The Net Delusion Evgeny Morozov, 2011 Publisher's description The revolution will be Twittered declared journalist Andrew Sullivan after protests erupted in Iran Yet for all the talk about the liberalizing force of the internet regimes in Iran and China are as stable and repressive as ever In fact authoritarian regimes are effectively using the internet to suppress free speech and democracy What's more the latest research shows that greater access to information pacifies a population as much as it incites it to revolution If we in the West are to promote liberal ideals we'll have to do more than fund Facebook In this book blogger and social commentator Evgeny Morozov tackles these issues with relentless energy and analytical savvy Marshalling a compelling set of case studies he shows why we must stop thinking of the internet and social media as instant cures for repression and how in some cases they can even threaten democracy

Modernism on the Nile Alex Dika Seggerman, 2019-08-13 Analyzing the modernist art movement that arose in Cairo and Alexandria from the late nineteenth century through the 1960s Alex Dika Seggerman reveals how the visual arts were part of a multifaceted transnational modernism While the work of diverse major Egyptian artists during this era may have appeared to be secular she argues it reflected the subtle but essential inflection of Islam as a faith history and lived experience in the overarching development of Middle Eastern modernity Challenging typical views of modernism in art history as solely Euro American and expanding the conventional periodization of Islamic art history Seggerman theorizes a constellational modernism for the emerging field of global modernism Rather than seeing modernism in a generalized hyperconnected network she finds that art and artists circulated in distinct constellations that encompassed finite local and transnational relations Such constellations which could engage visual systems both along and beyond the Nile from Los Angeles to Delhi were materialized in visual culture that ranged from oil paintings and sculpture to photography and prints Based on extensive research in Egypt Europe and the United States this richly illustrated book poses a compelling argument for the importance of Muslim networks to global modernism
