Pueblo Artists:

Pueblo Indian Pottery Gregory Schaaf, 2000 This volume second in the series on pueblo pottery features potters and examples from six Rio Grande Tewa Pueblos located in northern New Mexico Santa Clara San Ildefonso San Juan Tesuque Nambe and Pojoaque This volume profiles over 750 artists from the past two centuries featuring over 500 illustrations of artist portraits hundreds of pots and historic village scenes This book was created with the cooperation of Pueblo Indian artists Through artist surveys archival research and personal interviews information was collected in 25 categories including the artist's pueblo social group clan active years lifespan family relationships exhibitions collections favorite designs publications and twenty years of auction records Many artists completed a personal statement and some wrote or narrated autobiographical statements Following the biographies are family tree charts which illustrate how artistic traditions are passed down from one generation to the next The bibliography focuses on Tewa Pueblo artists and their arts Book jacket

A Strange Mixture Sascha T. Scott, 2015-01-21 Attracted to the rich ceremonial life and unique architecture of the New Mexico pueblos many early twentieth century artists depicted Pueblo peoples places and culture in paintings These artists encounters with Pueblo Indians fostered their awareness of Native political struggles and led them to join with Pueblo communities to champion Indian rights In this book art historian Sascha T. Scott examines the ways in which non Pueblo and Pueblo artists advocated for American Indian cultures by confronting some of the cultural legal and political issues of the day Scott closely examines the work of five diverse artists exploring how their art was shaped by and helped to shape Indian politics She places the art within the context of the interwar period 1915-30 a time when federal Indian policy shifted away from forced assimilation and toward preservation of Native cultures Through careful analysis of paintings by Ernest L. Blumenschein John Sloan Marsden Hartley and Awa Tsireh Alfonso Roybal Scott shows how their depictions of thriving Pueblo life and rituals promoted cultural preservation and challenged the pervasive romanticizing theme of the vanishing Indian Georgia O'Keeffe's images of Pueblo dances which connect abstraction with lived experience testify to the legacy of these political and aesthetic transformations Scott makes use of anthropology history and indigenous studies in her art historical narrative She is one of the first scholars to address varied responses to issues of cultural preservation by aesthetically and culturally diverse artists including Pueblo painters Beautifully designed this book features nearly sixty artworks reproduced in full color

Pueblo Artists Rina Swentzell, Alfred L. Bush, 1998 A collection of animal myths from thirty six American Indian tribes Pueblo Indian Painting J. J. Brody, 1997 Brody also explores the role played by the individuals who supported and promoted the Pueblo artists work including writers Mary Austin and Alice Corbin Henderson archaeologist Edgar Lee Hewett artist and scholar Kenneth M. Chapman painter John Sloan and art patrons Mabel Dodge Luhan and Amelia Elizabeth White

Fourteen Families in Pueblo Pottery Rick Dillingham, 1994 In 1974 Seven Families in Pueblo Pottery was published to accompany an exhibit at the Maxwell Museum of Anthropology twenty years later there are some 80 000 copies in print Like Seven Families this updated and greatly enlarged version by Rick Dillingham who curated the original exhibition includes portraits of the potters color photographs of their work and a statement by each potter about the work of his or her family In addition to the original seven the Chino and Lewis families Acoma Pueblo the Nampeyos Hopi the Guteirrez and Tafoya families Santa Clara and the Gonzales and Martinez families San Ildefonso the author had added the Chapellas and the Navasies Hopi Tewa the Chavarrias Santa Clara the Herrera family Choti the Medina family Zia and the Tenorio Pacheco and the Melchor families Santo Domingo Because the craft of pottery is handed down from generation to generation among the Pueblo Indians this extended look at multiple generations provides a fascinating and personal glimpse into how the craft has developed Also evident are the differences of opinion among the artists about the future of Pueblo pottery and the importance of following tradition A new generation of potters has come of age since the publication of Seven Families The addition of their talents along with an ever growing interest in Native American pottery make this book a welcome addition to the literature on the Southwest

Native American Art in the Twentieth Century

W. Jackson Rushing III, 2013-09-27 This illuminating and provocative book is the first anthology devoted to Twentieth Century Native American and First Nation art Native American Art brings together anthropologists art historians curators critics and distinguished Native artists to discuss pottery painting sculpture printmaking photography and performance art by some of the most celebrated Native American and Canadian First Nation artists of our time The contributors use new theoretical and critical approaches to address key issues for Native American art including symbolism and spirituality the role of patronage and museum practices the politics of art criticism and the aesthetic power of indigenous knowledge The artist contributors who represent several Native nations including Cherokee Lakota Plains Cree and those of the Plateau country emphasise the importance of traditional stories mythologies and ceremonies in the production of contemporary art Within great poignancy they write about recent art in terms of home homeland and aboriginal sovereignty Tracing the continued resistance of Native artists to dominant orthodoxies of the art market and art history Native American Art in the Twentieth Century argues forcefully for Native art's place in modern art history

