The Call of the Homeland Allon Gal, Athena S. Leoussi, Anthony David Smith, 2010 This book brings together an array of distinguished scholars to consider diaspora nationalism Through theoretical typological and case specific essays that discuss the Jewish Greek Armenian Irish Turkish Sikh Ukrainian Hindu Pentecostal and Muslim diasporas the book shows the varieties and qualities of attachment of diaspora communities to their ancestral homelands and the role that hostlands as well as the immigrants play in the form and intensity of these attachments Setting contemporary diaspora nationalisms in the context of globalisation with its ever developing methods of transportation and communication the book further shows the emergence of new concepts of diaspora new notions of being at home and away from home and of new ways of creating and sustaining ethnic networks and contact with the homeland such as the internet and tourism Sharing the Sacred Anna Bigelow, 2010-01-28 Inter religious relations in India are notoriously fraught not infrequently erupting into violence This book looks at a place where the conditions for religious conflict are present but active conflict is absent Bigelow focuses on a Muslim majority Punjab town Malkerkotla where both during the Partition and subsequently there has been no inter religious violence With a minimum of intervention from outside interests Muslims Hindus and Sikhs have successfully managed conflict when it does arise Bigelow explores the complicated history of the region going back to its foundation by a Sufi saint in the fifteenth century Combining archival and interview material she accounts for how the community's idealized identity as a place of peace is realized on the ground through a variety of strategies As a story of peace in a region of conflict this study is an important counterbalance to many conflict studies and a corrective to portrayals of Islamic cultures as militant and intolerant This fascinating town with its rich history will be of interest to students and scholars of Islam South Asia and peace and conflict resolution Social History of Epidemics in the Colonial Punjab Sasha, 2014-08-28 Since the earliest times epidemics have broken out at regular intervals killing a large number of people They have presented peculiar problems both to the state and to the society The colonial India in general and the Punjab in particular were affected intermittently by epidemics The Punjab was one of the worst affected provinces of the colonial India in which several lakhs of people fell prey to the deadly epidemics Punjab was the wheat basket of the British empire and the leading recruitment centre for military service in British Indian army Due to its strategic and military importance the British handled the epidemics with great vigour However in their attempt to contain the epidemic the British impinged on the privacy and religious susceptibilities of the natives The present work discusses the role of the state in handling the epidemics and the response of the society to such measures Sasha The author is currently working as an Assistant Professor at Panjab University Chandigarh She did her doctorate in the faculty of Arts under UGC fellowship from the Panjab University She has to her credit several publications both in international and national journals on the issues of health medicine and society in the colonial period Ritual and Identity Klaus-Peter Köpping, Bernhard Leistle, Michael Rudolph, 2006 To which extent is ritual involved in the formation of collective and personal identities What are the mechanisms that are responsible for the mostly pre reflexive constitution of identity in ritual and equally important what are the strategies employed by social actors to actively influence and enhance these constitutive processes In order to find answers to these essential questions authors refer to case studies from their respective areas of field research such as Japan Morocco Taiwan Korea India and the Azores Kpping is professor of anthropology at the Institute of Ethnology at Heidelberg University and also guest professor at Goldsmith College London His research focusses on popular and folk religious practices in Japan through the lens of performance theories Leistle is a doctoral candidate at the Institute of Ethnology at Heidelberg University In his research focussing on Moroocan trance rituals he concentrates on theories of the phenomenology of perception PUNJAB IN PROSPERITY AND VIOLENCE ,2023

Faith, Gender, and Activism in the Punjab Conflict Mallika Kaur,2020-01-14 Punjab was the arena of one of the first major armed conflicts of post colonial India During its deadliest decade as many as 250 000 people were killed This book makes an urgent intervention in the history of the conflict which to date has been characterized by a fixation on sensational violence or ignored altogether Mallika Kaur unearths the stories of three people who found themselves at the center of Punjab s human rights movement Baljit Kaur who armed herself with a video camera to record essential evidence of the conflict Justice Ajit Singh Bains who became a beloved people s judge and Inderjit Singh Jaijee who returned to Punjab to document abuses even as other elites were fleeing Together they are credited with saving countless lives Braiding oral histories personal snapshots and primary documents recovered from at risk archives Kaur shows that when entire conflicts are marginalized we miss essential stories stories of faith feminist action and the power of citizen activists Punjab
