Settlers Poems:

Settlers Dabney Stuart, 1999-09-01 Settlers Dabney Stuart's thirteenth collection of poems is a passionate and innovative commentary on exploration and discovery. As the title suggests, the major themes of this work include beginnings in disparate but related areas: the historical, physical, geologic, familial, and psychological. Stuart embeds these rather large considerations in details ranging from tectonic plates and glaciers to the pterodactyl and the observations of a grasshopper. Family ancestors appear as well as writers from earlier centuries. In the effective The Tapawera Raspberry Festival, Stuart deftly combines predation, ritual, celebration, competition, and joy in a festival set on the South Island of New Zealand. Settlers' theological implications become explicit in the final section through the title poem and more extensively in the long section entitled God. In this thoughtful sequence, Stuart struggles to understand God's mystifying absence and presence. Simultaneously, bewildered, curious, distressed, and delighted, these profoundly reflective poems achieve an understanding of God as a name for everything. Timethriving, Stuart's love of language and playfulness, as well as his affection for his subjects and their mysteries, are part of the fabric of these poems. The affirmation of life in all its rich and various inception shines through every line of this exceptional work.

Settler Education Laurie D. Graham, 2016-03-22 A tone-perfect elegiac meditation on the impossibility of engaging with painful history and the necessity of doing so. Margaret Atwood Thomas Morton Memorial Prize for Poetry. In the stunning poems of Settler Education, Laurie D. Graham vividly explores the Plains Cree uprising at Frog Lake, the death of nine settlers, the hanging of six Cree warriors, the imprisonment of Big Bear, and the opening of the Prairies to unfettered settlement. In ways possible only with such an honest act of imagination and with language at once terse and capacious, Settler Education reckons with how these pasts repeat and reconstitute themselves in the present.

Settlers in Australia: a prize poem, recited in the Theatre, Oxford; June 24, 1846 George Osborne MORGAN (Right Hon. Sir), 1846. The White Spaces of Kenyan Settler Writing Terrence L. Craig, 2017-03-27 The White Spaces of Kenyan Settler Writing provides an overview of Kenyan literature by white writers in the half century before Independence in 1964. Such literature has been overshadowed by that of black writers to the point of critical ostracism. It deserves attention for its own sake as the expression of a community that hoped for permanence but suffered both disappointment and dispossession. It deserves attention for its articulation of an increasingly desperate colonial and Imperial situation at a time when both were being attacked and abandoned in Africa, as in other colonies elsewhere, and when a counter-discourse was being constructed by writers in Britain as well as in Africa. Kenya was likely the best-known twentieth-century colony for it attracted publicity for its iconic safaris and its Happy Valley scandals. Yet behind such scenes were settlers who had taken over lands from the native peoples and who were trying to make a future for themselves based on the labour willing or forced of those people. This situation can be seen as a microcosm of one colonial exercise and can illuminate the historical tensions of such times. The bibliography is an attempt to collect the literary resources of white Kenya in this historically significant period.

Settlers F. Daniel Rzicznek, 2018-10-10 Transversing the territory between the pastoral and the elegiac F Daniel Rzicznek s Settlers inhabits the hidden wild places of the American Midwestern landscape The idea of settling that a landscape can be tamed that a human consciousness can fall back into immobility is one these poems grapple with and resist all the while charting the cathartic effects of the natural world on a collective imagination dually wounded by the madness of the post industrial era and the multiplication of tragedy via media saturation Within the settled landscape it becomes clear that nothing in fact can be settled Love compassion forgiveness and transcendence all turn out to be moving targets and Settlers offers glimpse after glimpse of an unstable world in whirling mesmerizing motion Where the exterior landscape of weather light and water skirts the interior wilderness of dream vision and prayer these poems go out walking with their feet in the marsh and their hats in the infinite clouds hoping to find what exactly it means to be human in a world imperiled by humans and the all the fascinating and frustrating complexities contained therein Nabati Poetry Saad Abdullah
