Saum,2001-01-01

Eugene Field 1850-95 is perhaps best remembered for his children's verse especially Little Boy Blue and Wynken Blynken and Nod. During his journalistic career however his column Sharps and Flats in the Chicago Daily News illuminated the shenanigans of local and national politics captured the excitement of baseball and praised the cultural scene of Chicago and the West over that of the East Coast and Europe. Field used whimsy, satire and at times unadorned admiration to depict and encapsulate the energy of a young nation reinventing itself and its political ambitions in the closing decades of the nineteenth century. Foremost, Field was a political observer. During his lifetime politics saw more public awareness and involvement than at any other time in American history and Field's great popularity derived mainly from his near ceaseless commentary, arch, outlandish, comic, serious on that arena of affairs. Field also devoted many columns to entertainment and diversions, discussing the baseball idiocy that stormed Chicago and championing and criticizing authors and actors.

The Op-Ed Novel Bécquer Seguí, 2024-01-09. The Op-Ed Novel follows a clutch of globally renowned Spanish novelists who swept into the political sphere via the pages of El País. Their literary sensibility transformed opinion journalism and their weekly columns changed their novels which became venues for speculative historical claims, partisan political projects and intellectual argument.

H.L. Mencken S. T. Joshi, 2009-07-01. Baltimore native Henry Louis Mencken 1880-1956 was an essayist, literary critic, magazine editor, novelist and journalist. Starting as a reporter for the Baltimore Morning Herald at the turn of the century, Mencken eventually became associated with the Baltimore Sun and his work for the newspaper spanned five decades. In H. L. Mencken: An Annotated Bibliography, S. T. Joshi provides the most exhaustive and comprehensive bibliography of the writings of H. L. Mencken ever assembled. It presents detailed information on his book publications from 1903 to the present with a full list of editions and reprints. Most significantly, it presents for the first time a comprehensive annotated listing of his magazine and newspaper work including more than 1,500 anonymous editorials for the Baltimore Sun, Baltimore Evening Sun and other papers which have never been listed in any previous bibliographies, a thorough index to his book reviews and a full list of interviews Mencken gave during his lifetime. Word counts of nearly every item in the bibliography have been supplied and the book has been thoroughly indexed by name, title and periodical. Because every item has been annotated, scholars and students can for the first time gain an idea of the subject matter of all Mencken's writings especially his magazine and newspaper work The indexes will allow users to locate any given item with ease The chronological arrangement of each section allows users to understand the growth and development of Mencken's work making this volume an invaluable resource      Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier, 2012-10-12 This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities various categories of essays such as generic such as sermons aphorisms individual major works notable writers and periodicals that created a market for essays and particularly famous or significant essays The preface details the historical development of the essay and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch nationality era selected writings list additional readings and anthologies      The Language of Journalism Melvin J. Lasky, Hugely enjoyable and valuable I dropped everything else to read it A treasure Charles Wheeler senior foreign correspondent the BBC The newspaper is to the twentieth century what the novel was for the nineteenth century the expression of popular sentiment In the first of a three volume study of journalism and what it has meant as a source of knowledge and as a mechanism for orchestrating mass ideology Melvin J Lasky provides a major overview His research runs the gamut of material found in newspapers from the trivial to the profound from pseudo science to habits of solid investigation The volume is divided into four parts The first attacks deficiencies in grammar and syntax with examples from newspapers and magazines drawn from the German as well as English language press The second examines the key issues of journalism accuracy and authenticity Lasky provides an especially acute account of differences between active literacy and passive viewing or the relationship of word and picture in defining authenticity The third part emphasizes the problem of bias in everything from racial reporting to cultural correctness This is the first systematic attempt to study racial nomenclature identity labeling and literary discrimination Lasky follows closely the model set by George Orwell a half century earlier The final section of the work covers the competition between popular media and the redefinition of pornography and its language The volume closes with an examination of how the popular culture both influenced and was influential upon literary titans like Hemingway Lawrence and Tynan Melvin J Lasky was the editor of Encounter in England from 1958 until its close in 1990 It was viewed as the most brilliant European periodical of its time Lasky served as foreign correspondent for the New York Times and The Reporter and has written for many of the intellectual journals from Partisan Review to Commentary He is the author of The Hungarian Revolution Africa for Beginners Utopia and Revolution On the Barricades and Off and Voices in a Revolution      Princeton Alumni Weekly Jesse Lynch Williams, Edwin Mark Norris, 1990
