Making Our Place Peggy Fairbairn-Dunlop, Gabrielle Sisifo Makisi, 2003 Stories from New Zealand born Pacific Island people who speak of their experiences growing up in this country their personal journeys changes they have seen their pride in their Pacific Island ethnicity and the struggles they had to form their bi cultural identity Ideal reading for all New Zealanders especially those who value a strong and harmonious multicultural society Foreword New Zealand Identities James H. Liu, 2006-04-01 Fifteen writers with diverse personal and scholarly backgrounds come together in this collection to examine issues of identity viewing it as both a departing point and end destination for the various peoples who have come to call New Zealand home The essays reflect the diversity of thinking about identity across the social sciences as well as common themes that transcend disciplinary boundaries Their explorations of the process of identity making underscore the historical roots dynamism and plurality of ideas of national identity in New Zealand offering a view not only of what has been but also what might be on the horizon Belonging in Oceania Elfriede Hermann, Wolfgang Kempf, Toon van Meijl, 2014-09-01 Ethnographic case studies explore what it means to belong in Oceania as contributors consider ongoing formations of place self and community in connection with travelling internal and international migration The chapters apply the multi dimensional concepts of movement place making and cultural identifications to explain contemporary life in Oceanic societies The volume closes by suggesting that constructions of multiple belongings and with these the relevant forms of mobility place making and identifications are being recontextualized and modified by emerging discourses of climate change and sea level rise The Pacific Festivals of Aotearoa New Zealand Jared Mackley-Crump, 2015-04-30 With a history now stretching back four decades Pacific festivals of Aotearoa assert a multicultural identity of New Zealand and situate the country squarely within a sea of islands In this volume Jared Mackley Crump gives a provocative look at the changing demographics and cultural landscape of a place frequently viewed through a bicultural lens P keh and M ori Taking the post World War II migrations of Pacific peoples to New Zealand as its starting point the story begins in 1972 with the inaugural Polynesian Festival an event that was primarily designed as a M ori festival now known as Te Matatini the largest M ori performing arts event in the world Two major moments of festivalization are considered the birth of Polyfest in 1976 and the inaugural Pasifika Festival of 1993 Both began in Auckland the home of the largest Pacific communities in New Zealand and both have spawned a series of events that follow the models they successfully established While Polyfests focus primarily on the transmission of performance traditions from culture bearers to the young largely New Zealand born generations Pasifika festivals are highly public community events in which diverse displays of material culture are offered up for consumption by both cultural tourists and Pacific communities alike Both models have experienced a significant period of growth since 1993 and here the author presents a thought provoking and wide ranging analysis to explain the phenomenon that has been called a Pacific renaissance Written from an ethnomusicological perspective The Pacific Festivals of Aotearoa New Zealand incorporates lively first person observations as well as interviews with festival organizers performers and other important historical figures The second half of the book delves into the festival space uncovering new meanings about the function and role of music performance and public festivity The author skillfully challenges accounts that label festivals as inauthentic recreations of culture for tourist audiences and gives both observers and participants an uplifting new approach to understand these events as meaningful and symbolic extensions of the ways diasporic Pacific communities operate in New Zealand

Making Music at the Bottom of the World in Southland, Aotearoa/New Zealand Sally

Jenny Carlyon, Diana Morrow, 2014-02-01 From the golden weather of postwar economic growth through the globalization economic challenges and protest of the 1960s and 1970s to the free market revolution and new immigrants of the 1980s and 1990s and beyond this account the most complete and comprehensive history of New Zealand since 1945 illustrates the chronological and social history of the country with the engaging stories of real individuals and their experiences Leading historians Jennifer Carlyon and Diana Morrow discuss in great depth New Zealand's move toward nuclear free status its embrace of a small state free market ideology and the seeming rejection of its citizens of a society known for the worship of averages Stories of pirate radio in Auckland's Hauraki Gulf the first DC8 jets landing at Mangere airport feminists liberating pubs public protests over the closing of post offices and indigenous language nests vividly demonstrate how a postwar society famous around the world for its dull conformity became one of the most ethnically economically and socially diverse countries on earth Creating a Nation with Cloth Ping-Ann Addo, 2013-06-01 Tongan women living outside of their island homeland create and use hand made sometimes hybridized textiles to maintain and rework their cultural traditions in diaspora Central to these traditions is an ancient concept of homeland or nation fonua which Tongans retain as an anchor for modern nation building Utilizing the concept of the multi territorial nation the author questions the notion that living in diaspora is mutually exclusive with authentic cultural production and identity The globalized nation the women build through gifting their barkcloth and fine mats challenges the normative idea that nations are always geographically bounded or spatially contiguous The work suggests that contrary to prevalent understandings of globalization global resource flows do not always primarily involve commodities Focusing on first generation Tongans in New Zealand and the relationships they forge across generations and throughout the diaspora the book examines how these communities centralize the diaspora by innovating and adapting traditional cultural forms in unprecedented ways Pacific-Indigenous Psychology Siautu

