Rise And Fall Of Renaissance France 1483 1610:

The Rise and Fall of Renaissance France, 1483-1610 R J Knecht, 2008 The history of Renaissance France is rich and varied The Renaissance in France as elsewhere in Europe saw glory crowned amidst conflict and squalor At the beginning of the sixteenth century France seemed set to become the most powerful nation of Europe but as the century ebbed so did her fortunes In between during a century of more or less permanent combat which murdered the dreams comforts and relatives of many Frenchmen and saw a soaring economy shot down some of the greatest building painting and thinking to come out of the whole European Renaissance was being done Sixteenth century France was a colourful confusing and often downright fatal habitat and we moderns might profitably look on the complexity of its successes and failures to which Professor Knecht is a matchlessly illuminating and genial guide

The Rise and Fall of Renaissance France Robert J. Knecht, 2002-01-21 Drawing on more than 40 years of research and combining narrative with analysis R J Knecht describes the rise and fall of France in the sixteenth century clearly and authoritatively

Revolutionary France's War of Conquest in the Rhineland Jordan R. Hayworth, 2019-02-06 In May 1790 the French National Assembly renounced wars of conquest Two years later France declared war on Austria and invaded Belgium and the Rhineland claiming it was to spread the benefits of the Revolution Soon however military and economic crises drove a shift in the nature of France's war effort What started as a war for liberty became a war for conquest one that brought devastating exploitation to the Rhineland It was during this time that French foreign policy became influenced by the idea of attaining the natural frontiers the Alps the Pyrenees and most significantly the Rhine Although often portrayed as a diplomatic tradition of the French monarchy Jordan R Hayworth shows how the natural frontiers policy was born during the Revolution In addition he examines the intense and consequential debates that arose over the policy which caused much confusion in the war and helped to undermine France's democratic experiment

Susko,2022-11-10 This work explores the use of a time chart based on generations as a way to understand history A sole reliance on yearly dating tends to obscure the historical reality and deter us from further exploration However patterns are revealed if we number generations and we become intrigued by the connections and hypotheses raised The author uses 15 year intervals to date events and mark when people turn 30 and tend to enter history The 15 year generational interval was first used by the medieval historian Bede and later advocated by Ortega E Gasset a leading Spanish philosopher of the 20th century In brief the phases of history found are 1 A partly invisible beginning phase 0 15 generations 2 An establishment phase at 15 20 generations 3 A consolidating and opening up stage at 30 generations 4 A crisis and creativity phase at 40 generations 5 An empire and inclusionary phase at 50 generations and 6 Renewal or rigidification phase at the 60 generational node Importantly special attention is given to the often neglected 30th generational period in which an openness to beauty and light prevade Interestingly these phases also resonate with the human life cycle The tour of cultures covered includes ancient Egypt Israel Judah Rome and the Medieval Modern Taking us into contemporary times America United States is addressed in a second volume to this work You are invited to go on an intriguing journey in which generational patterning becomes a Rosetta key for understanding history

Aspiration, Representation and Memory Jessica Munns,Penny Richards,Jonathan W. Spangler,2016-03-09 Exploiting the turbulence and strife of sixteenth century France the House of Guise arose from a provincial power base to establish themselves as dominant political players in France and indeed Europe marrying within royal and princely circles and occupying the most important ecclesiastical and military positions Propelled by ambitions derived from their position as cadets of a minor sovereign house they represent a cadre of early modern elites who are difficult to categorise neatly neither fully sovereign princes nor fully subject nobility They might have spent most of their time in one state France but their interests were always trans national contested spaces far from the major centres of monarchical power from the Ardennes to the Italian peninsula were frequent theatres of activity for semi sovereign border families such as the Lorraine Guise This nexus of activity and the interplay between princely status and representation is the subject of this book The essays in this collection approach Guise aims ambitions and self fashioning using this trans national dimension as context their desire for increased royal rather than merely princely power and prestige and the use of representation visual and literary in order to achieve it Guise claims to thrones and territories from Jerusalem to Naples are explored alongside the Guise dream of Italy with in depth studies of Henry of Lorraine fifth Duke of Guise and his attempts in the mid seventeenth century to gain a throne in Naples The combination of the violence and drama of their lives at the centres of European power and their adroit use of publicity ensured that versions of their strongly delineated images were appropriated by chroniclers playwrights and artists in which they sometimes featured as they would have wished as heroes and heroines frequently as villains and ultimately as characters in the narratives of national heritage

Visual Theology of the Huguenots

Randal Carter Working, 2017-02-23 The role of architecture within the French Reformed tradition has been of recent scholarly interest seen in the work of Helene Guicharnaud Catharine Randall Andrew Spicer and others Few however have investigated in depth the relationship between Reformed theology and architectural forms In The Visual Theology of the Huguenots Randal Carter Working explores the roots of Reformed aesthetics set against the background of late medieval church architecture Indicating how demonstrably important the work of Serlio is in the spreading of the ideas of Vitruvius Working explains the influence of classical Roman building on French Reformed architecture He follows this with an examination of five important Huguenot architects Philibert de l'Orme Bernard Palissy Jacques Androuet du Cerceau Salomon de Brosse and Jacques Perret The distinct language of Huguenot architecture is revealed by his comparative analysis of three churches St Pierre in Geneva a medieval church overhauled by the Reformers St Gervais St Protais a Parisian Catholic church whose facade was completed by the French Reformed architect Salomon de Brosse and the temple at Charenton a structure also designed and built by de Brosse These three buildings demonstrate how the contribution of Huguenot architecture gave expression to Reformed theological ideas and helped bring about the renewal of classicism in France

