J. E. Lloyd and the Creation of Welsh History Huw Pryce, 2011-05-15 This is the first intellectual biography of John Edward Lloyd 1861-1947 widely regarded as the founder of the modern academic study of Welsh history Indeed the compliment that pleased him most was that he had created Welsh history Published to mark the centenary of Lloyd's most important book A History of Wales from the Earliest Times to the Edwardian Conquest 1911 the study reassesses Lloyd's significance by setting his work in its multiple contexts Part One gives an account of his life with particular emphasis on his upbringing education and subsequent career as a historian viewed against the background both of efforts to give expression to Welsh nationhood through educational institutions and of wider developments in the professionalization of historical scholarship In Part Two the focus shifts from the biographical to the thematic and examines why Lloyd privileged the early and medieval Welsh past and how he depicted this in his 1911 History These chapters investigate key themes in Lloyd's interpretation with reference not only to previous accounts of Welsh history but also to the broader intellectual and scholarly context of his own time Through its reappraisal of Lloyd the book provides a case study of how the past of a small stateless nation was reconfigured at a time of self-conscious national revival through deploying modern canons of scholarship that served to legitimize a new narrative of national origins It thus offers a fresh and distinctive perspective on issues of broad significance in modern European historiography and intellectual history      The Heroines of Welsh History Thomas Jeffery Llewelyn Prichard, 1854      Narrative Projections of a Black British History Eva Ulrike Pirker, 2012-03-29 This book analyses narratives that center on construct or comment on black British history Outlining the emergence of black history in Britain and shifts in the politics of history it principally focuses on recent narratives that engage critically with the historical culture surrounding black Britain      Language, Ethnicity, and Education in Wales Bud B. Looking at Welsh History: From the earliest times to the Middle Ages Arthur James Roderick,1968 A History of Independent Television in Wales

Jamie Medhurst,2010-07-01 Despite the growing body of work on the media in Wales very little exists on the history of commercial television in Wales This book seeks to address this imbalance by tracing the growth and development of ITV in Wales and assessing its contribution to the life of the nation ITV has been a powerful force in British broadcasting since its inception in 1955 When commercial television came to Wales for the first time in 1958 it immediately got caught up in with matters of national identity language and geography Compared with the BBC it is a relative newcomer its growth was slower than that of the BBC and it took until 1962 to complete the network across the UK Once it had arrived however its impact was considerable The book will provide an historical narrative and critical analysis of independent television ITV in Wales from 1958 up until the present day

Leaves from the History of Welsh Nonconformity in the Seventeenth Century Richard Davies,1899

Writing a Small Nation's Past Neil Evans,2016-02-17 This is the first volume to examine how the history of Wales was written in a period that saw the emergence of professional historiography largely focused on the nation across Europe and in the United States It thus sets Wales in the context of recent work on national history writing in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and more particularly offers a Welsh perspective on the ways in which history was written in small mainly stateless nations The comparative dimension is fundamental to the volume s aim highlighting what was distinctive about Welsh historical writing and showing how the Welsh experience mirrors and illuminates broader historiographical developments The book begins with an introduction that uses the concept of historical culture as a way of exploring the different strands of historiography covered in the collection providing orientation to the chapters that follow These are divided into four sections Contexts and Backgrounds Amateurs and Popularizers Creating Academic Disciplines and Comparative Perspectives All these themes are then drawn together in the conclusion to examine how far Welsh historians exemplify widespread trends in the writing of national history and thereby point up common themes that emerge from the volume and clarify its broader significance for students of historiography
