simultaneous research difficult while a close exchange between the two disciplines would undoubtedly be desirable not least because of the complementary approach to their object of study This book From Narratology to Computational Story Composition and Back describes an exploratory study in generative modeling a research methodology proposed to address the methodological differences between the two disciplines and allow for simultaneous NT and CSC research It demonstrates how implementing narratological theories as computational generative models can lead to insights for NT and how grounding computational representations of narrative in NT can help CSC systems to take over creative responsibilities It is the interplay of these two strands that underscores the feasibility and utility of generative modeling The book is divided into 6 chapters an introduction followed by chapters on plot fictional characters plot quality estimation and computational creativity wrapped up by a conclusion The book will be of interest to all those working in the fields of narrative theory and computational creativity
