continuing on from the kids eating healthy question.
a big tip:
lead by example and play it cool.
let them see you eating and enjoying a healthy meal without you saying "here try it!! try one bite!! come on just eat one bite!!"

also I always make sure I put something I know they love on their plate if I'm adding something new/something I think they'll be hesitant to try so their eyes immediately go to the food they love instead of the new food- sets the tone for a more open minded meal experience
