Mason, 2007-05-08 The chapters in this volume derive from a symposium held in Madrid Spain from 6 8 November 1998

Organized and supported by the Autonomous University of Madrid the meeting was part of the activities of the Special Interest Group SIG on Conceptual Change of the European Association for Research on Learning and Instruction EARLI coordinated by the editors of this book The volume brings together contributions from leading researchers investigating the role of conceptual change to enhance meaningful learning in the classroom The aim of the volume is to present the state of the art on a topic that has become very relevant to explaining how students and people in general build their knowledge and incorporate new concepts and ideas The volume keeps the four main sessions in which the symposium was articulated They were structured around both theoretical and practical issues of conceptual change Particular attention was paid to discussing the characteristics of individuals prior knowledge and to the more recent topic of how to integrate social motivational and contextual aspects of learning within conceptual change research Parts 1 and 2 The Irish Journal of Education ,1982

Reconsidering Resilience in Education Adeela ahmed Shafi,Tristan Middleton,Richard Millican,Sian

Templeton,2020-09-03 This book explores the concept of resilience and its significance in responding to a rapid and ever changing globalised world whilst critiquing its buzzword status in contemporary times Drawing on research from a range of educational settings the book demonstrates that the resilience of individuals and their surrounding systems should not be viewed in isolation and that the interplay between individual resilience community resilience and resilient societies is complex and symbiotic On this basis it illustrates that efforts to promote resilience would benefit from a systems approach capable of coping with this complexity Using the ideas of agency and the power of self determinism a development of Bronfenbrenner's bio ecological model is presented to illustrate the complexity of their interplay Existing models of resilience are developed with the book offering the Dynamic Interactive Model of Resilience DIMoR as a way to analyse and support resilience which moves beyond a reductionist descriptive and fashionable presentation of resilience Affective Learning in Industrial Arts Gerald L. Jennings,1984 Hope Matters Elin Kelsey,2020-10-27 This book comes at just the right moment It is NOT too late if we get together and take action NOW Jane Goodall Fears about climate change are fueling an epidemic of despair across the world adults worry about their children's future thirty somethings question whether they should have kids or not and many young people honestly believe they have no future at all In the face of extreme eco anxiety scholar and award winning author Elin Kelsey argues that our hopelessness while an understandable reaction is hampering our ability to address the very real problems we face Kelsey offers a powerful solution hope itself Hope Matters boldly breaks through the narrative of doom and gloom to show why evidence based hope not fear is our most powerful tool for change Kelsey shares real life examples of positive climate news that reveal the power of our mindsets to shape reality the resilience of nature and the transformative possibilities of individual and collective action And she demonstrates how we can build on positive trends to work toward a sustainable and just future before it's too late Praise for Hope Matters Whether you consider yourself a passionate ally of nature a busy bystander or anything in between this book will uplift your spirits helping you find hope in the face of climate crisis Veronica Joyce Lin North American Association for Environmental Education 30 Under 30 A tonic in hard times Claudia Dreyguis author of Scientific Conversations Interviews on Science from the New York Times Beautifully written and an effective antidote against apathy and inaction Christof Mauch Director Rachel Carson Center for the Environment and Society Published in Partnership with the David Suzuki Institute Teacher Emotions Matter: Nature, Antecedents, and Effects Junjun Chen,Hongbiao Yin,Anne Christiane Frenzel,2021-01-05 Reconsidering Feminist Research in Educational Leadership Michelle D. Young,Linda Skrla,2012-02-01 Ten prominent feminist researchers from diverse backgrounds examine educational leadership by focusing on critical questions about the theories methods and epistemologies feminist researchers use The contributors analyze the impact of research on participants and assess the ethical and political implications of researching across groups They explore the types of strategies feminist researchers have developed to address the problems of the field and propose alternative epistemologies that provide for more sensitive research methods and more complex research results The book provides a timely examination of how gender inequalities were created and structured within U S systems of school administration how they are maintained and perpetuated and how they might best be understood and dismantled Journal of Nursery Education ,1979 Reconsidering Culture and Poverty David Harding,Michele Lamont,Mario Luis Small,2010-06-08 Culture has returned to the poverty research agenda Over the past decade sociologists demographers and even economists have begun asking questions about the role of culture in many aspects of poverty at times even explaining the behavior of low income populations in reference to cultural factors Unlike their predecessors contemporary researchers rarely claim that culture will sustain itself for multiple generations regardless of structural changes and they almost never use the term pathology which implied in an earlier era that people would cease to be poor if they changed their culture The new generation of scholars conceives of culture in substantially different ways In this latest issue of the ANNALS readers are treated to thought provoking articles that attempt to bridge the gap between poverty and culture scholarship highlighting new trends in poverty research This volume is vital reading not only for sociologists but also for researchers across the social sciences as a whole Reconsideration of Science and Technology III Liu Dachun,Yang Huili,Fan Shanshan,2022-09-30 Drawing on debates from traditional and postmodern thoughts on science and technology the title builds a new theoretical framework to reconsider science and technology integrating the opposing viewpoints that either justify science or negate it As the third volume of a three volume set that proposes to reconsider science and technology and explores how the philosophy of science and technology responds to an ever changing world this final volume seeks to restore the cultural implications of science Across the six chapters the authors probe the prospect of a pluralistic scientific culture including discussions of diversified value choices the tension between reason and unreason other binary characteristics of scientific knowledge including objectivity and uniqueness universality and locality as well as the loss awakening and reconstruction of scientific culture The authors call for a transformation of scientific culture from a dominant culture to an affirmative one and envision a free and open world of science and technology

The volume will appeal to scholars and students interested in the philosophy of science and technology the ideology of scientism and anti scientism modernism and postmodernism Marxist philosophy and topics related to scientific culture
