Arms Race Theory Craig Etcheson, 1989-07-12 For most of the twentieth century social scientists have attempted to understand the causes of military competition From this struggle has evolved the Richardson Tradition of Arms Race Analysis a distinct body of scientific literature that uses a variety of mathematical techniques and theoretical ideas to solve the puzzle of what drives military interaction among nations Etcheson explores this intellectual journey and projects the paths along which the Richardson Tradition must go if it is to obtain its objective understanding and control of potentially unnecessary organized social violence Arms Race Theory examines thoroughly the literature of the Richardson Tradition from the writings of Lewis Fry Richardson through the most recent attempts of his students to resolve the fundamental questions about interaction in arms races Etcheson documents the application of the procedures of positive physical science to social problems and identifies the reasons why Richardson and his students have been frustrated in their efforts According to the author students of the Richardson Tradition adhere to an atomistic and reductionist perspective that denies the relevance of human values and intentions He focuses on the idea of strategy as a gateway to an understanding of the social causes of arms accumulation Etcheson prepares the way for a new phase in the Richardson Tradition by identifying new theoretical foci and methodological techniques His analysis coupled with the most comprehensive bibliography of the literature of the Richardson Tradition currently available is a significant contribution to the growing body of scholarship in peace research and international relations theory The Economics of Defence, Disarmament, and Peace Keith Hartley, Nick Hooper, 1990 This major reference work is a comprehensive critical guide to the large and growing literature on the economics of defence disarmament and peace It covers the cost of defence spending and its effects on growth investment unemployment technical change and other aspects of a nation s economic performance It includes material on the determinants of defence spending namely defence budgets programme budgeting and procurement policy It also deals with the economic impact of arms limitation disarmament and the conversion from military production to products with peaceful uses Proceedings ,1966 Progress in Operations Research ,1961 The Challenge to Systems Analysis Grace J.
