Arts of Healing Arleen Ionescu, Maria Margaroni, 2020-06-22 This book occurs at the intersection of philosophy critical theory psychoanalysis and the visual arts Each chapter looks at art produced in various traumatogenic cultures detention centres post Holocaust film autobiography and many more Other chapters look at the Juarez femicides the production of collective memory of makeshift memorials acts of forgiveness and contemporary forms of trauma The book proposes new ways of thinking trauma foregrounding the possibility of healing and the task that the critical humanities has to play in this healing Where is its place in an increasingly terror haunted world where personal and collective trauma is as much of an everyday occurrence as it is incomprehensible What has become known as the classical model of trauma has foregrounded the unrepresentability of the traumatic event New revisionist approaches seek to move beyond an aporetic understanding of trauma investigating both intersubjective and intrasubjective psychic processes of healing Traumatic memory is not always verbal and iconic forms of communication are part of the arts of healing

Aerial Age Weekly, 1918 Fictional Labor Jiewon Baek, 2022-07-15 This book advocates for the ethically formative labor that fiction accomplishes As a force of production the fictional labor of literature and the visual arts shapes the formation of collective meaning in an era marked by the negligence of social financial and environmental responsibility As neoliberalism's hegemony since the 1980s has intensified through the proliferation of digital technologies in the 21st century considering works of creative art as an ethically productive force is a necessary complement to political and economic critiques The book invites readers to rethink how mutations in the production circulation and consumption of literary and visual materials are implicated in the commodification of information and attention for private gain The link can have a positive effect that transforms the social relation from a capitalist ethos that expends life for profit to an alterity driven ethos that defends life But remedying the paucity of moral sentiments of social existence requires fictional labor to generate ethical sensibilities cares desires and wills The book's close analyses demonstrate the aesthetic and formal aspects of literary and visual art that mediate between social relations to yield a dependence alterity including the otherness of a precarious present a menacing future beyond economic mastery and an environment enmeshed with living beings and things
