Making It Crazy An Ethnography Of Psychiatric Clients In An American Community:

Making it Crazy Sue E. Estroff, 1981      Making It Crazy Sue E. Estroff, 1985-06-06 Estroff describes a group of chronic psychiatric clients as they attempt life outside a mental hospital      Making it Crazy Sue E. Estroff, 1985      A Book About Books, Volume III of III E. H. Bernstein, 2024-11-13 This book is Volume III of a three volume book plus accompanying website www.bookaboutbooks.com which adds to subjects already in the book or presents some books and subjects not contained in the books The other volumes are available from the same booksellers as this volume A Book about Books discusses what nonfiction books and subjects the author believes are important to know about This book tries to point to problems in how we live and to see if books have any answers Even though the books are complete the author will update the website periodically in the future E H Bernstein is a former librarian turned author The subtitle of the book describes the author's objective A handbook in three volumes to a choice of essential books writers and subjects in order to understand the world we live in about big questions and possible answers about books and writers that may improve people's lives about neglected writers and other books and subjects A Book about Books attempts to share what the author has learned from nearly 50 years of nonfiction reading and to provide the reader with samples of the most important authors and subjects from that reading While the book is based on research it is intended to be a handbook or guide by trying to make that research understandable to the general reader and to students and for teachers by pointing to what the author believes is missing from today's education A curriculum proposal for college teachers is on the author's website Note about how the volumes are related each chapter is on a separate subject So the chapters can be read individually but the full message requires reading all the volumes Volume I is important but preliminary to the more important Volumes II and III Note also that the book is not just about books since other sources are also mentioned The author believes we should listen to many voices so the book draws on many types of writers from different times and countries The author says A contemporary writer once said that one of the purposes of writing is that books should be useful I hope that my book will be of use      Collaborative Ethnographic Working in Mental Health Neil Armstrong, 2023-12-07 Collaborative Ethnographic Working in Mental Health seeks to chart a new direction for research into mental healthcare with the aim of creating the conditions for more productive interdisciplinary dialogue People involved in mental health often fail to recognise how they are described by researchers from the humanities and social sciences which inhibits productive collaboration This book seeks to address this problem by including clinicians and patients in the research process and by shifting attention away from power and knowledge and towards the organisational context It explores how clinical thinking and behaviour illness experience and clinical relationships are all shaped by the bureaucratic context In particular it examines tensions between what we want from mental healthcare and how accountable bureaucracies actually work and proposes that mental healthcare research should not just evaluate new interventions but should investigate new ways of organising This book is written with a non specialist audience in mind as it is intended for all with a stake in mental healthcare research and practice It is also for those with an interest in ethnographic methods as a novel way of deploying ethnography autoethnography and coproduced ethnography to address clinically important research topics Madness, Bureaucracy and Gender in Mumbai, India Annika Strauss,2023-09-15 Regional mental hospitals in India are perceived as colonial artefacts in need of reformation In the last two decades there has been discussion around the maltreatment of patients corruption and poor quality of mental health treatment in these institutions This ethnography scrutinizes the management of madness in one of these asylum like institutions in the context of national change and the global mental health movement The author explores the assembling and impact of psychiatric bureaucratic gendered and queer narratives in and around the hospital Finally the author attempts to reconcile social anthropology and psychiatry by scrutinising their divergent approaches towards mad narratives A Working Life for People with Severe Mental Illness Deborah R. Becker,Robert E. Drake,2003-06-12 Supported employment is a conceptual approach to vocational rehabilitation designed for people with developmental disabilities The Individual Placement and Support IPS method described within utilizes the concept but modifies it for the severely mentally ill Behavioral Sciences Research in Mental Health ,1983 Understanding Psychosis Donald Capps,2010-11-16 When a loved one is struck with psychosis people often misunderstand what is happening and why They may feel helpless or confused or frightened not knowing what to do with or for the sufferer or how to handle the situation themselves This book takes a look at psychosis and how it has been handled over the last century or so Beginning with a definition of psychosis and moving to a consideration of how people who suffer from it were once institutionalized and are now expected to be cared for at home the author traces the challenges families and communities face considers the plight of sufferers and what they experience and offers case examples throughout to illustrate the onset of psychosis the infringement it makes on personal and professional life and the toll it takes on sufferers and caregivers alike Capps covers the magnitude of the problem the treatment of sufferers the warning signs facts and realities of recovery treatments prevention and coping strategies for family members and caregivers Readers will come away from this work with a better understanding of psychosis in the context in which it occurs and what to do for themselves and their loved one as they navigate daily life the mental health system and family dynamics Law & Mental Health Saleem Alam Shah,Bruce Dennis Sales,1991 Metatheory in Social Science Donald Winslow Fiske,Richard A. Shweder,1986-03-15 What is the nature of the social sciences What kinds of knowledge can they and should they hope to create Are objective viewpoints possible and can universal laws be discovered Questions like these have been asked with increasing urgency in recent years as some philosophers and researchers have perceived a crisis in the social sciences Metatheory in Social Science offers many provocative arguments and analyses of basic conceptual frameworks for the study of human behavior These are offered primarily by practicing researchers and are related to problems in disciplines as diverse as sociology psychology psychiatry anthropology and philosophy of science While various points of view are expressed in these nineteen essays they have in common several themes including the comparison of social and natural science the role of knowledge in meeting the demands of society and its pressing problems and the nature and role of subjectivity in science Some authors hold that subjectivity cannot be studied scientifically others argue that it can and must be if progress in knowledge is to be made The essays demonstrate the philosophical pluralism they discuss and give a wide range of alternative positions on the future of the social and behavioral sciences in a postpositivist intellectual world

