Sun Yat-Sen and Three Notable Chinese Characteristics within the Chinese Constitutions David KC Huang, 2019-08-01 Master s Thesis from the year 2009 in the subject Law Public Law Constitutional Law Basic Rights grade Pass Original version Queen Mary University of London course LL M Public Law language English abstract Chinese characteristics has become a term commonly used to explain why China is different from the rest of the world However it has raised the question of whether China really is so different In the field of constitutionalism Sun Yat Sen was the first Chinese politician who embraced Chinese characteristics and constructed the world s first theory of democracy with Chinese characteristics in the early twentieth century His theory thus enlightens us on the question of whether China really is so different Sun Yat Sen s theory of democracy consists of three notable Chinese characteristics the pentapartite separation of powers system direct democracy with an institutional arrangement of representation and the constitutional single party system However all of these Chinese characteristics are rooted in Sun Yat Sen s misunderstanding of Western democracy It is even more troubling that the incompetent amendments made by Sun Yat Sen who was a physician not only failed to democratise China but also produced a permanent dictatorship in China In addition his allegation that China is different from the rest of the world is not substantiated by logic any amendment which is based upon a misunderstanding of the original concept is logically false regardless of who is the originator of the amendment

Nanking Masahiro Yamamoto, 2000-08-30 The December 1937 incident that has come to be known as the Rape of Nanking is without doubt a tragedy that will not soon be forgotten While acknowledging that a tremendous loss of life occurred this study challenges the current prevailing notion that the incident was a deliberate planned effort on the part of the Japanese military and analyzes events to produce an accurate estimate of the scale of the atrocities Drawing on Chinese Japanese and English sources Yamamoto determines that what happened at Nanking were unfortunate atrocities of conventional war with precedents in both Eastern and Western military history He concludes that post war events such as the war crimes trials and the impact of the Holocaust in Europe affected public opinion regarding

Nanking and led to a dramatic reinterpretation of events The Rape of Nanking consisted of two distinct phases the mass execution of prisoners of war as well as conscription age men who appeared to be combatants and the delinquent acts of individual soldiers The first phase which occurred immediately after Nanking's fall and which claimed most of the atrocity victims was the result of the Japanese military's attempt to clear the city of Chinese soldiers thought to be in plain clothes The second phase which lasted approximately six weeks was horrible but resulted in a much smaller number of fatalities It was characterized by numerous criminal acts ranging from rape and murder to arson and theft committed by unrestrained Japanese soldiers The root cause for both phases was the Japanese military's bureaucratic inefficiency and command irresponsibility While both Chinese and American contemporary sources initially attributed the incident to these causes subsequent Japanese atrocities against both military and civilian Allied personnel during World War II and evidence presented at war crimes trials would come to reshape perceptions of the Nanking events as an Asian counterpart to the Nazi Holocaust
