desert to Tibet and freedom A Long Walk South Bradley Herrick, 2024-05-18 There's something to be said about being average. It's not a bad thing but it isn't necessarily great either. After growing up in suburban New England following the social norms and reluctantly falling into the average category in just about everything, Brad Herrick wasn't quite ready to take on the average adult lifestyle yet. With the light shining bright at the end of the college tunnel, Brad finds himself with the opportunity of a lifetime after he made a joke comment to his dad: a chance to hike the infamous Appalachian Trail. The conversation went something like this: Brad, I don't want to grow up yet. I'll just go and hike the Appalachian Trail. Dad: Okay. Do it, Brad. Wait, what? Follow Brad as he tries to conquer the extraordinary as he walks almost 2,200 miles from Katahdin in Maine through fourteen states to Springer Mountain in Georgia. As his average life slowly takes a back seat, it's gradually replaced with exciting, funny, and ridiculous adventures both on and off the trail with friends old and new. It's a trail of discovery as Brad finds perseverance, adventure, an expanded world view, a love of food, and reading the proper use of diaper rash cream and the journey out of the average category.

A Long Walk South Sean Rothery, 2014-04-08 Patronising advice by a doctor at a retirement course to walk a couple of miles a day challenges architect Sean Rothery to take a proper walk, and so at the age of sixty-five he sets out to walk the GR5, the Grande Randonnée Cinq From the steely grey North Sea to the intense blue Mediterranean, Sean's 2,300km long route follows a network of old trails, forest paths, canal banks, Alpine valleys, and passes. Along the way, he recounts some of his youthful enterprises, including cycling from Dieppe to Rome in the ruins of post-war Europe and a climbing accident in 1967 that saw him challenge another doctor's prognosis. Ghosts of the past are revisited most poignantly in the Alps where two friends died in climbing accidents but also alongside the ruins of First World War trenches. Sketchbook in hand, Sean savours the landscape, history, and culture as he passes from one country to another. Every day he looks out for the distinctive red and white waymarks of the GR5, not an easy task, especially when change in the name of progress has cleared swathes of trails. This enthralling diary of a long walk south will have the reader urging the author on to the last step of the way.
