New Kids On The Net:

Japanese Influence on American Children's Television Gina O'Melia, 2019-07-11 Japanese Influence on American Children's Television examines the gradual yet dramatic transformation of Saturday morning children's programming from being rooted in American traditions and popular culture to reflecting Japanese popular culture In this modern era of globalization and global media cultural convergence the book brings to light an often overlooked phenomenon of the gradual integration of narrative and character conventions borrowed from Japanese storytelling into American children's media The book begins with a brief history of Saturday morning in the United States from its earliest years and the interaction between American and Japanese popular media during this time period It then moves onto reviewing the dramatic shift that occurred within the Saturday morning block through both an overview of the transitional decades as well as an in depth analysis of the transformative ascent of the shows Mighty Morphin Power Rangers Pok mon and Yu Gi Oh

Issues in Web-Based Pedagogy Robert A. Cole, 2000-06-30 There has been an explosion of Web based courses in higher education Aiming at an interdisciplinary audience the contributors draw upon diverse philosophical and empirical backgrounds to make claims about Web based pedagogy Among the points they raise is the concern that education is more easily commodified through Internet technologies implying that traditional faculty roles in teaching and research are at risk Moreover current understandings of what it means to be a teacher or a student are undergoing redefinition as a result of these new distance learning technologies The contributors note that Web based pedagogy is associated with sound instruction when particular strategies are adopted As a corollary this form of teaching is least effective when attempts are made to directly translate traditional styles of teaching Political social and economic interests are competing to shape the direction that online education will take The authors argue that opportunities exist for administrators and faculty to define the terms under which Web based learning will occur in their institutions

Net.people Thomas E. Bleier, Eric C. Steinert, 2000 The art of creating a Web site is one that has emerged and been refined since the explosion of the Internet as a communications medium But unlike authors filmmakers musicians and visual artists the faces behind even the most popular Web sites remain hidden This book goes behind the Web curtain to reveal the personalities behind 35 of the most interesting Web sites on the Internet today Interviews with the creators of sites for everything from wedding resources and action figure collecting to misheard song lyrics and movie reviews reveal the motivations for and experiences in starting and growing Web sites This book provides insights for people watchers who are curious about the faces behind the sites and for anyone interested in building an original Web site

Raizen, E.D. Britton, 2012-12-06 This book presents comprehensive results from case studies of five innovations in science education that have much to offer toward understanding current reforms in this field Each chapter tells the story of a case in rich detail with extensive documentation and in the voices of many of the participants the innovators the teachers the students Similarly Volume 3 of Bold Ventures pre sents the results from case studies of five innovations in mathematics education Volume 1 provides a cross case analysis of all eight innovations Many U S readers certainly will be very familiar with the name of at least one if not all of the science innovations discussed in this volume for example Project 2061 and probably with their general substance Much of the education community s familiarity with these arises from the projects own dissemination efforts The research reported in this volume however is one of the few detailed studies of these innovations undertaken by researchers outside the projects themselves. Each of the five studies was a large scale effort involving teams of researchers over three years. These teams analyzed many documents, attended numerous critical project meetings, visited multiple sites, conducted dozens of individual interviews. The team leaders, Atkin, Huberman, Rowe, having spent much time with science education over long careers, looked at these innovations through many lenses. It was a daunting task for each team to sift through the mountains of detail in order to bring the most compelling themes to the surface.
