Improving Religious Education Through Teacher Training Friedrich Schweitzer, Rob Freathy, Stephen G. Parker, Henrik Simojoki, 2023. This book brings together two topics which have both been of increasing interest in different countries. The first refers to the quality of Religious Education as a school subject, RE in general; the second is about the education of teachers of RE and its possible contribution to better quality RE. There have been many public and often controversial debates concerning both of these topics. The chapters contained in this volume, however, are not meant to continue such debates, even if it is inevitable that they will contribute to these debates as well, but to make use of research, especially research on teacher education in the field of RE, in order to provide insights based not just on political or personal opinions but on rigorous academic scholarship.

International Handbook of Inter-religious Education Kath Engebretson, Marian de Souza, Gloria Durka, Liam Gearon, 2010-08-17. This Handbook is based on the conviction of its editors and contributing authors that understanding and acceptance, as well as collaboration between religions, has essential educational value. The development of this Handbook rests on the further assumption that interreligious education has an important role in elucidating the global demand for human rights, justice and peace. Interreligious education reveals that the creeds and holy books of the world's religions teach about spiritual systems that reject violence and the individualistic pursuit of economic and political gain and call their followers to compassion for every human being. It also seeks to lead students to an awareness that the followers of religions across the world need to be and to grow in dialogical relationships of respect and understanding. An essential aim of interreligious education is the promotion of understanding and engagement between people of different religions and therefore it has great potential to contribute to the common good of the global community. Interreligious education has grown from the interfaith movement whose beginning is usually identified with the World Parliament of Religions held in Chicago in 1893. This was the first time in history that leaders of the eastern and western religions had come together for dialogue and to consider working together for global unity.
