Making Of Pakistan The Military Perspective:

Making of Pakistan Noor ul Haq, 1997 Making of Pakistan Noor ul Haq, 2009 Asian Strategic and Military Perspective Ravi Shekhar Narain Singh, 2005

Nation states are compelled to function within the parameters of their respective geo political and geo strategic environment. The behavior of nations and the interplay of their strengths and vulnerabilities particularly their foreign and military posturing is predicated on geographic political and economic factors. Besides historical imperatives also coalesce in determining the way States shape their policies. Many Asian countries today are threatened by a war that is of a subtle and imperceptible nature. There is also a paradigm shift in the perception of national security especially with the blurring of the notion of internal and external security. This is reflected in the growing military expenditures of several Asian countries. This volume attempts to examine the critical factors that influence the foreign and defense policies of Asian countries. It provides comprehensive information and analyses of the strengths, needs, aspirations and compulsions that shape their strategic and military outlook.

The Dynamics of States Klaus Schlichte, 2016-12-05

State domination in the non Western world is hallmarked by its constantly shifting character. This stimulating book develops a new approach to the study of state formation and state erosion to explain dynamics that neither follow the pathways of development nor the rule of stagnation that dependency theory once suggested. Carefully edited by Klaus Schlichte, this book provides a fresh angle to the study of states with an attempt to overcome Weber with Weber. The approach focuses on the historical authenticity of states and their institutional frameworks describing the trajectories taken as they react to the effects of changes in their international and local social environments. The emphasis laid on the specific characteristics of individual states does not however lead to the theoretical difficulty of a new contextual relativism. The conceptual design employs sociological categories developed by Max Weber, Norbert Elias, Michel Foucault, Pierre Bourdieu and others.

Pakistan's Arms Procurement and Military Buildup, 1979-99 A. Siddiqi-Agha, 2001-03-20

The strategic imperative is held as the primary explanation for Pakistan's military buildup. This book presents a fundamental departure in presenting an analysis of the internal dynamics of defence management and decisionmaking in Pakistan, a new nuclear weapon state. This is an in depth study of Pakistan's security link with its arms suppliers and defence industrial capacity and the influence of Pakistan's Army on conventional and non conventional defence decisions. The analysis is backed with numerous case studies of defence decisions carried out from 1979-99.

Military Inc. Ayesha Siddiqi, 2016-11-20

Pakistan is a strategic ally of the US in the war on terror. It is the third largest recipient of US aid in the world. Yet Pakistan is a state run by its army and intelligence service. Operating in the shadows, Pakistan's military industrial complex owns and controls swathes of the economic and political landscape of the country. Military Inc dares to illuminate the military as an oppressive holding company possessing not just security related businesses but also hotels, shopping malls, insurance companies, banks, farms and even an airline. The result is a deeply undemocratic society where money is funnelled towards the military's economic enterprises leaving those in need of it impoverished and effectively disenfranchised With an empirical richness and a view to Pakistan's recent history Ayesha Siddiqi offers a detailed and powerful case study of a global phenomenon corruption hollow economic growth and elitism This new edition includes a chapter on the recent developments of the military's foray into the media and a new preface

The Changing Dynamics of Civil Military Relations in Pakistan Rabia

Chaudhry,2023-09-04 The Changing Dynamics of Civil Military Relations in Pakistan offers a unique insiders perspective on the political climate in the country presenting the challenges established in boundaries of interaction between the state and its military This book argues that the prospects of another military coup in Pakistan are minimal because of the military extending its presence in the civil arenas and thus discovering new avenues of concretising its hegemony Based on primary data sources in the form of interviews with senior military personnel civil bureaucrats and other relevant technocrats and using military and government publications to verify their claims the author discusses the military's previous takeovers and future plans from a defense point of view The book uncovers how the military has created a space and rationale for itself in non defense sectors Providing a first hand account of why and how the military extends itself beyond proscribed fields of responsibility and their expected outcomes the book also provides a theoretical context to the military's hegemonic status using literature on civil military relations in general and Pakistan in particular The book uses Pakistan as a case study to show how civil military imbalances in the world over can be re evaluated It will be of interest to researchers studying political science public policy peace and security studies governance and institutions law and South Asian Studies

Southeast Asian Perspectives on Security Derek Da Cunha,2000 The conventional understanding of strategic issues in the modern world has been very much a Western driven phenomenon That is to say Western strategists thinkers and writers have tended to establish the principles of strategic concepts and to develop theories around them While there is utility in much Western strategic thought it is also apt to note that some of it does not have full relevance or validity when applied to a regional setting that is far removed from the geographical boundaries of the Western world In that connection this volume is partly intended to serve as an antidote to much of the Western commentary on Asia Pacific security issues by providing a range of perspectives on those issues from the Southeast Asian point of view It offers a range of Southeast Asian perspectives on the multifaceted security issues that confront the Asia Pacific region in the post Cold War era That there is no unitary perspective emanating from the region is symptomatic of the very fluid geopolitical situation that characterizes Asia Pacific security and of equal import the different schools of thought that analysts in the region have chosen to subscribe to
