Constructing Empire Bill Sewell, 2019-02-15 Civilians play crucial roles in building empires Constructing Empire shows how Japanese urban planners architects and other civilians contributed often enthusiastically to constructing a modern colonial enclave in northeast China their visions shifting over time Japanese imperialism in Manchuria before 1932 developed in a manner similar to that of other imperialists elsewhere in China but the Japanese thereafter sought to surpass their rivals by transforming the city of Changchun into a grand capital for the puppet state of Manchukuo putting it on the cutting edge of Japanese propaganda Providing a thematic assessment of the evolving nature of planning architecture economy and society in Changchun Bill Sewell examines the key organizations involved in developing Japan's empire there as part of larger efforts to assert its place in the world order This engaging book sheds light on evolving attitudes toward empire and perceptions of national identity among Japanese in Manchuria in the first half of the twentieth century Imaginary

Athens Jin-Sung Chun, 2020-11-25 This book comprehensively examines architecture urban planning and civic perception in three modern cities as they transform into national capitals through an entangled transnational process that involves an imaginative geography based on embellished memories of classical Athens Schinkel's classicist architecture in Berlin especially the principle of tectonics at its core came to be adopted effectively at faraway cities in East Asia merging with the notion of national polity as Imperial Japan sought to reinvent Tokyo and mutating into an inevitable reflection of modern civilization upon reaching colonial Seoul all of which give reason to ruminate over the phantasmagoria of modernity

Materials and Meaning in Contemporary Japanese Architecture Dana Buntrock, 2013-09-13 In this beautiful and perceptive book Dana Buntrock examines for the first time how tradition is incorporated into contemporary Japanese architecture Looking at the work of five architects Fumihiko Maki Terunobu Fujimori Ryoji Suzuki Kengo Kuma and Jun Aoki Buntrock reveals the aims influencing many wonderful works barely known in the West the sensual side of Japanese architecture borne out of approaches often less concerned with professionalism than with people and place The buildings described in this book illustrate an architecture that embraces uniqueness expressing unusual stories in the rough outlines of rammed earth and rust and demonstrating new paths opening up for architectural practice today For some these examples will offer new insight into expressions of tradition in Japanese architecture for others this book offers inspiration for their own efforts to assert the unique heritage of other regions around the world Compelling insightful and groundbreaking this book is essential for everyone studying Japanese architecture and anyone trying to invoke narrative and tradition in contemporary design An Introduction to Architectural Theory

Goodman, 2011-03-16 A sharp and lively text that covers issues in depth but not to the point that they become inaccessible to beginning students An Introduction to Architectural Theory is the first narrative history of this period charting the veritable revolution in architectural thinking that has taken place as well as the implications of this intellectual upheaval The first comprehensive and critical history of architectural theory over the last fifty years surveys the intellectual history of architecture since 1968 including criticisms of high modernism the rise of postmodern and poststructural theory critical regionalism and tectonics Offers a comprehensive overview of the significant changes that architectural thinking has undergone in the past fifteen years Includes an analysis of where architecture stands and where it will likely move in the coming years Kenzo Tange and the Metabolist Movement Zhongjie Lin,2023-08-31 Amid Japan's political turbulence in 1960 seven architects and designers founded Metabolism to propagate radical ideas of urbanism Kenzo Tange's Plan for Tokyo 1960 further celebrated urban expansion as organic processes and pushed city design to an unprecedented scale Metabolists' visionary schemes of the city gave birth to revolutionary design paradigms which reinvented the discourse of modern Japanese architecture and propelled it through the years of Economic Miracle to a global prominence Their utopian concepts which often envisaged the sea and the sky as human habitats of the future reflected fundamental issues of cultural transformation and addressed environmental crises of the postindustrial society This new edition expands Zhongjie Lin's pathbreaking account on Tange and Metabolism centered at the intersection of urbanism and utopianism The thorough historical survey from Metabolism's inauguration at the 1960 World Design Conference to the apex of the movement at Expo 70 and further to the recent demolition of Nakagin Capsule Tower leads to a definition of three Metabolist urban paradigms megastructure group form and ruins which continue to inspire experiments in architecture city design and conservation Kenzo Tange and the Metabolist Movement is a key book for architectural and urban historians architects and all those interested in avant garde design Japanese architecture and contemporary urbanism Routledge Handbook of Japanese Culture and Society Victoria Bestor, Theodore C. Bestor, Akiko Yamagata, 2011-04-13 This Handbook is an interdisciplinary resource that focuses on contemporary Japan and the social and cultural trends that are important at the beginning of the twenty first century

The Constructed Other: Japanese Architecture in the Western Mind Kevin Nute, 2021-09-30 The Constructed Other argues that the assumed otherness of Japanese architecture has made it both a testbed for Western architectural theories and a source of inspiration for Western designers The book traces three recurring themes in Western accounts of Japanese architecture from the reopening of Japan in the mid nineteenth century to the present day a wish to see Western architectural theories reflected in Japanese buildings efforts to integrate elements of Japanese architecture into Western buildings and a desire to connect contemporary Japanese architecture with Japanese tradition It is suggested that together these narratives have had the effect of creating what amounts to a mythical version of Japanese architecture often at odds with historical fact but which has exercised a powerful influence on the development of building design internationally

The Architecture of Landscape, 1940-1960 Marc Treib, 2002-10 The Architecture of Landscape 1940-1960 provides a groundbreaking collection of worldwide perspectives on a vital and underappreciated era of landscape architecture It is also the first critical assessment of this period with information and insight previously unavailable to English language readers