Select Committee on Indian Affairs,1980 National Visions, National Blindness Leslie Dawn,2011-11-01 In the early decades of the twentieth century Canada sought to define itself as an independent dominion with allegiance to the British Empire The visual arts were considered central to the formation of a distinct national identity and the Group of Seven s landscapes became part of a larger program to unify the nation and assert its uniqueness National Visions National Blindness traces the development of this program and illuminates its conflicted history Using newly discovered archival evidence Leslie Dawn revises common interpretations of several well known events and rescues others from obscurity He problematizes conventional perceptions of the Group as a national school and underscores the contradictions inherent in international exhibitions showing unpeopled landscapes alongside Northwest Coast Native arts and the Indian paintings of Langdon Kihn and Emily Carr Dawn examines how this dichotomy forced a re evaluation of the place of First Nations in both Canadian art and nationalism National Visions National Blindness is an elegantly written work offering new and insightful analysis and will be of great interest to readers and researchers of Canadian art history First Nations art and history tourism cultural politics museum studies and ethnographic practices The World of Spirits and Ancestors in the Art of Western Sub-Saharan Africa Elizabeth Skidmore Sasser,1995 The World of Spirits and Ancestors in the Art of Western Sub Saharan Africa illustrates for the first time a collection of African Sculpture at the Museum of Texas Tech University in Lubbock Texas The masks and figurative carvings from the late nineteenth century to the mid twentieth century are from two sources Ambassador and Mrs Julius Walker s gift to ICASALS International Center for Arid and Semiarid Land Studies now on permanent loan to the Museum and the Elliot Howard Collection Howard an artist and authority on antiques chose examples of sculpture for their variety and aesthetic appeal His hope was that the pieces he assembled would provide new discoveries for those unacquainted with the art of Africa and an art experience that would enhance mutual respect among people Fittingly then a context for understanding is the focus of Elizabeth Skidmore Sasser s book As the title suggests The World of Spirits and Ancestors introduces carefully chosen examples of masks and figures as social and spiritual communications imbued with the living history and culture of the various peoples of western sub Saharan Africa Sasser emphasizes that geography and climate ranging from semiarid deserts to tropical rain forests influence not only the art but also the habitations and ceremonial life of the region More than 180 drawings and illustrations reflect the creative genius that continues to meet environmental challenges and to express the distinctive contributions of the cultures and the people of western sub Saharan Africa Art for an Undivided Earth Jessica L. Horton,2017-05-18 In Art for an Undivided

Earth Jessica L Horton reveals how the spatial philosophies underlying the American Indian Movement AIM were refigured by a generation of artists searching for new places to stand Upending the assumption that Jimmie Durham James Luna Kay WalkingStick Robert Houle and others were primarily concerned with identity politics she joins them in remapping the coordinates of a widely shared yet deeply contested modernity that is defined in great part by the colonization of the Americas She follows their installations performances and paintings across the ocean and back in time as they retrace the paths of Native diplomats scholars performers and objects in Europe after 1492 Along the way Horton intervenes in a range of theories about global modernisms Native American sovereignty racial difference archival logic artistic itinerancy and new materialisms Writing in creative dialogue with contemporary artists she builds a picture of a spatially temporally and materially interconnected world an undivided earth Native Moderns Bill Anthes,2006-11-03 This lavishly illustrated art history situates the work of pioneering mid twentieth century Native American artists within the broader canon of American modernism "American Women Artists, 1935-1970 " Helen Langa,2017-07-05 Numerous American women artists built successful professional careers in the mid twentieth century while confronting challenging cultural transitions shifts in stylistic avant gardism harsh political transformations and changing gender expectations for both women and men These social and political upheavals provoked complex intellectual and aesthetic tensions Critical discourses about style and expressive value were also renegotiated while still privileging masculinist concepts of aesthetic authenticity In these contexts women artists developed their careers by adopting innovative approaches to contemporary subjects techniques and media However while a few women working during these decades have gained significant recognition many others are still consigned to historical obscurity The essays in this volume take varied approaches to revising this historical silence Two focus on evidence of gender biases in several exhibitions and contemporary critical writings the rest discuss individual artists complex relationships to mainstream developments with attention to gender and political biases cultural innovations and the influence of racial ethnic diversity Several also explore new interpretative directions to open alternative possibilities for evaluating women s aesthetic and formal choices Through its complex nuanced approach to issues of gender and female agency this volume offers valuable and exciting new scholarship in twentieth century American art history and feminist studies Women, Collecting, and Cultures Beyond Europe Arlene Leis,2022-11-04 This book examines collecting around the world and how women have participated in and formed collections globally The edited volume builds on recent research and offers a wider lens through which to examine and challenge women s collecting histories Spanning from the seventeenth century to the twenty first although not organized chronologically the research herein extends beyond European geographies and across time periods it brings to light new research on how artificialia and naturalia were collected transported exchanged and or displayed beyond Europe Women Collecting and Cultures Beyond Europe considers collections as points of contact that forged transcultural connections and knowledge exchange Some authors focus mainly on collectors and what was collected while others consider taxonomies travel patterns of consumption migration markets and the after life of things In its broad and interdisciplinary approach this book amplifies women s voices and aims to position their collecting practices toward new transcultural directions including women s relation to distinct cultures customs and beliefs as well as exposing the challenges women faced when carving a place for themselves within global networks This study will be of interest to scholars working in collections and collecting conservation museum studies art history women s studies material and visual cultures Indigenous studies textile histories global studies history of science social and cultural histories Talking with the Clay ,1987 Records over 60 interviews with potters describing their own method of creating individual work
