Making Of The Modern Child:

The Making of the Modern Child Andrew O'Malley, 2004-06-01 This book explores how the concept of childhood in the late 18th century was constructed through the ideological work performed by children's literature as well as pedagogical writing and medical literature of the era Andrew O'Malley ties the evolution of the idea of the child to the growth of the middle class which used the figure of the child as a symbol in its various calls for social reform Making Modern Mothers Heather Paxson, 2004-02-12 In Greece women speak of mothering as within the nature of a woman But this durable association of motherhood with femininity exists in tension with the highest incidence of abortion and one of the lowest fertility rates in Europe In this setting how do women think of themselves as proper individuals mothers and Greek citizens In this anthropological study of reproductive politics and ethics in Athens Greece Heather Paxson tracks the effects of increasing consumerism and imported biomedical family planning methods showing how women's nature is being transformed to meet crosscutting claims of the contemporary world Locating profound ambivalence in people's ethical evaluations of gender and fertility control Paxson offers a far reaching analysis of conflicting assumptions about what it takes to be a good mother and a good woman in modern Greece where assertions of cultural tradition unfold against a backdrop of European Union integration economic struggle and national demographic anxiety over a falling birth rate Making Modern Girls Abosede A. George, 2014-11-15 In Making Modern Girls Abosede A. George examines the influence of African social reformers and the developmentalist colonial state on the practice and ideology of girlhood as well as its intersection with child labor in Lagos Nigeria It draws from gender studies generational studies labor history and urban history to shed new light on the complex workings of African cities from the turn of the twentieth century through the nationalist era of the 1950s The two major schemes at the center of this study were the modernization project of elite Lagosian women and the salvationist project of British social workers By approaching children and youth specifically girl hawkers as social actors and examining the ways in which local and colonial reformers worked upon young people the book offers a critical new perspective on the uses of African children for the production and legitimization of national and international social development initiatives Making Modern Girls demonstrates how oral sources can be used to uncover the social history of informal or undocumented urban workers and to track transformations in practices of childhood over the course of decades George revises conventional accounts of the history of development work in Africa by drawing close attention to the social welfare initiatives of late colonialism and by highlighting the roles that African women reformers played in promoting sociocultural changes within their own societies The Modern Child and the Flexible Labour Market A. Kjørholt, J. Qvortrup, 2011-10-28 This book sheds light on new research related to welfare state child care policies and small children's everyday lives in institutions in Europe In uniting recent social childhood research welfare perspectives and historical and comparative approaches the book explores institutionalization as a feature of the modern child's life The Basics of