Shakespeare's Foreign Worlds

Carole Levin, John Watkins, 2012-06-15 In Shakespeare's Foreign Worlds Carole Levin and John Watkins focus on the relationship between the London based professional theater preeminently associated with William Shakespeare and an unprecedented European experience of geographic social and intellectual mobility Shakespeare's plays bear the marks of exile and exploration rural depopulation urban expansion and shifting mercantile and diplomatic configurations He fills his plays with characters testing the limits of personal identity foreigners usurpers outcasts outlaws scolds shrews witches mercenaries and cross dressers Through parallel discussions of Henry VI The Taming of the Shrew and The Merchant of Venice Levin and Watkins argue that Shakespeare's centrality to English national consciousness is inseparable from his creation of the foreign as a category asserting dangerous affinities between England's internal minorities and its competitors within an increasingly fraught European mercantile system As a women's historian Levin is particularly interested in Shakespeare's responses to marginalized sectors of English society As a scholar of English Italian Studies and Medieval Studies Watkins situates Shakespeare in the context of broadly European historical movements Together Levin and Watkins narrate the emergence of the foreign as portable category that might be applied both to strangers from other countries and to native born English men and women such as religious dissidents who resisted conformity to an increasingly narrow sense of English identity Shakespeare's Foreign Worlds will appeal to historians literary scholars theater specialists and anyone interested in Shakespeare and the Elizabethan Age

The Sacralization of Space and Behavior in the Early Modern World Jennifer Mara DeSilva, 2016-03-09 In the Early Modern period as both reformed and Catholic churches strove to articulate orthodox belief and conduct through texts sermons rituals and images communities grappled frequently with the connection between sacred space and behavior The Sacralization of Space and Behavior in the Early Modern World explores individual and community involvement in the approbation reconfiguration and regulation of sacred spaces and the behavior both animal and human within them The individual's understanding of sacred space and consequently the behavior appropriate within it depended on local need group dynamics and the dissemination of normative expectations While these expectations were defined in a growing body of confessionalizing literature locally and internationally traditional clerical authorities found their decisions contested circumvented or elaborated in order to make room for other stakeholders activities and needs To clearly reveal the efforts of early modern groups to negotiate authority and the transformation of behavior with sacred space this collection presents examples that allow the deconstruction of these tensions and the exploration of the resulting campaigns within sacred space Based on new archival research the eleven chapters in this collection examine diverse aspects of the campaigns to transform Christian behavior within a variety of types of sacred space and through a spectrum of media These essays give voice to the arguments exhortations and accusations that surrounded the activities taking place in early modern sacred space and reveal much about how people made sense of these transformations

The Emergence of Privateering J.D. Ford, 2023-04-03 Privateering was legal whereas piracy was illegal That much everyone knows But what exactly was privateering Answering this question turns out to depend not so much on the relationship between privateering and piracy as on the relationship between privateering and other forms of maritime raiding that had been considered legal long before the word privateering or the practice it denoted came into existence This book clarifies all these relationships and explains how privateering emerged as a new legal category in the late sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries The subject is approached from a British perspective in the light of developments elsewhere including the movement towards a new understanding of the law regulating relations between nations Buying and Selling Shanti Graheli, 2019-02-11 Buying and Selling explores the many facets of the business of books across and beyond Europe adopting the viewpoints of printers publishers booksellers and readers Essays by twenty five scholars from a range of disciplines seek to reconstruct the dynamics of the trade through a variety of sources Through the combined investigation of printed output documentary evidence provenance research and epistolary networks this volume trails the evolving relationship between readers and the book trade In the resulting picture of failure and success balanced precariously between debt economies sale strategies and uncertain profit customers stand out as the real winners Logomotives Stephen Spiess, Marjorie Rubright, 2025-03-31 Logomotives are words that change worlds past present and future Bearing a wide range of linguistic regional and disciplinary expertise the volume s twenty five contributors traverse multiple geographies Asia Africa Iberian Peninsula Europe and the Americas work across fifteen languages and span from antiquity to our current moment to reveal how words are catalysts of cultural political and epistemological change Harnessing new developments in philologies of race in queer feminist trans transnational and postcolonial philologies as well as translation studies Logomotives illuminates the world making capacity of words Each chapter opens with a methodological statement pursues a central reading and concludes with a lesson plan for undergraduate or graduate classrooms The volume orients critical attention to the relations between what a word means the ways in which it moves and the changes that such motion engenders both within and across the historical cultures under analysis and in present day scholarship
