Selected & New Poems, 1961-1981 Jim Harrison, 1989 This collection marked Jim Harrison's return to the world of poetry after a seven year hiatus Spanning the entirety of Harrison's long productive career these poems begin with Plain song his first volume of poetry and end with a sampling of some of his most recent verse As with his prose Harrison's poetry is informed by his distinctive blend of courage intelligence and wit Avoiding both academic formalism and the vogue of hygienic confessions these poems speak from the heart with a power that derives from keen observation and a prodigious command of the language Selected and New Poems Jim Harrison, 1982-08 Home Remedies David B. Conversations with Jim Harrison, Revised and Updated Robert DeMott, 2018-12-18 Conversations with Jim Harrison Revised and Updated offers a judicious selection of interviews spanning the writing career of Jim Harrison 1937 2016 from its beginnings in the 1960s to the last interview he gave weeks before his death in March 2016 Harrison labeled himself and lived as a quadra schizoid writer He worked in fiction poetry nonfiction and screenwriting and he published more than forty books that attracted an international following These interviews supply a lively narrative of his progress as a major contemporary American author This collection showcases Harrison's pet peeves his candor and humility his sense of humor and his patience He does not shy from his authorial obsessions especially his efforts to hone the novella for which he is considered a contemporary master or the frequency with which he defied polite narrative conventions and created memorable resolute female characters Each conversation attests to the depth and range of Harrison's considerable intellectual and political preoccupations his fierce social and ecological conscience his aesthetic beliefs and his stylistic orientations in poetry and prose Letters to Yesenin Jim Harrison, 2013-05-04 The way Harrison has embedded his entire vision of our predicament implicitly in the particulars of two poetic lives his own and Yesenin's is what makes the poem not only his best but one of the best in the past twenty five years of American writing Hayden Carruth Sulfur Harrison inhabits the problems of our age as if they were beasts into which he had crawled and Letters to Yesenin is a kind of imaginative taxidermy that refuses to stay in place up on the trophy room wall but insists on walking into the dining room The American Poetry Review Jim Harrison's gorgeous desperate and harrowing correspondence with Sergei Yesenin a Russian poet who committed suicide after writing his final poem in his own blood is considered an American masterwork In the early 1970s Harrison was living in poverty on a hardscrabble farm suffering from depression and suicidal tendencies In response he began to write daily prose poem letters to Yesenin Through this one sided correspondence Harrison unloads to this unlikely hero ranting and raving about politics drinking problems family concerns farm life and a full range of daily occurrences The rope remains ever present Yet sometime through these letters there is a significant shift Rather than feeling inextricably linked to Yesenin's inevitable path Harrison becomes furious arguing about their imagined relationship I'm beginning to doubt whether we ever would have been friends In the end Harrison listened to his own poems My year old daughter's red

music and visual art of the post 1960 period within a planetary framework By bringing the culture of Australia and New Zealand into dialogue with other Western narratives it suggests how an antipodean impulse involving the transposition of the world into different spatial and temporal dimensions has long been an integral if generally occluded aspect of postmodernism Taking its title from a Florentine clock designed in 1510 to measure worldly time alongside the rotation of the planets The Planetary Clock ranges across well known American postmodernists John Barth Toni Morrison to more recent science fiction writers Octavia Butler Richard Powers while bringing the US tradition into juxtaposition with both its English Philip Larkin Ian McEwan and Australian Les Murray Alexis Wright counterparts By aligning cultural postmodernism with music Messiaen Ligeti Birtwistle the visual arts Hockney Blackman Fiona Hall and cinema Rohmer Haneke Tarantino this volume enlarges our understanding of global postmodernism for the twenty first century Acts of Mind Richard Jackson, 1984-05-30 There have been any number of books of interviews with contemporary writers but none precisely like this one The author editor has somehow managed to get these very different poets to follow his lead and in many cases for the first time anywhere to reveal much about their intellectual habits assumptions and preconceptions In almost every case he has been able to get these poets to talk more openly and freely than anyone else has ever done George Garrett International Who's Who of Authors and Writers 2004 Europa Publications, 2003 Accurate and reliable biographical information essential to anyone interested in the world of literature The International Who's Who of Authors and Writers offers invaluable information on the personalities and organizations of the literary world including many up and coming writers as well as established names With over 8 000 entries this updated edition features Concise biographical information on novelists authors playwrights columnists journalists editors and critics Biographical details of established writers as well as those who have recently risen to prominence Entries detailing career works published literary awards and prizes membership and contact addresses where available An extensive listing of major international literary awards and prizes and winners of those prizes A directory of major literary organizations and literary agents A listing of members of the American Academy of Arts and Letters