Family Experiences with Mental Illness Gail Gamache, Richard Tessler, 2000-03-30 Tessler and Gamache provide substantial research on the impact of mental illness on the family through interviews conducted with hundreds of family members between 1989 and 1997 According to the authors how families experience the mental illness of a relative depends on many social factors including how public mental health services are organized and financed and whether families feel judged or supported by professionals Most family members experience a range of emotions toward one another ranging from warmth and gratification to anger and rejection Tessler and Gamache detail the family experience with mental illness in terms of both negative and positive feelings They take a holistic approach to the family experience and present a variety of family responses and dilemmas The family members whose stories are told are diverse in respect to race gender age and relationship and the demographic clinical characteristics of their relatives with mental illness Tessler and Gamache find that the amount of burden that family members experience depends in part on which dimension of burden is being addressed When burden is defined as assistance in daily living it is less than what was thought On the other hand the subjective burden associated with supervision and control is substantial Family role and residence contribute to most dimensions of burden For example a mother living with an adult son with schizophrenia will experience mental illness differently than the brother who has moved out of the family home and moved to another state In both studies a major finding involved lower than expected expenditures by family members for medication and mental health treatment in both studies Most expenditures were focused instead on personal or survival needs which for a sub sample of family members involves considerable expenditures This work is an important research finding for scholars students and professionals involved with social work public health and public mental health policy

Qualitative Research in Health Care Immy Holloway, 2005-06-16 This book is a comprehensive guide to selecting approaches and carrying out qualitative research Rather than being prescriptive it provides information on various data collection procedures and how to make decisions about specific qualitative approaches Its aim is to extend researchers understanding of the participants in research be they patients peers or students and to improve clinical practice on the basis of evidence from qualitative studies Each chapter is illustrated with examples of research projects Topics discussed include The nature of qualitative research The selection of a specific qualitative research approach The collection and analysis of qualitative data Writing up qualitative research Written by contributors who are academics and or practitioners from a variety of health professions and disciplines Qualitative

Research in Health Care is key reading for all health professionals academic and clinical who are involved in research work as well as advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students in health studies Contributors Mark Avis Rosalind Bluff Dawn Freshwater Kathleen Galvin Immy Holloway Ron Iphofen Jenny Kitzinger Debbie Kralik John Larsen Frances Rapport Siobhan Sharkey Andrew Sparkes Clare Taylor Les Todres Stephen Wallace      Everyday Ethics Paul Brodwin, 2013-01-01 This book explores the moral lives of mental health clinicians serving the most marginalized individuals in the US healthcare system Drawing on years of fieldwork in a community psychiatry outreach team Brodwin traces the ethical dilemmas and everyday struggles of front line providers On the street in staff room debates or in private confessions these psychiatrists and social workers confront ongoing challenges to their self image as competent and compassionate advocates At times they openly question the coercion and forced dependency built into the current system of care At other times they justify their use of extreme power in the face of loud opposition from clients This in depth study exposes the fault lines in today s community psychiatry It shows how people working deep inside the system struggle to maintain their ideals and manage a chronic sense of futility Their commentaries about the obligatory and the forbidden also suggest ways to bridge formal bioethics and the realities of mental health practice The experiences of these clinicians pose a single overarching question how should we bear responsibility for the most vulnerable among us      The Handbook of Mental Health and Space Laura McGrath, Paula Reavey, 2018-09-19 The Handbook of Mental Health and Space brings together the psychosocial work on experiences of space and mental distress making explicit the links between theoretical work and clinical and community practice The change from an institutional to community care model of mental health services can be seen as a fundamental spatial change in the lives of service users and the book aims to stimulate discussion about mental healthcare spaces and their design With contributions from those involved in theorizing space those drawing on their own experiences of distress and space as well as practitioners working on the ground the book will be of interest to mental health practitioners and academics

