Differentiation in Euro-Mediterranean Relations Esther Barbé, Anna Herranz-Surrallés, 2013-09-13 The tension between the aim of creating sustainable multilateral region building dynamics and the need to find more differentiated and flexible forms of cooperation has been ever present in Euro Mediterranean relations The proliferation of different and partially overlapping initiatives in recent years the Euro Mediterranean Partnership the European Neighbourhood Policy and the Union for the Mediterranean is a plain expression of this tension The 2011 episodes of regime change in the Arab world have once again placed the debate about differentiation in EU s relations with Southern and Eastern Mediterranean Countries at the top of the Union s foreign policy agenda This book contributes to theoretical and practical debates on whether differentiation processes can aid or hinder policy convergence processes and region building efforts more widely The contributions to this collection assess the actual significance and consequences of differentiation in Euro Mediterranean relations through sector specific in depth analyses covering issue areas as varied as environmental policy migration foreign and defence policy trade energy civil protection and democracy promotion The particular angle and comprehensive analysis of this book will make it of great interest for both scholars and policy makers alike in a moment when Euro Mediterranean are in need of a thorough rethink This book was based on a special issue of Mediterranean Politics Euro-Mediterranean Relations After September 11 Annette Junemann, 2004-06 A comprehensive study of the nexus between democratization and security in the Mediterranean which are seen as essentially complementary yet threatened by political trends witnessed since the September 2001 attacks Contributors from a variety of European and Mediterranean countries address the impact of a restructured security system Europe s effort to establish an autonomous security and defence policy and attempts among the Mediterranean Partner Countries MPCs to build regional security regimes Twenty Years of Euro-Mediterranean

Relations Richard Youngs, 2017-10-02 The creation of the Euro Mediterranean Partnership in 1995 was seen at the time as a forward thinking foreign policy which would strengthen ties between Europe and the Mediterranean Arab states Since that time however almost none of this initial ambition has been translated into positive successful policy Twenty years on from the creation of the Euro Mediterranean Partnership now the Union for the Mediterranean this book collects some of the most influential articles published in the Mediterranean Politics journal since 1995 and suggests what these articles tell us about the state of relations between Europe and the Middle East The selection of articles gives a sense of the way in which analytical debate has changed in the journal's lifetime a lifetime which has seen the journal at the forefront of academic study on a variety of issues in the Mediterranean region As such the selection is naturally a reflection of the different periods from which the articles are taken and taken together they paint a picture of how the Euro Mediterranean partnership has been reshaped over time

New Pathways in International Development Maurizio Carbone, Marjorie Lister, 2017-11-30
Gender considerations and civil society are both major issues in the current debate about the implementation of EU development policy This volume provides a new perspective and focus on the increasingly important issues of gender equality democracy and participation to explain how they impact on policy This book will appeal to those interested in the European Union in EU external relations gender issues civil society and development

Young Minds Rethinking the Mediterranean, 2011 Throughout history much has been written on why wars and crises occur and why human beings kill each other or are often so ready to do so While some blame human nature state structures or the anarchic order within the international system others hold prejudices and the othering or dehumanizing of those different from us as being responsible The region in which we live has particularly suffered a great deal from these violent processes Nationalist ideologies most of which were defined in opposition to one another alienated others abstracted them from their humanity and made them subject to various kinds of tyranny Turks Bulgarians Greeks and many others had their share in this process of mutual alienation Across the Euro Mediterranean region throughout history immigrations have been imposed publics extorted crises fomented and interventions and wars suffered through The study in your hands sheds light on the processes of othering and alienation in large part responsible for this troubled history It serves as a tool through which the past and the future can be understood And it examines prejudice the largest obstacle facing Turkey on its path to EU membership while touching on various issues such as minority rights the notion of culture the role of symbols and other visual images in politics the narration of culture within the capitalist order and its political outcomes and finally the EU's Mediterranean politics

Law, Culture and Identity in Central and Eastern Europe Cosmin Cărcel, Alexandra Mercescu, Mirosław Michał Sadowski, 2023-12-01 Combining insights from comparative legal theory jurisprudence and legal history this collection examines the legal and constitutional identity of Central and Eastern Europe Although the various countries of Central and Eastern Europe have often compared themselves to the West the failure of these countries to engage with one another has resulted in a whole spectrum of legal identities remaining hidden This book takes up a comparison of such identities within the region of Central and Eastern Europe and following from the prima facie similarity between the region's countries given the experience of communism and legal transfers. The book thereby illuminates through comparisons the distinct legal identities of the 16 Central and Eastern European states whilst at the same time arguing for a shared Central and Eastern European legal identity. This book will appeal to scholars and students in the area of comparative law as well as lawyers, political scientists, sociologists and historians with particular interests in Central and Eastern Europe.

The Europeanization of Cinema Randall Halle, 2014-06-15

In this innovative study, German and film studies scholar Randall Halle advances the concept of interzones: geographical and ideational spaces of transit, interaction, transformation, and contested diversity as a mechanism for analyzing European cinema. He focuses especially on films about borders, borderlands, and cultural zones as he traces the development of interzones from the inception of central European cinema to the avant-garde films of today. Throughout, he shows how cinema both reflects and engenders interzones that explore the important questions of Europe's social order, imperialism, and nation building in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries: first contact between former adversaries such as East and West Germany following World War II and the Cold War, and migration, neo-colonialism, and cultural imperialism in the twenty-first century. Ultimately, Halle argues that today's cinema both produces and reflects imaginative communities. He demonstrates how, rather than simply erasing boundaries, the European Union instead fosters a network of cultural interzones that encourage cinematic exploration of the new Europe's processes and limits of connectivity, tolerance, and cooperation.
