structures Rethinking Islam and Space in Europe is a significant new contribution to racial and ethnic studies in Europe and will be a great resource for academics researchers and advanced students of Politics Sociology Social and Political Geography Anthropology and Religious Studies The chapters in this book were originally published as a 2021 special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies

Muslim Spaces of Hope Richard Phillips, 2013-07-04 Debates about contemporary Islam and Muslims in the West have taken some negative turns in the depressing atmosphere of the war on terror and its aftermath This book argues that we have been too preoccupied with problems not enough with solutions The increased mobilisation and scrutiny of Muslim identities has taken place in the context of a more general recasting of racial ideas and racism a shift from overtly racial to ostensibly ethnic and cultural including religious categories within discourses of social difference The targeting of Muslims has been associated with new forms of an older phenomenon imperialism New divisions between Muslims and others echo colonial binaries of black and white colonised and coloniser within practices of divide and rule This book speaks to others who have been marginalised and colonised and to wider debates about social difference oppression and liberation

Making Place for Muslims in Contemporary India Kalyani Devaki Menon, 2022-05-15 Making Place for Muslims in Contemporary India looks at how religion provides an arena to make place and challenge the majoritarian exclusionary and introverted tendencies of contemporary India Places do not simply exist They are made and remade by the acts of individuals and communities at particular historical moments In India today the place for Muslims is shrinking as the revanchist Hindu Right increasingly realizes its vision of a Hindu nation Religion enables Muslims to re envision India as a different kind of place one to which they unquestionably belong Analyzing the religious narratives practices and constructions of religious subjectivity of diverse groups of Muslims in Old Delhi Kalyani Devaki Menon reveals the ways in which Muslims variously contest the insular and singular understandings of nation that dominate the sociopolitical landscape of the country and make place for themselves Menon shows how religion is concerned not just with the divine and transcendental but also with the anxieties and aspirations of people living amid violence exclusion and differential citizenship Ultimately Making Place for Muslims in Contemporary India allows us to understand religious acts narratives and constructions of self and belonging as material forces as forms of the political that can make room for individuals communities and alternative imaginings in a world besieged by increasingly xenophobic understandings of nation and place

Suburban Islam Justine Howe,2018-01-02 For many American Muslims the 9 11 attacks and subsequent War on Terror marked a rise in intense scrutiny of their religious lives and political loyalties In Suburban Islam Justine Howe explores the rise of third spaces social surroundings that are neither home nor work created by educated middle class American Muslims in the wake of increased marginalization Third spaces provide them the context to challenge their exclusion from the American mainstream and to enact visions for American Islam different from those they encounter in their local mosques One such third space is the Mohammed Alexander Russell Webb Foundation a family oriented Muslim institution in Chicago s suburbs Howe uses Webb as a window into how Muslim American identity is formed through the interplay of communal interpretive practices institutional rituals and everyday life The diverse Muslim families of the Webb Foundation have transformed hallmark secular suburbanite activities like football games apple picking and camping trips into acts of piety rituals they describe as the enactment of proper American Muslim identity Howe analyzes the relationship between these consumerist practices and the Webb Foundation s adult educational programs through which participants critique what they call cultural Islam They envision creating an indigenous American Islam characterized by gender equality reason and pluralism Through changing configurations of ethnicity gender and socioeconomic class Webb participants imagine a seamless identity that marries their Muslim faith to an idealized vision of suburban middle class America Suburban Islam captures the fragile optimism of educated cosmopolitan American Muslims during the Obama presidency as they imagined a post racial pluralistic and culturally resonant American Islam Even as this vision aims to be more inclusive it also reflects enduring inequalities of race class and gender

Britain's rural Muslims Sarah Hackett,2020-06-06 Immigration has long been associated with the urban landscape from accounts of inner city racial tension and discrimination during the 1960s and 1970s and studies of minority communities of the 1980s and 1990s to the increased focus on cities amongst contemporary scholars of migration and diaspora Though cities have long provided the geographical frameworks within which a significant share of post war migration has taken place Sarah Hackett argues that that there has long existed a rural dimension to Muslim integration in Britain This book offers the first comprehensive study of Muslim migrant integration in rural Britain across the post 1960s period examining the previously unexplored relationship between Muslim integration and rurality by using the county of Wiltshire in the South West of England as a case study Drawing upon a range of archival material and oral histories it challenges the long held assumption that local authorities in more rural areas have been inactive and even disinterested in devising and implementing migration integration and diversity policies and sheds light on smaller and more dispersed Muslim communities that have traditionally been written out of Britain s immigration history
