Megatrends of World Politics Marina M. Lebedeva, Denis A. Kuznetsov, 2022-12-19 Megatrends of World Politics identifies globalization integration and democratization as three key trends shaping the future of world politics and international relations and demonstrates their effects in today's global processes. The authors of this book discuss the essence of these three megatrends of world politics, describing their dynamic and non-linear development and exploring how they manifest themselves. Assessing megatrends of world politics makes it possible to predict further global political development. The authors proceed from several assumptions: 1. megatrends are global; they operate everywhere around the globe, although with different intensity and in diverse forms; 2. they influence and sometimes generate a variety of other trends in today's world politics; and 3. megatrends are political. The three megatrends—globalization, integration, and democratization—are identified and justified based on these three parameters. Then the authors analyze the influence and manifestation of megatrends in various spheres of world politics, including terrorism, transregionalism, communication technologies, migration, pandemics, and subnational regions. This book will be of interest to students, scholars, and researchers of international relations and adjacent fields who are studying the trajectories of global development, globalization, integration, and democratization. Kohlenberg, Nadine

Godehardt, 2020-09-02 This book examines what counts regarding the role and conceptualization of regions in world politics. It presents a fresh look at which narratives awake, persist, fall dormant, or re-emerge amidst diverse interlocking processes of environmental, technological, and global political changes. It puts forward a thorough and multidimensional conceptualization of regions as embedded in changing, overlapping environments and requires more attention to regions, shifting materiality, temporality, and technological underpinnings. Combining the approaches, questions, and analyses of Critical IR and Political Geography, it calls for a renewed emphasis on the puzzle of how the contextual environment of regions may become more or less multidimensional or how some aspects of a region's contextual environment may be mutually constitutive in non-intuitive ways. Ultimately, it sheds light on the politics of regions and the regional scale in international politics in order to overcome the often underlying territorial fixity of territory and space within IR approaches. This book will be of key interest to scholars
