Cape Town Harmonies Armelle

Gaulier, Denis-Constant Martin, 2017-07-19 Cape Town's public cultures can only be fully appreciated through recognition of its deep and diverse soundscape. We have to listen to what has made and makes a city. The ear is an integral part of the research tools one needs to get a sense of any city. We have to listen to the sounds that made and make the expansive mother city. Various of its constituent parts sound different from each other. There is the sound of the singing men and their choirs. Teams they are called in preparation for the longstanding annual Malay choral competitions. The lyrics from the various repertoires they perform are hardly ever written down. There are texts of the hallowed Dutch songs but these do not circulate easily and widely. Researchers dream of finding lyrics from decades ago not to mention a few generations ago back to the early 19th century. This work by Denis Constant Martin and Armelle Gaulier provides us with a very useful selection of these songs. More than that it is a critical sociological reflection of the place of these songs and their performers in the context that have given rise to them and sustains their relevance. It is a necessary work and is a very important scholarly intervention about a rather neglected aspect of the history and present production of music in the city. Applying Linguistics in Health Research, Education, and Policy Brett A. Diaz, Robert W. Schrauf, 2022-11-07 Researchers in applied linguistics have found medical and health contexts to be fertile grounds for study from macro levels of conceptual analyses to micro levels of the turn by turn. The rich array of health contexts include medical research itself, clinical encounters, medical education and training, caregivers and patients in everyday life from the formal and ritualized to the ad hoc and ephemeral. This volume foregrounds the crucial role of applied linguists addressing real world problems while simultaneously highlighting the varied ways that health can be understood as a rich site of language inquiry in its own right. Chapters cover a range of health topics including medical training, medical interaction, disability in education, health policy analysis and recommendations, multidisciplinary research teams and medical ethics. While reporting and reflecting on their specific topics in clinical and health contexts, contributors also articulate their own hybrid identities as professional collaborators in health research, education and policy. Spiritualizing the City Victoria Hegner, Peter Jan Margry, 2016-11-25

Urban spaces have always functioned as cradles and laboratories for religious movements and spiritualities. The urban forms a central and nourishing agent for the creation of new religious expressions and continually negotiates new ways of being spiritual and establishing spiritual ideas and practices. This book explores the intense and complex interplay between the post modern city and new religious and spiritual movement, bringing the city and its annexes into the foreground of current research into religion. It develops a new ethnography based analysis of the ways in which the pluralist experience of the urban inscribes itself into various religious practices and vice versa how do religiosity and spirituality appropriate and transform meanings of the urban. It focuses on new religious expressions, cosmologies and ways of life that go beyond established belief systems and religious understandings and explores new conceptions of the word urban in a world of increasingly extended urban environments. The book examines how cities are both considered as sites and sources of spirituality where the globalization of religions takes place as well as the fact that globalization is linked closely to the process of localization The socio cultural and political uniqueness of the specific urban context are analyzed to present an innovative perspective on how the interplay between the urban spiritual and religious should be understood This book brings a timely new perspective and will be of interest to academics and students in geography sociology urban studies cultural studies and anthropology as well as for urban planners and policy makers