Naleppa, Kristina Michelle Hash, Anissa Rogers, 2022 Photography in Social Work and Social Change provides a comprehensive overview of photography in social work practice and research It features original applied content state of the art case examples and user friendly resources This book introduces readers to the theory methods ethics technical aspects and cultural considerations of photographic practice and research      Handbook of the Sociology of Mental Health Carol S. Aneshensel, Jo C. Phelan, Alex Bierman, 2012-07-16 This second edition of the Handbook of the Sociology of Mental Health features theory driven reviews of recent research with a comprehensive approach to the investigation of the ways in which society shapes the mental health of its members and the lives of those who have been diagnosed as having a mental illness The award winning Handbook is distinctive in its focus on how the organization and functioning of society influences the occurrence of mental disorder and its consequences A core issue that runs throughout the text concerns the differential distribution of mental illness across various social strata defined by status characteristics such as gender race ethnicity socioeconomic status and age The contributions to this volume shed light on the social cultural and economic factors that explain why some social groups have an elevated risk of disorder They also address the social repercussions of mental disorder for individuals including stigmatization within the larger society and for their families and social networks The second edition of this seminal volume includes substantial updates to previous chapters as well as seven new chapters on The Individual's Experience of Mental Illness The Medicalization of Mental Illness Age Aging and Mental Health Religion and Mental Health Neighborhoods and Mental Health Mental Health and the Law and Public Beliefs about Mental Illness      Therapeutic Communities for Psychosis John Gale,Alba Realpe,Enrico

Pedriali,2013-12-16 Therapeutic Communities for Psychosis offers a uniquely global insight into the renewed interest in the use of therapeutic communities for the treatment of psychosis as complementary to pharmacological treatment Within this edited volume contributors from around the world look at the range of treatment programmes on offer in therapeutic communities for those suffering from psychosis Divided into three parts the book covers the historical and philosophical background of therapeutic communities and the treatment of psychosis in this context treatment settings and clinical models alternative therapies and extended applications This book will be essential reading for all mental health professionals targeting readers from a number of disciplines including psychiatry psychology social work psychotherapy and group analysis      Talking Back to Psychiatry Linda J. Morrison,2013-09-13 Linda Morrison brings the voices and issues of a little known complex social movement to the attention of sociologists mental health professionals and the general public The members of this social movement work to gain voice for their own experience to raise consciousness of injustice and inequality to expose the darker side of psychiatry and to promote alternatives for people in emotional distress Talking Back to Psychiatry explores the movement's history its complex membership its strategies and goals and the varied response it has received from psychiatry policy makers and the public at large      The Fourth Trimester Susan Brink,2013-03-20 The first three months of a baby's life is an outside the uterus period of intense development a biological bridge from fetal life to preparation for the real world The fourth trimester has more in common with the nine months that came before than with the lifetime that follows This comprehensive intimate and much needed operating manual for newborns presents a new paradigm of a baby's early life that shifts our focus and alters our priorities Combining the latest scientific findings with real life stories and experiences Susan Brink examines critical dimensions of newborn development such as eating and nutrition bonding and attachment sleep patterns sensory development pain and pleasure and the creation of foundations for future advancement Brink offers well informed practical information and the reasons behind her advice so that parents and caretakers can make their own decisions about how to care for a newborn during this crucial period The Fourth Trimester assures readers that infants are as biologically capable as they are physically helpless They thrive on what is readily available in every household consistent loving attention
