Materials for the Study of Public Utility Economics Herbert Benjamin Dorau,1930 Studies in Public Utility Economics Institute for Economic Research (Chicago, Ill.),1929 Public Utility Economics Paul J. Garfield,Wallace Francis Lovejoy,1964 The Journal of Land & Public Utility Economics ,1941 Includes book reviews and bibliographical references Economic Innovations in Public Utility Regulation Michael A. Crew,2012-12-06 This book is distilled from articles presented at two seminars held at Rutgers The State University of New Jersey on October 25 1991 and May 1 1992 entitled Economic Innovations in Public Utility Regulations These contributions represent the best new research on various topics in public utility regulation including topics in antitrust law the environmental impact of public utility regulation incentive regulation price cap regulation and contractual relationships Public Utility Regulation Kenneth Nowotny,David B. Smith,Harry M. Trebing,2012-12-06 David B Smith This is a book about the application of economic theory to a unique form of social control public utility regulation A central theme of this work is to examine the role that economics has played in shaping the rationale and direction of regulatory practices While economic theory has played an important role in the shaping of regulatory policy in the past it has an even greater potential role to play in the future as the regulatory community grapples with the many challenges of a changing economic environment This is a very timely and much needed piece of work that can serve as a reference for decision makers who are facing the challeng ing problems of deregulation and competition This work is comprised of 13 selected articles that guide the reader from an initial discussion of why we decided to regulate certain industries in the first place to a specific analysis of what role economic theory has played in the electric natural gas telecommunications and water indus tries and whether it should be allowed to play an even more dominant role in the future The reader is then provided with a more modern version of what economists mean by the concept of natural monopoly and a menu of policy options that will allow society to derive any benefits from such a market structure Studies

Excerpt from Public Utility Economics A Series of Ten Lectures Delivered Before the West Side Young Men's Christian Association New York The Finance Forum is conducted by the West Side Y M C A New York as a branch of the Educational Department It was inaugurated in 1905 and its courses of instruction have included a wide range of financial subjects The policy of the Forum has been to invite as speakers men of practical experience and many of the most representative members of the business community have lectured on the particular branches of finance in which they have gained distinction Public Utilities was chosen as the subject of the 1913 1914 course particularly because of the prominence of such securities in the investment markets The connection between the investor and the engineering and operating features of Public Utilities is direct Of no less interest and importance is the relationship between the investor and the consumer and the public attitude toward the utility company The widened public appreciation of both the service and the problems of the utility company is interwoven with nearly every subject broached in the course The accompanying index shows how all these varied interests were represented The Electrical World commented as follows on the course in its issue of March 14 1914 Aside from the interest which attaches to the subject matter of the lectures themselves the Public Utility lecture course recently inaugurated by the Finance Forum of the Y M C A in New York referred to in this issue has considerable significance as a sign of the times A strictly practical organization like the Y M C A the principal object of whose existence is to secure and hold the attention sympathy and interest of young men and to offer them some clean and profitable way of spending their leisure time for the good of their minds bodies and morals may be assumed to know something of the ways and means best calculated to achieve these results The Finance Forum selected the subject of Public Utilities for the lecture course simply for the reason that the young men wanted to learn something about utilities Since these young men are drawn indiscriminately from the public and may fairly be taken as types of the educated American it would seem that the general public in 1914 is beginning to realize the desirability of understanding a little more of the technique and economics of public service The electrical interests should be truly grateful that the public is exhibiting this tendency The course consisted of ten lectures and aroused widespread interest Their economic importance induced the Y M C A to waive its custom in such matters and allow these lectures to be distributed first in single pamphlets and now in this volume without further copyright than already taken on parts of the course by the authors The request is particularly made that excerpts be used only with credit accorded to the Finance Forum of the West Side Y M C A New York This volume includes a summary of each lecture and a full index of the subjects and references About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of
