Community, Home, and Identity

Professor Michael Diamond, Professor Terry L Turnipseed, 2012-10-28 Community home and identity are concepts that have concerned scholars in a variety of fields for some time. Legal scholars, sociologists, anthropologists, psychologists, and economists among others have studied the impacts of home and community on one's identity and how one's identity is manifested in one's home and in one's community. This volume brings together some of the leading thinkers about the connections between community, home, and identity. Several chapters address how the law and lawyers contribute or detract from the creation and maintenance of community, and in some cases the conscious destruction of communities. Others examine the protection of individual and group identities through rules related to property title and use of such things as Home and identity property. Official Gazette. English Edition Japan, 1951 Personalised Public Services for People in Vulnerable Situations in Lithuania Towards a More Integrated Approach OECD, 2023-06-23 Despite strong economic performance and significant governance reforms over the past few decades, Lithuania has a higher share of its population at risk of poverty than other EU countries, with some people more at risk than others, particularly people with multiple and complex needs in vulnerable situations who tend to rely more on public services.
