Punch Down Under:

The Transnational Voices of Australia's Migrant and Minority Press Catherine Dewhirst, Richard Scully, 2020-11-13
This edited collection invites the reader to enter the diverse worlds of Australia's migrant and minority communities through the latest research on the contemporary printed press spanning the mid nineteenth century to our current day. With a focus on the rare radical and foreign language print culture of multiple and frequently concurrent minority groups, newspaper ventures, this volume has two overarching aims: firstly to demonstrate how the local experiences and narratives of such communities are always forged and negotiated within a context of globalising forces, the global within the local, and secondly to enrich an understanding of the complexity of Australian voices through this medium, not only as a means for appreciating how the cultural heritage of such communities were sustained but also for exploring their contributions to the wider society.

Concrete Pavement Design, Construction, and Performance Norbert J. Delatte, 2014-05-22
This second edition of Concrete Pavement Design, Construction and Performance provides a solid foundation for pavement engineers seeking relevant and applicable design and construction instruction. It relies on general principles instead of specific ones and incorporates illustrative case studies and prime design examples to highlight the material.

A Portrait of the Artist as Australian Paul Matthew St Pierre, 2004-09-30
A Portrait of the Artist as Australian offers the first critical assessment of Barry Humphries' entire career as a daring postmodern deconstructionist on stage, film, and television, with sixty-seven stage shows, twenty-four film and thirty-four video appearances, thirty-four television series, and seventy-one television appearances, and seventy-two audio recordings, but especially what he calls his second career as author of twenty-nine books. With an oeuvre that includes novels, biographies, autobiographies, editions, compilations, comic books, poetry, dramatic monologues, sketches, film scripts, and several unclassified works, Humphries is a literary and dramatic artist of considerable significance. Arguing that Humphries is one of Australia's greatest writers, Paul Matthew St Pierre reveals a multi-faceted artist whose success is rooted in music halls, Dadaism, and his identity as an Australian.

Concrete Pavement Design, Construction, and Performance Norbert Delatte, 2018-10-08
Addressing the interactions between the different design and construction variables and techniques, this book illustrates best practices for constructing economical, long-life concrete pavements. The book proceeds in much the same way as a pavement construction project: first, different alternatives for concrete pavement solutions are outlined; the desired performance and behaviour parameters are identified; next, appropriate materials are outlined and the most suitable concrete proportions determined; the design can be completed, and then the necessary construction steps for translating the design into a durable facility are carried out. Although the focus reflects highways as the most common application, special features of airport, industrial, and light-duty pavements are also addressed. Use is made of modeling and performance tools such as HIPERPAV and LTPP to illustrate behavior and performance, along with some case studies. As concrete pavements are more complex than they seem, and the costs of mistakes or of over-design can be high, this

Wolcher,2016-06-17 The founding premise of this book is that the nimbus of prestige which once surrounded the idea of justice has now been dimmed to such a degree that it is no longer sufficient to secure the possibility of a good conscience for those who undertake in good faith to make the world a better place in the spheres of politics and law The many decent human beings who have noticed and experienced this diminishment of justice s prestige find themselves in a thoroughly disenchanted existential situation For them the attempt to do justice without the illusion of being grounded in something beyond the sheer facticity of their own performances is a distinctly ethical theme which cries out to be investigated in its own right Heeding the cry this book asks and attempts to answer the following fundamental ethical question is a life in the law even one spent in the pursuit of justice worth living and if so how can a disenchanted person come to bear the living of it without constantly having to engage in self deception If Nietzsche is right that living without illusions is impossible for human beings then the most important ethical implication of this essentially anthropological fact goes far beyond the question of what illusions we ought to choose It must also include the question of whether we should succumb to that most seductive and pernicious of all illusions namely the belief that exercising great care and responsibility in choosing our illusions which we might then call our principles of justice excuses us ethically for what we do to others in their name The culmination of a 10 year legal philosophical project this book will appeal to graduate students scholars and curious non academic intellectuals interested in continental philosophy critical legal theory postmodern theology the philosophy of human rights and the study of individual ethics in the context of law
