its exposure and criticism of the politicization of film preservation in recent years and the rising bureaucracy which has often lost sight of preservation and restoration as the ultimate purpose of film archives For No Reason at All Jeffrey A. Hinkelman, 2022-02-04 The years following the signing of the Armistice saw a transformation of traditional attitudes regarding military conflict as America attempted to digest the enormity and futility of the First World War During these years popular film culture in the United States created new ways of addressing the impact of the war on both individuals and society Filmmakers with direct experience of combat created works that promoted their own ideas about the depiction of wartime service ideas that frequently conflicted with established heroic tropes for the portrayal of warfare on film Those filmmakers spent years modifying existing standards and working through a variety of storytelling options before achieving a consensus regarding the fitting method for rendering war on screen That consensus incorporated facets of the experience of Great War veterans and these countered and undermined previously accepted narrative strategies This process reached its peak during the Pre Code Era of the early 1930s when the initially prevailing narrative would be briefly supplanted by an entirely new approach that questioned the very premises of wartime service Even more significantly the rhetoric of these films argued strongly for an antiwar stance that questioned every aspect of the wartime experience For No Reason at All The Changing Narrative of the First World War in American Film discusses a variety of Great War themed films made from 1915 to the present tracing the changing approaches to the conflict over time Individual chapters focus on movie antecedents animated films and comedies the influence of literary precursors the African American film industry women centered films and the effect of the Second World War on depictions of the First Films discussed include Hearts of the World The Cradle of Courage Birthright The Big Parade She Goes to War Doughboys Young Eagles The Last Flight Broken Lullaby Lafayette Escadrille and Wonder Woman among many others Selected Radio and Television Criticism Anthony Slide, 1987 Included here are critical comments on radio programs and personalities from the late 1920s through the late 40s and television shows and celebrities from the late 40s through the late 50s A unique sourcebook for documentation on Fred Allen Jack Benny Milton Berle Father Coughlin Edward R Murrow and many others Film Review Index Julia Johnson, 1986 The Wiley-Blackwell History of American Film, 4 Volume Set Cynthia Lucia, Roy Grundmann, Art Simon, 2011-12-12 Comprising over 90 essays and richly illustrated with over 200 images the Wiley Blackwell History of American Film provides a chronological portrait of American film history from its origins to the present day Taken as a whole the essays in this collection represent a comprehensive and nuanced overview of American film history from the intersecting perspectives of industry audiences aesthetics culture politics issues and ideology Unabashedly ambitious deeply historical and unprecedented in its multi faceted examination of film history this collection offers you Over 90 original essays written by an international cast of film scholars Discussions of the industrial and institutional components of film history including multiple modes of production distribution and marketing Investigations into the political social and economic factors that informed
