Public Sculpture Of Liverpool:

Public Sculpture of Liverpool Terry Cavanagh, 1997 It is the purpose of the present catalogue to document as fully as possible the complete range of the public monuments and sculpture of Liverpool from the earliest surviving item to the most recently erected Just one clearly defined category has been excluded from the survey sculpture in an ecclesiastical context or executed for a sepulchral purpose What remains is a rich and multifarious concentration within the city of not only independent pieces such as grand monuments portrait statues abstract sculptures and commemorative fountains but also sculpture executed to embellish the city's civic and commercial architecture The volume is arranged with works in order by location and details are given of materials dimensions ownership condition and literature with photographic illustration provided for almost all of the works included

Sculpture and the Decorative in Britain and Europe Imogen Hart, Claire Jones, 2020-10-29 By foregrounding the overlaps between sculpture and the decorative this volume of essays offers a model for a more integrated form of art history writing Through distinct case studies from a seventeenth century Danish altarpiece to contemporary British ceramics it brings to centre stage makers objects concepts and spaces that have been marginalized by the enforcement of boundaries within art and design discourse These essays challenge the classed raced and gendered categories that have structured the histories and languages of art and its making Sculpture and the Decorative in Britain and Europe is essential reading for anyone interested in the history and practice of sculpture and the decorative arts and the methodologies of art history

Sculpture and the Garden Patrick Eyres, 2017-07-05 Although the integration of sculpture in gardens is part of a long tradition dating back at least to antiquity the sculptures themselves are often overlooked both in the history of art and in the history of the garden This collection of essays considers the changing relationship between sculpture and gardens over the last three centuries focusing on four British archetypes the Georgian landscape garden the Victorian urban park the outdoor spaces of twentieth century modernism and the late twentieth century sculpture park Through a series of case studies exploring the contemporaneous audiences of gardens the book uncovers the social political and gendered messages revealed by sculpture's placement and suggests that the garden can itself be read as a sculptural landscape

Public Sculpture of Cheshire and Merseyside (excluding Liverpool) Edward Morris, Emma Roberts, 2012 The fifteenth volume in the internationally renowned Public Sculpture of Britain series examines the exceptional richness of public sculptures in Cheshire and Merseyside From neoclassical church monuments to war memorials and symbolist statues this book catalogs 220 sculptures providing detailed information regarding dating commissioning attribution style cost repairs and a host of other facts Nearly every sculpture in the book is accompanied by at least one photograph and detailed biographies of all the local sculptors

The Everyday Practice of Public Art Cameron Cartiere, Martin Zebracki, 2015-11-19 The Everyday Practice of Public Art Art Space and Social Inclusion is a multidisciplinary anthology of analyses exploring the expansion of contemporary public art issues beyond the built environment It follows the highly successful publication The Practice of Public Art eds Cartiere and Willis and expands the analysis of the field with a broad perspective which includes practicing artists curators activists writers and educators from North America Europe and Australia who offer divergent perspectives on the many facets of the public art process The collection examines the continual evolution of public art moving beyond monuments and memorials to examine more fully the development of socially engaged public art practice Topics include constructing new models for developing and commissioning temporary and performance based public artworks understanding the challenges of a socially engaged public art practice vs social programming and policymaking the social inclusiveness of public art the radical developments in public art and social practice pedagogy and unravelling the relationships between public artists and the communities they serve The Everyday Practice of Public Art offers a diverse perspective on the increasingly complex nature of artistic practice in the public realm in the twenty first century

The Persistence of Memory Jessica Moody, 2020 The Persistence of Memory tells the history of the public memory of transatlantic slavery in the largest slave trading port city in the world from the end of the 18th century into the 21st century revealing the persistence of slavery memory in Liverpool as an ongoing contested debate

Public Art and Museums in Cultural Districts J. Lorente, 2018-09-03 Museums and public art have traditionally taken significantly different approaches to customer engagement but throughout history they have also worked together in some urban contexts notably as landmarks of so called cultural districts Public Art and Museums in Cultural Districts reviews their changing interactions in many different types of cities since the Enlightenment or even before going back to the etymological origins of museums and monuments in classical antiquity The type of historical enquiry presented within the volume is not intended as a total narrative but the international study cases considered convey a global panorama of the shifting paradigms set in different periods by some cultural neighbourhoods and emulated worldwide Blurring boundaries between art history museology and urbanism this critical account explores past tensions achievements and failures giving insightful consideration to present policies and pointing out reasonable recommendations for the future regarding public heritage Presenting for the first time an insights into the role of collections of public art as landmarks of cultural districts this book considers collections displayed outdoors from the double perspective of curatorial outreach and civic values This book will fill a gap in the existing museum studies literature hitherto mainly focused on indoor collecting and curatorial policies but increasingly more and more attentive to their outside context As such the book should be of great interest to academics researchers and students working in the fields of art heritage museum studies and urban history It should also be of value to professionals working in the museum and art sectors

