New Dimensions Of Warfarin Prophylaxis:

The New Dimensions of Warfarin Prophylaxis Stanford Wessler, 2013-06-29 The International Symposium on The New Dimensions of Warfarin Prophylaxis held on October 16 18 1986 in New York City was conceived as a forum to bring together physicians and other scientists knowledgeable about the pharmacological effects of warfarin on the hemostatic mechanism and the clinical usefulness of this compound in the prevention of thromboembolic phenomena The coumarin compounds have commanded a striking breadth of interest among members of the biomedical research community for almost one half century Aspects of its effects on the vitamin K dependent proteins on the laboratory recognition of the drug's pharmacologic action and its use as a therapeutic agent in a variety of disease states have been actively studied with increasing intensity in the past several decades Thus the present state of these studies seemed to be a timely subject for discussion not only to gather together in one place representative samples of the myriad of data on warfarin but also to underscore the ever increasing necessity for communication between basic research and clinical practice The content and organization of this monograph reflect the scope and importance of warfarin prophylaxis One of the unique aspects of this publication is that it spells out in one place the warfarin story from molecular biology through clinical trials to future directions of research and patient care

Immunology Jiri Mestecky, Jerry R. McGhee, John Bienenstock, Pearay L. Ogra, 2012-12-06 Increasing interest in the immunology of mucosal surfaces is obvious from the number of publications in scientific journals and from the frequency of national and international symposia devoted to this subject Particularly encouraging are the large numbers of young investigators who have chosen to work in this area of theoretical immunology with profound practical implications The two volumes represented here are the result of an International Congress Of Mucosal Immunology held at the Niagara Falls Convention Center and the Niagara Falls Hilton on June 29 July 3 1986 This satellite meeting of the International Congress of Immunology placed emphasis on all aspects of the Mucosal Immune System This included the regulation of differentiation of mucosal lymphocytes mucosa associated lymphoreticular tissue and lymphocyte homing the immunology of mucosa associated tissues and glands effector functions in mucosal immunity and the effects of environmental antigens on the immune response all of which are included in Volume I The second volume has emphasized studies of the immune response and effector functions IgA biosynthesis and transport IgA proteases and effector functions developmental aspects and immunodeficiency the immunopathology of IgA and mucosal immunoprophylaxis A total of 218 papers are included in these two volumes and a comparison to past meetings held at four to five year intervals indicates the explosive growth of mucosal immunology Molecular Mechanisms of Neuronal Responsiveness Yigal H. Ehrlich, Robert H. Lenox, Elizabeth

Kornecki, William O. Berry, 2013-03-13 The interaction of neurotransmitters neuromodulators and neuroactive drugs with receptors localized at the cell surface initiates a chain of molecular events leading to integrated neuronal responses to the triggering stimuli Major advancements in the characterization and isolation of receptor molecules have answered many questions regarding the nature of the elements that determine the specificity in these interactions At the same time recent studies have provided evidence that delicate regulation by intracellular enzymatic systems determines the efficiency of the stimulus response coupling process mediates the interaction between receptors operates in feedback control mechanisms and transduces signals from the receptors to various effector sites in a highly coordinated fashion These studies are at the focus of the present volume which is an outcome of a symposium held at the University of Vermont College of Medicine on March 21-23 1986 in conjunction with the seventeenth annual meeting of the American Society for Neurochemistry The symposium has demonstrated clearly that the concerted efforts of investigators in neurophysiology biochemistry pharmacology cell biology molecular genetics neurology and psychiatry are required to achieve better understanding of the processes underlying neuronal responsiveness This volume includes contributions provided by prominent investigators in all these research areas We hope that the readers will find here a useful source of information and ideas for stimulating further studies which may serve to narrow the gap between basic neuroscience research and its clinical implications

Thromboembolic Complications During Infancy and Childhood Maureen Andrew, Paul T. Monagle, LuAnn Brooker, 2000 Every year there are several hundred thousand episodes of neonates and children experiencing thromboembolic incidents These episodes of blood clotting have many causes some congenital but most caused by underlying problems such as arterial disease renal disorders systemic lupus erythematosus or leukemia Many more are caused by therapeutic interventions in critical care The author is a world recognized expert on the topic who has studied thousands of cases Based on this clinical research the author provides guidelines for the proper diagnosis and therapeutic interventions for thrombotic disorders no matter what the cause She covers the newest drug therapies including oral anticoagulation preparations Oxygen

Transport to Tissue IX Haim I. Bicher, Duane F. Bruley, 2013-11-21 These papers stem from the ISOTT Meeting held at Churchill College Cambridge from July 27th to 30th 1986 Although the sun did not shine so brightly as during the Cambridge meeting in 1977 the communications and discussions were as lively and informative and some heat as well as light was generated in the presentation of differing views The meeting was conducted in a generally informal way which allowed maximum time for discussion but the relatively unstructured nature of the debates made them unsuitable for publication The amount of editing necessary meant that the printed version of the exchanges would bear little resemblance to the original hence their omission All the papers presented here have been scrutinized and retyped in a standard format However the diverse interests of ISOTT's members reflected in the wide spectrum of the material submitted made total editorial uniformity an unrealistic goal Complete consistency in the use of symbols abbreviations and units seemed less important than speed of publication Continuous Transcutaneous Monitoring Albert Huch, Renate Huch, Gösta Rooth, 2013-03-09 The international symposia on transcutaneous monitoring have dealt with the interaction between ideas and research the introduction of unconventional techniques into clinical practice and the joint efforts of researchers clinicians and industry to design and manufacture practical equipment for noninvasive monitoring The First International Symposium on Continuous Transcutaneous Blood Gas Monitoring took place in Marburg West Germany from May 31 to June 2 1978 This was the first major international meeting exclusively devoted to transcutaneous blood gas monitoring and it was attended by the scientists who had developed this technique or had been working with it by a large number of doctors mainly neonatologists who had just begun to use the technique or hoped to do so and finally a rather large number of representatives of industry The second symposium with the same title was held in Zurich Switzerland October 14-16 1981 This time the focus was to a large extent on transcutaneous PCO₂ monitoring for which equipment had become commercially available only a short time before Fetal monitoring was also discussed at length as was the use of the transcutaneous techniques in other fields such as vascular surgery and experimental animal research The third symposium October 1-4 1986 was again held in Zurich It was entitled Continuous Transcutaneous Monitoring indicating that not only blood gases but also other parameters could be monitored transcutaneously Current Catalog ,1988 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965-70