Alefaio-Tugia, 2022-12-02 This book provides an overview of Pacific Indigenous knowledge as insights of Oceanic citizen science to inform culturally safe practice for psychology It profiles contemporary Pacific needs in areas of crisis such as family violence education disparities and health inequities and points to ancient Pacific indigenous knowledges as tools of healing for global diasporic communities in need The historical evolution of psychology's knowledge base and practice illustrates a fundamental crisis in the method of producing knowledge for psychology the absence of Pacific indigenous cultural knowledge It suggests more effective research methodologies grounded in Pacific Indigenous epistemologies and ontologies for psychology and overall community capability It fosters practice perspectives and strategies based on NIU psychology New Indigenous Understandings for innovative solutions to modern day crises of humanity Return

Migration of the Next Generations Dennis Conway,2016-12-05 There is renewed interest in return migration among researchers of global movement patterns Until recently it was overlooked regarded as the result of failure by emigrants or related to the return of retired elderly migrants This important study looks at the one and a half and second generation migrants the youthful contract workers and the prolonged sojourners and the consequences of their return to source communities Christchurch Ruptures Katie Pickles,2016-03-15 The devastating earthquake that hit Christchurch in 2011 did more than rupture the surface of the city argues historian Katie Pickles It created a definitive endpoint to a history shaped by omission by mythmaking and by ideological storytelling In this multi layered BWB Text Pickles uncovers what was lost that February day drawing out the different threads of Christchurch s colonial history and demonstrating why we should not attempt to knit them back together This is an incisive analysis of the way a city s character is interlinked with its geo spatial appearance when the latter changes so too must the former Transgressing Race Jione Havea, Y. T. Vinayaraj, 2023-08-22 Transgressing is an appropriate response to race as a crime against humanity No one chooses their race at birth yet many suffer because of their race And while many people choose to change citizenship their accents and faces can give them away as outsiders Racism thrives on the categorization of people according to their race Like the Black and White dichotomy other racial and ethnic discriminations such as casteism antisemitism Zionism xenophobia and Islamophobia undergird and promote segregation all around the world Dismantling racism requires challenging racialized oppressions and segregations in sacred texts and contexts in beloved traditions and hallowed theologies This book offers such biblical and theological discourses in order to transgress the discriminative segregations of racism in connection with other forms of exploitative systems or shitstems The book engages with racialized biblical texts and religious theologies with acts of racial discrimination in connection with slavery and colonialism with agonies of people in diaspora struggles of postcolonial minoritized people courage of indigenous people to subvert and with the race insensitive practices of theological and religious education The contributors are located in Africa Asia North America Europe and Oceania

No Family Is an Island Ilana Gershon, 2012-05-08 Government bureaucracies across the globe have become increasingly attuned in recent years to cultural diversity within their populations Using culture as a category to process people and dispense services however can create its own problems and unintended consequences In No Family Is an Island a comparative ethnography of Samoan migrants living in the United States and New Zealand Ilana Gershon investigates how and when the categories cultural and acultural become relevant for Samoans as they encounter cultural differences in churches ritual exchanges welfare offices and community based organizations In both New Zealand and the United States Samoan migrants are minor minorities in an ethnic constellation dominated by other minority groups As a result they often find themselves in contexts where the challenge is not to establish the terms of the debate but to rewrite them To navigate complicated and often unyielding bureaucracies they must become skilled in what Gershon calls reflexive engagement with the multiple social orders they inhabit Those who are successful are able to parlay their own cultural expertise their Samoanness into an ability to subtly alter the institutions with which they interact in their everyday lives Just as the cultural is sometimes constrained by the forces exerted by acultural institutions so too can migrant culture reshape the bureaucracies of their new countries Theoretically sophisticated yet highly readable No Family Is an Island contributes significantly to our understanding of the modern immigrant experience of making homes abroad

Archipelagic American Studies Brian Russell Roberts, Michelle Ann Stephens, 2017-05-18 Departing from conventional narratives of the United States and the Americas as fundamentally continental spaces the contributors to Archipelagic American Studies theorize America as constituted by and accountable to an assemblage of interconnected islands archipelagoes shorelines continents seas and oceans They trace these planet spanning archipelagic connections in essays on topics ranging from Indigenous sovereignty to the work of douard Glissant from Philippine call centers to US militarization in the Caribbean and from the great Pacific garbage patch to enduring overlaps between US imperialism and a colonial Mexican archipelago Shaking loose the straitjacket of continental exceptionalism that hinders and permeates Americanist scholarship Archipelagic American Studies asserts a more relevant and dynamic approach for thinking about the geographic cultural and political claims of the United States within broader notions of America Contributors Birte Blascheck J Michael Dash Paul Giles Susan Gillman Matthew Pratt Guterl Hsinya Huang Allan Punzalan Isaac Joseph Keith Yolanda Mart nez San Miguel Brandy N lani McDougall Ifeoma Kiddoe Nwankwo Craig Santos Perez Brian Russell Roberts John Carlos Rowe Cherene Sherrard Johnson Ram n E Soto Crespo Michelle Ann Stephens Elaine Stratford Etsuko Taketani Alice Te Punga Somerville Teresia Teaiwa Lanny Thompson Nicole A Waligora Davis The Ashgate Research Companion to Regionalisms J.