Everyday Heroism: Victorian Constructions of the Heroic Civilian John Price, 2014-01-16 Heroism in the 19th and early 20th centuries is synonymous with military endeavours imperial adventures and the great men of history There was however another prominent and influential strand of the idea which has until now been largely overlooked This book seeks to address this oversight and establish new avenues of study by revealing and examining everyday heroism acts of life risking bravery undertaken by otherwise ordinary individuals largely in the course of their daily lives and within quotidian surroundings Adopting an interdisciplinary approach John Price charts and investigates the growth and development of this important discourse presenting in depth case studies of The Albert Medal and the Carnegie Hero Fund alongside a nationwide analysis of heroism monuments and an exploration of radical approaches to the concept Unlike its military and imperial counterparts everyday heroism embraced the heroine and this study reflects that with an examination of female heroism Discovering why certain individuals or acts were accorded the status of being heroic also provides insights into those that recognized them Heroism is a flexible and malleable constellation of ideas shaped or constructed along different lines by different people so if you want to identify the characteristics of a group or society much can be learnt by studying those it holds up as heroic Consequently Everyday Heroism Victorian Constructions of the Heroic Civilian provides valuable and revealing evidence for a wide range of social and cultural topics including class gender identity memory celebrity and literary and visual culture The Sculpture Journal, 2004

Memory and Modern British Politics Matthew Roberts, 2023-12-14 This edited collection explores absence presence and remembrance in British political culture and memory studies Comprehensive in its scope it covers the entire modern period bringing together the 19th and 20th centuries as well as Britain Ireland and the Atlantic World As the first comparative and in depth study to explore the central and contested place of memory and the invention of tradition in modern British politics chapters include memorialisation statue mania anniversaries and on the wider impact and invoking of dead generations In doing so this book provides a new exciting and accessible way of engaging with the history of British political culture The Practice of Public Art Cameron Cartiere, Shelly Willis, 2008-05-07 Wide ranging and timely The Practice of Public Art brings together practicing artists curators activists art writers administrators city planners and educators from the United Kingdom and United States to offer differing perspectives on the many facets of the public art process The Practice of Public Art examines the continual evolution of public art from monuments and memorials to socially engaged public art practice Topics include constructing new models for developing and commissioning public art works understanding the challenges of public art vs public design and unraveling the relationships between public artists and the communities they serve The Practice of Public Art offers a diverse perspective on the complex nature of public art in the twenty first century Art, Space and the City Malcolm Miles, 1997 This book sees public art outside the normal confines of art criticism and place it within broader contexts of public space and gender Using different perspectives it explores both the aesthetic and political aspects of the medium Reading the Royal Monument in Eighteenth-Century Europe Charlotte Chastel-Rousseau, 2017-07-05 Reading the Royal Monument in Eighteenth Century Europe is the first in depth study of the major role played by royal monuments in the public space of expanding cities across eighteenth century Europe Using the royal public statues as the basis for its examination of modern European cities the book considers the development of urban landscapes from the creation of capital cities to the last embers of the Ancien Régime and at how the royal politics of the arts affected the cityscapes of the time. The focus of the book thereby intersects across a spectrum of disciplines including the social and architectural history of cities, the politics of urban planning, the history of monumental sculpture and the material culture of the eighteenth century.

"Art in the North of England, 1979-2008" Gabriel N. Gee, 2017-07-05. Based on rare archival material and numerous interviews with practitioners, Art in the North of England 1979-2008 analyses the relation between political and economic changes stemming from the 1980s and artistic developments in the principal cities of the North of England in the late 20th century. Looking in particular at the art scenes of Liverpool, Manchester, Leeds, Sheffield and Newcastle, Gabriel Gee unveils a set of powerful aesthetic reactions to industrial change and urban reconstruction during this period on the part of artists including John Davies, Pete Clarke, the Amber collective, Richard Wilson, Karen Watson, Nick Crowe, Ian Rawlinson, John Kippin and the contribution of organisations such as Projects UK, Locus, East Street Arts, the Henry Moore Sculpture Trust and the Bluecoat Gallery in Liverpool. While the geographical focus of this study is highly specific, a key concern throughout is the relationship between regional, national and international artistic practices and identities. Of interest to all scholars and students concerned with the developments of British art in the second half of the 20th century, the study is also of direct pertinence to observers of global narratives which are here described and analysed through the concept of trans-industriality.

