An Ethnographic Inventory Tomás Sánchez Criado, Adolfo Estalella, 2023-05-09 This book provides an inventory of modes of inquiry for ethnographic research and presents fieldwork as an act of relational invention. It advances contemporary debates in ethnography by arguing that the empirical practice of anthropology is and has always been an inventive activity. Bringing together contributions from scholars across the world, the volume offers an expansive vision of the resourcefulness that anthropologists unfold in their empirical investigations by compiling inventive social and material techniques or field devices for anthropological inquiry. The chapters seek to inspire both novel and experienced practitioners of ethnography to venture into the many possibilities of fieldwork to demonstrate the essential creative and inventive practices neglected in traditional accounts of ethnography and to invite anthropologists to confidently engage in inventive fieldwork practices.

She lay on the operating table enduring the pain of losing a child with her red eyes. Looking at the distant cold man, her heart gradually became cold and resolute. Lu Yanzhi: if there's still a next life, I just hope that I don't run into you. Her life was short. She met him, fell in love with him, and married him. His life, however, was very long. Without her, the years would be very long. Prioritizing People in Ethical Decision-Making and Caring for Cultural Heritage Collections Nina Owczarek, 2023-06-27 While historically focusing on the object, the study of ethics in conservation has expanded to consider the human aspect of conservation work. This book offers a flexible framework to guide decision making in line with this development, offering an inclusive, compassionate approach to collections care. This edited volume contributes theories and international examples for advancing conservation practice and providing best practice for the field that centers people in conservation of cultural heritage and collections care. The first part examines the ethical theory that underpins conservation decision making by challenging outdated norms, introducing updated methods, and demonstrating new ways to approach compassionate collections care. The second part considers the challenges of human-centered ethics in conservation practice, while the final part provides real-world examples and case studies of these best practices in action, including successful challenges to colonial authority. By presenting both theoretical and practical aspects of prioritizing people, this volume establishes the need for rethinking conservation approaches while demonstrating how to do so effectively. Combining theory and practice, Prioritizing People in Ethical Decision Making and Caring for Cultural Heritage Collections is valuable reading for conservation professionals, including collections managers, conservators, curators, and registrars. It will also benefit students working in Cultural Heritage Conservation, Museum studies, and Heritage Studies, as well as those taking courses in Art History and Anthropology. Congressional Record United States.
