Mediterranean Security Ian O. Lesser, 1992

This report explores the changing strategic environment in southern Europe and the Mediterranean its effects on the countries of NATO's Southern Region Portugal Spain Italy Greece and Turkey and the implications for U S policy and strategy The Southern Region faces significant security and security related challenges beyond the Cold War The threat from the south is not simply or even primarily a military one many of Europe's security related concerns including the problems of migration and political friction between Islam and the West are felt most keenly in southern Europe New regional arrangements reflect a pattern of activism across the Southern Region relevant to U S interests and policy NATO's southern allies are increasingly willing to contribute to NATO and European rapid response initiatives for contingencies on the European periphery Foreign and security policies across the region except for Turkey are increasingly framed in European terms But the Southern Region countries share a post Cold War interest in the U S presence as an instrument of regional deterrence and political reassurance 125 pp Bibliog

NATO Looks South Ian O. Lesser, 2000 The security environment facing the United States and NATO in Europe is changing in fundamental ways including a steady growth of security challenges emanating from Europe's southern periphery around the Mediterranean and beyond This study explores this phenomenon with special attention to transregional risks Turkey's Alliance role and need for redefinition the risk of a Greek Turkish conflict the Mediterranean dimension of NATO adaptation and what these issues might mean for U S and NATO strategy The author finds that Spain Italy and Turkey will be key to supporting expeditionary operations in the south military to military ties will require new efforts a portfolio approach to access arrangements can provide a hedge against uncertainties about coalition behavior in crises bilateral air power activities in the south should have increased NATO content and Greek Turkish risk reduction is an imperative Areas for future research include lessons of Kosovo for basing and access the role of air power based in Turkey and potential USAF contributions to Greek Turkish risk reduction Arab Spring Challenges for Democracy and Security in the Mediterranean Patricia Bauer, 2016-01-22 This volume presents essential aspects of Mediterranean politics to be reconsidered in the light of the Arab upheavals since 2010 The focal point of the book is the question in how far European Mediterranean relations are challenged by the various developments It explores the relationship between security and democracy within the Arab countries and in European Mediterranean relations The ambiguity between the promotion of democratic values and the preservation of common interests in cooperation in economic and security affairs is stirred up by changing political actors and new conflictual constellations inside the Arab countries All these changes evoke new challenges for all areas of the European Mediterranean cooperation Thus the volume assembles contributions from different angles on the re formulation of the European Neighbourhood Policy as well as the Democracy Assistance towards the Southern Mediterranean It discusses the major security issues of a cooperative security architecture counter terrorism action migration control and security sector reform in order to explore the relevant challenges in the field The contributions analyse the recent developments and challenges provide critical insights into those fields and endeavour to provide some proposals for improving Mediterranean cooperation on democracy and security This book was published as a special issue of Democracy and Security Proceedings [of The] Assembly Western European Union, 1996 The Atlantic Alliance and Western Security H. F. Zeiner-Gundersen, Sergio A. Rossi, Marcel Duval, Donald Charles Daniel, Gael D. Tarleton, Milan N. Vego, 1987 The Atlantic Alliance and Western Security, 1986 Germany and the Middle East H. Goren, 2003 The articles deal with diverse aspects of the changing complex and charged relationships of Germany with the Middle East in general and with certain of its states in particular since the 1830s until the end of the 20th century NATO Review, 1996 NATO Review North Atlantic Treaty Organization.
