Public Opinion: How People Decide; The Role of News, Propaganda and Manufactured Consent in Modern Democracy and Political Elections

Walter Lippmann, 2018-07-11 Public Opinion is Walter Lippmann's groundbreaking work which demonstrates how individual beliefs are swayed by stereotypes the mass media and political propaganda The book opens with the notion that democracy in the age of super fast communications is obsolete He analyses the impact of several phenomena such as the radio and newspapers to support his criticisms of the sociopolitical situation as it stands He famously coins the term manufactured consent for the fomenting of views which ultimately work against the interests of those who hold them Lippmann contends that owing to the masses of information flung at the population on a daily basis opinions regarding entire groups in society are being reduced to simple stereotypes The actual complexity and nuance of life Lippmann contends is undermined by the ever faster modes of communication appearing regularly News by nature presents or emphasizes only some of the facts

Propaganda and Empire

John M. MacKenzie, 2017-03-01 It has been said that the British Empire on which the sun never set meant little to the man in the street Apart from the jingoist eruptions at the death of Gordon or the relief of Mafeking he remained stonily indifferent to the imperial destiny that beckoned his rulers so alluringly Strange then that for three quarters of a century it was scarcely possible to buy a bar of soap or a tin of biscuits without being reminded of the idea of Empire Packaging postcards music hall cinema boy's stories and school books exhibitions and parades all conveyed the message that Empire was an adventure and an ennobling responsibility Army and navy were a sure shield for the mother country and the subject peoples alike Boys brigades and Scouts stiffened the backbone of youth who flocked to join In this illuminating study John M Mackenzie explores the manifestations of the imperial idea from the trappings of royalty through writers like G A Henty to the humble cigarette card He shows that it was so powerful and pervasive that it outlived the passing of Empire itself and as events such as the Falklands adventure showed the embers continue to smoulder      Social Theories of the Press Hanno Hardt,2001-10-11

Hanno Hardt has thoroughly revised and expanded his pre history of communication research in the United States With the notable addition of Karl Marx s journalism focused writings and a new foreword by James W Carey this edition covers intellectual contributions from several German theorists in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries as well as first generation U S sociologists who were influenced by this scholarship A new concluding chapter explores the continuing influence of German social thought and the contemporary shift of paradigms in U S communication research including approaches such as critical Marxist and cultural studies      Times of the Technoculture Kevin Robins, Frank Webster,2003-09-02

Times of the Technoculture explores the social and cultural impact of new technologies tracing the origins of the information society from the coming of the machine with the industrial revolution to the development of mass production techniques in the early twentieth century The authors look at how the military has controlled the development of the information society and consider the centrality of education in government attempts to create a knowledge society Engaging in contemporary debates surrounding the internet Robins and Webster question whether it can really offer us a new world of virtual communities and suggest more radical alternatives to the corporate agenda of contemporary technologies      The Media Creates Us in Its Image and Other Essays on Technology and Culture Richard Stivers,2020-03-31

The Media Creates Us in Its Image and Other Essays on Technology and Culture proposes that modern technology seriously influences every aspect of culture and personality Technology shapes our beliefs and values and even how we think of ourselves It affects religion morality education language communication and sexual identity Every institution every organization is brought under its purview This book attempts to awaken the reader to the destructive side of modern technology that exists side by side with its constructive side What modern technology is destroying however is the very meaning of being human The essay The Media Creates Us in Its Image makes this case most dramatically The book asks the reader the following question Is what you have gained from the use of modern technology more important than what you have lost How do we once again bring technology under our control in the face of its inexorable progress      Editor & Publisher ,1918
