Making Monsters: A Speculative and Classical Anthology Djibril al-Ayad, Emma Bridges, 2018-06-04 We have always made monsters in art in myth in religion out of clay or bronze pixels or hybrid flesh from the stuff of human nightmares by cursing women with bestial traits This anthology brings together fiction and accessible academic writing in conversation about monsters and their roles in our lives and ours in theirs Making Monsters David Livingstone Smith, 2021-10-12 A leading scholar explores what it means to dehumanize others and how and why we do it I wouldn't have accepted that they were human beings You would see an infant who's just learning to smile and it smiles at you but you still kill it So a Hutu man explained to an incredulous researcher when asked to recall how he felt slaughtering Tutsis in Rwanda in 1994 Such statements are shocking yet we recognize them we hear their echoes in accounts of genocides massacres and pogroms throughout history How do some people come to believe that their enemies are monsters and therefore easy to kill In Making Monsters David Livingstone Smith offers a poignant meditation on the philosophical and psychological roots of dehumanization Drawing on harrowing accounts of lynchings Smith establishes what dehumanization is and what it isn't When we dehumanize our enemy we hold two incongruous beliefs at the same time we believe our enemy is at once subhuman and fully human To call someone a monster then is not merely a resort to metaphor dehumanization really does happen in our minds Turning to an abundance of historical examples Smith explores the relationship between dehumanization and racism the psychology of hierarchy what it means to regard others as human beings and why dehumanizing others transforms them into something so terrifying that they must be destroyed Meticulous but highly readable Making Monsters suggests that the process of dehumanization is deeply seated in our psychology It is precisely because we are all human that we are vulnerable to the manipulations of those trading in the politics of demonization and violence Me Make Monster Jenny Harada, 2010-08-10 They hide in your closet They lurk under the bed They tickle your feet and devour your pillows They're monsters only a mother could love In Me Make Monster Jenny Harada presents a hoard of funky monster projects so ugly they're cute Bring to life your own fantastic brood as you follow step by step instructions to create a true mish-mash of monsterdom everything from plush huggable beasties and a furry pillow cover to a fanged fiendish trinket box and google-eyed dice Whatever kind of monster may tickle your fancy or your feet you'll find one of his breed to spawn and love Discover within the pages Step by step instructions to make 18 fantastic creatures Monsters made from all different types of material from fun fur to plywood to junk mail Variation beasties for even more impish inspiration A history of monsters and information on each monster's fanciful personality So get out your glue dust off the sewing machine hide your valuables and channel your inner Frankenstein The Making of a Monster Gail Petersen, 2014-04-01 Her move to Los Angeles was supposed to restart her life But with one quick bite it is her death that has been begun A chance meeting with a mysterious stranger has transformed this conventional wife into a creature that prowls the dark streets desperate to quench her need for blood Impervious to the night she joins a rock and roll band and searches among those lost souls for companionship always feeling like she does not belong Caught between loathing her new self and losing touch with whom she once was Kate is a soul torn between loathing and longing Facing a bloody struggle Kate at last embraces her vampire nature and only then does the mystery of immortality explode Monsters and Make Believe Pasquale De

Hosting the Monster Holly Lynn Baumgartner, Roger Davis, 2008 Hosting the Monster responds to the call of the monstrous with not rejection but invitation. Posing the monster as that which defies classification, the essays in this collection are an ongoing engagement with that which lies outside of established boundaries. With chapters ranging from the monstrous mother or the deformed child to subjectivity in transition, this volume is not only of interest to film and gender scholars and literary and cultural theorists but also students of popular culture or horror. Its wide appeal stems from its invitation both to entertain the monster and to widen the call to and the listening for the monsters that have not yet and perhaps must not yet come calling back. This sense of hospitality and non-hostility is one guiding principle of this collection, suggesting that the ability to survey and research the otherwise may reveal more about the subjectivity of the self through the wisdom of the other. However monstrous the manifestation, Holly Lynn Baumgartner is an associate professor of Humanities and English at Mercy College of Northwest Ohio. Her articles have appeared in Reflections, Rhizomes, American Book Review and other journals. Roger Davis is an instructor of English at MacEwan College in Edmonton, Canada. He is co-author of Essay Writing for Canadian Students and his literary interests include poetry, poetics, and popular culture.
