Misplaced Objects Silvia Spitta,2009-07-01 When things move things change Starting from this deceptively simple premise Silvia Spitta opens a fascinating window onto the profound displacements and transformations that have occurred over the six centuries since material objects and human subjects began circulating between Europe and the Americas This extended reflection on the dynamics of misplacement starts with the European practice of collecting objects from the Americas into Wunderkammern literally cabinets of wonders Stripped of all identifying contexts these exuberant collections including the famous Real Gabinete de Historia Natural de Madrid upset European certainties forcing a reorganization of knowledge that gave rise to scientific inquiry and to the epistemological shift we call modernity In contrast cults such as that of the Virgin of Guadalupe arose out of the reverse migration from Europe to the Americas The ultimate marker of mestizo identity in Mexico the Virgin of Guadalupe is now fast crossing the U S Mexico border and miracles are increasingly being reported Misplaced Objects then concludes with the more intimate and familial collections and recollections of Cuban and Mexican American artists and writers that are contributing to the Latinization of the United States Beautifully illustrated and radically interdisciplinary Misplaced Objects clearly demonstrates that it is not the awed viewer but rather the misplaced object itself that unsettles our certainties allowing new meanings to emerge The Society of Text Edward Barrett,1989 This collection of essays continues Barrett s investigations into implementing networked online systems described in his first book Text ConText and HyperText with a more focused emphasis on specific hypermedia systems In four parts the 22 essays take up designing hypertext and hypermedia systems for the online user textual intervention and collaboration new roles for writers and sensemaking and learning in the online environment In his introduction Barrett analyzes the design of networked online systems as part of a collaborative process asserting that the online environment fosters collaboration by using computer technology to support interaction among those who design use and write software The first five essays present a genealogy of hypertext development assess various hypertext designs discuss users wants and needs and analyze the rhetoric of hypertext applications in light of new models for computer human interaction Seven essays then take up new important online systems for information retrieval document production and training in the online environment Included are a first time full scale analysis of the Athena Muse hypermedia system developed at MIT the hypertext environment Intermedia developed at Brown the University of Maryland s Hyperties and the Educational Online System for document production and training technical writers now in its second year of use at MIT New roles for writers and productivity gains provided by online environments are the subject of the next six essays The final four essays discuss instructional efficiency and the failures of instructional materials Novel proposals are described for addressing the needs and strategies of learners for supporting cooperative work in creating revising and testing a software program for evaluating online help systems and for eliminating ambiguity in online text The Society of Text is included in the Information Systems series edited by Michael Lesk The Unique Legacy of Weird Tales Justin Everett,Jeffrey H.