"William Reid Dick, Sculptor" Dennis Wardleworth, 2017-07-05. William Reid Dick (1878-1961) was one of a generation of British sculptors air-brushed out of art history by the Modernist critics of the late twentieth century. This long overdue monograph adds to the recent revival of interest in this group of forgotten sculptors by describing the life and work of arguably the leading figure of the group in unprecedented depth. The facts of Reid Dick's life and his most important works are presented against a backdrop of the historical, social and aesthetic changes taking place during his lifetime. Dennis Wardleworth elucidates why Reid Dick's reputation plummeted so quickly and why his position in the history of British art deserves to be restored. This study draws upon a wealth of previously unpublished material, including over 2000 letters and press cuttings and photographs in the Tate Archive as well as letters and photographs held by Reid Dick's family. It traces the sculptor's story from his birth in the Gorbals in Glasgow to his election to the Royal Academy and knighting by George V to the decline of his career and his late-life connection with American millionaire and art collector Huntington Hartford. The first monograph on Reid Dick since 1945, the book also includes images of over 40 of his works and a listing of over 200 works identified by the author.

Liverpool Joseph Sharples, Richard Pollard, 2004-01-01. Guidebook to significant and interesting architectural sites in Liverpool.

Historic Streets of Liverpool David Paul, 2018-06-15. Takes readers around Liverpool's oldest streets, providing insight on their initial development, how they have changed, and the construction of notable buildings.

The Physical University Paul Temple, 2014-03-21. The great universities of the world are to a large extent defined in the public imagination by their physical form. When people think of a university, they usually think of a distinctive place rather than about say the teaching or the research that might go on there This is understandable both because universities usually stay rooted to the same spot over the centuries and because their physical forms may send powerful messages about the kind of places they are The physical form of the university and how the spaces within it become transformed by their users into places which hold meanings for them has become of increased interest recently from both academic and institutional management perspectives when trying to understand more about how universities work and how they may be made more effective Yet despite its seemingly obvious importance the available literature on space and place in higher education internationally is scant when compared to that dealing with say teaching and learning methods or with evaluating quality or many other topics This book brings together a range of academic and professional perspectives on university spaces and places and show how technical matters of building design maintenance and use interact with academic considerations on the goals of the university Space issues are located at an intellectual crossroads where widely differing conceptual and professional perspectives meet and need to be integrated and this important book brings together perspectives from around the world to show design and use issues are changing Higher Education Globally higher education is being required to do more things to teach more students to be better at research to engage more with business and communities and many other things These pressures are leading universities to reconsider their management processes as well as their academic structures an often quoted saying is that we make our buildings and afterwards they make us At a time when universities and colleges are seeking competitive advantages ideas and analysis about space design and use is much needed and will be well received

Public Art Collections in North-west England Edward Morris,2001-01-01 There are over thirty public art galleries in north west England with substantial permanent collections The superb collections in Liverpool at the Walker Art Gallery and in Manchester at the City Art Gallery and at the Whitworth Art Gallery are well known while Lord Leverhulme's splendid British paintings and sculptures preserved at the Lady Lever Art Gallery in Port Sunlight have an international reputation For Pre Raphaelite Classical Aesthetic and Impressionist British art and much else north west England cumulatively has public collections unmatched even in London This book is both a guide and a history to these collections as well as other less famous public collections containing little known masterpieces

Merseyside Mike Benbough-Jackson,Sam Davies,2011-05-25 Merseyside Culture and Place demonstrates how Liverpool and Merseyside have a rich fascinating and sometimes controversial cultural history The result of a conference held to mark Liverpool's year as European Capital of Culture in 2008 this interdisciplinary volume contains chapters by scholars working in a variety of fields including Geography Art English Marketing and History There are many facets to Merseyside's cultural history and the contributors to this publication bring their own perspective to bear on various features of the area's rich heritage Taking in examples from the early modern era to the present day Merseyside Culture and Place draws attention to often overlooked cultural forms such as sketches of the Mersey by J M W Turner and the fan culture exhibited on Liverpool FC's Kop Each chapter in the book is based on original research and the contributors set their findings in a local national and in some cases an international context Both academics and general readers will find much of interest in a book that reflects Merseyside s distinctive and multi faceted character
