Seductive Surrender:

Seduction, Surrender, and Transformation Karen J. Maroda, 2013-06-17 Seduction Surrender and Transformation demonstrates how interpersonal psychoanalysis obliges analysts to engage their patients with genuine emotional responsiveness so that not only the patient but the analyst too is open to ongoing transformation through the analytic experience. In so doing the analyst moves from the position of an interpreting observer to that of an active participant and facilitator whose affective communications enable the patient to acquire basic self trust along with self knowledge. Drawing on the current literature on affect Maroda argues that psychological change occurs through affect laden interpersonal processes. Given that most patients in psychotherapy have problems with affect management the completing of cycles of affective communication between therapist and patient becomes a vitally important aspect of the therapeutic enterprise. Through emotionally open responses to their patients and careful use of patient prompted self disclosures analysts can facilitate affect regulation responsibly and constructively with the emphasis always remaining on the patient's experience. Moments of mutual surrender the honest emotional giving over of patient to analyst and analyst to patient epitomize the emotionally intense interpersonal experiences that lead to enduring intrapsychic change. Maroda's work is profoundly personal. She does not hesitate to share with the reader how her own personality affects her thinking and her work. Indeed she believes her theoretical and clinical preferences are emblematic of the way in which the analyst's subjectivity necessarily shapes theory choice and practice preferences in general. Seduction Surrender and Transformation is not only a powerful brief for emotional honesty in the analytic relationship but also a model of the personal openness that according to Maroda psychoanalysis demands of all its practitioners.

Well other women might simmer over his brooding good looks but not Zoe. Who was she trying to fool. Connel had the monopoly on sex appeal and Zoe couldn't deny their attraction to one another no matter how hard she tried. She couldn't handle this man in her life her feelings were too intense. But Connel always got what he wanted and this time he was asking for Zoe's passionate surrender.

collaborations with Elvis Costello Lyle Lovett and Chicago The Philosophy of Literary Amateurism Naomi Lebowitz, 1994

In this coherent intense study Naomi Lebowitz defines and explores what she calls the philosophy of literary amateurism With expert readings of the works of major international writers of the Western tradition Lebowitz passionately argues that all great writing is guided by a moral complexity and richness Lebowitz defines literary amateurism as an attitude of anti professionalism that allows a writer to explore and represent experience with complexity and moral fluidity Citing Montaigne as the father of this philosophy Lebowitz explores the work of such followers of Montaigne as Emerson Balzac Dickens Henry James Conrad William James Santayana Wallace Stevens Virginia Woolf and Italo Svevo comparing their work to that of more self consciously professional writers like Flaubert Taine Rousseau and Proust In a hyper professional age of criticism marked by formulaic and political dictation and syntax Lebowitz tries to recover the amateur perspective naturally carried by great literature s form and play The Philosophy of Literary Amateurism makes a lasting contribution to the recovery of more generous relations between life and literature Gender, Race, and Mourning in American Modernism Greg Forter, 2011-04-14

American modernist writers engagement with changing ideas of gender and race often took the form of a struggle against increasingly inflexible categories Greg Forter interprets modernism as an effort to mourn a form of white manhood that fused the masculine with the feminine He argues that modernists were engaged in a poignant yet deeply conflicted effort to hold on to socially feminine and racially marked aspects of identity qualities that the new social order encouraged them to disparage Examining works by F Scott Fitzgerald Ernest Hemingway William Faulkner and Willa Cather Forter shows how these writers shared an ambivalence toward the feminine and an unease over existing racial categories that made it difficult for them to work through the loss of the masculinity they mourned Gender Race and Mourning in American Modernism offers a bold reading of canonical modernism in the United States Passion and Plunder Collette Cameron®, 2023-02-18
