Literature and the Nation Brook Thomas, 1998      Star Authors Joe Moran, 2000-02-20 In America authors are as likely to be seen on television talk shows or magazine covers as in the more traditional settings of literary festivals or book signings Is this literary celebrity just another result of dumbing down Yet another example of the mass media turning everything into entertainment Or is it a much more unstable complex phenomenon And what does the American experience tell us about the future of British literary celebrity In Star Authors Joe Moran shows how publishers the media and authors themselves create and disseminate literary celebrity He looks at such famous contemporary authors as Toni Morrison J D Salinger Thomas Pynchon Don DeLillo John Updike Philip Roth Kathy Acker Nicholson Baker Paul Auster and Jay McInerney Through an examination of their own work biographical information media representations and promotional material Moran illustrates the nature of modern literary celebrity He argues that authors actively negotiate their own celebrity rather than simply having it imposed upon them from reclusive authors such as Salinger and Pynchon famed for their very lack of public engagement to media friendly authors such as Updike and McInerney Star Authors analyses literary celebrity in the context of the historical links between literature advertising and publicity in America the economics of literary production and the cultural capital involved in the marketing and consumption of books and authors Media in a Globalized Society Stig Hjarvard, 2003 Enth A mediated world the globalization of society and the role of media Stig Hjarvard Globalisation Americanisation and politicisation of media research Daniel Biltereyst Globalization and national identity in Danish television the return of the nation Henrik S ndergaard Global genre and the complexity of proximity Hanne Bruun Globalisation and localisation TV coverage of the Olympic Games in Sydney 2000 Kirsten Frandsen Beyond imagined community Transnational media and Turkish migrants in Europe Kevin Robins Miss World going Deshi addressing an Indian television audience with a global media product Norbert Wildermuth Communicating models the relevance of models for research on the worlds of the internet

America Through a British Lens James D. Stone, 2017-10-20 As the British watched their empire crumble and the United States became the dominant world power many British films warned of the dangers posed by American culture Americans were frequently portrayed as disconcertingly ambitious reckless and irreverent Yet the same films that depicted the U S as an agent of chaos also suggested Britons might do well to embrace American style energy and egalitarianism Movies like Love Actually The Quatermass Xperiment 28 Weeks Later Local Hero and Alfred Hitchcock s Secret Agent have delved into the storied special relationship between the U S and U K These films and many more examined in this first book length study of British movies about America reveal much about British attitudes regarding power gender class sexuality and emotion recent years popular action cinema remains neglected within contemporary film criticism Spectacular Bodies unravels the complexities and pleasures of a genre often dismissed as obvious in both its pleasure and its politics arguing that these controversial films should be analysed and understood within a cinematic as well as a political context Yvonne Tasker argues that today's action cinema not only responds to the shifts in gendered sexual and racial identities which took place during the 1980s but reflects the influences of other media such as the new video culture Her detailed discussion of the homoeroticism surrounding the muscleman hero the symbolic centrality of blackness within the crime narrative and the changing status of women within the genre addresses the constitution of these identities through the shifting categories of gender class race sex sexuality and nation Spectacular Bodies also examines the ambivalence of supposedly secure categories of popular cinema questioning the existing terms of film criticism in this area and addressing the complex pleasures of this neglected form imaginary America in suburban Britain that was promoted by the popularity of American movies music and fiction providing a pastiche of the American country club While much work has been done on the Soho nightclubs of the 1930s the roadhouse has been largely ignored Michael John Law and David Gutzke fill this gap in the literature by providing a comprehensive analysis of the roadhouse s cultural meaning demonstrating how its Americanisation was interpreted for British consumers This original and engaging study will be fascinating reading for all scholars of 20th century British cultural history
